New Drive Caught Fascists Unaware, General Declares

By the Associated Press. CAIRO, Jan. 28 .- An Italian garrison has been driven from the important Fezzan Oasis in southwestern Libya by "Free French" forces from the Chad region in Equatorial Africa, Gen. Georges Catroux reported by radio tonight. This means a new drive against the Italians, in the interior of Libva in conjunction with the British offensives along the Mediterranean coast in northern Libya and in East Africa.

Italians Caught Unaware. Gen. Catroux, an aide of "Free French" Gen. Charles de Gaulle, said a French camel corps detachment made the sudden stab deep into the Libyan interior and caught the Italians unaware.

The detachment, he said, was as sembled in the Chad region, on the Libyan frontier with Equatorial Africa, early this month. Crossing the desert by night and hiding by day, he said, it reached Fezzan, 300 miles from its base, in mid-January and raided the regional capital. Marzouk, in a sudden. daring assault which caught its Fascist defenders by surprise. New Fighting Front.

Without Man Power

From U. S., He Says

He gave this view at a press conference a short time after Secretary Morgenthau, appearing before the Senate Foreign Relations Commitee, had said Britain, Greece and China "can't continue to fight" unless Congress enacts the bill.

Gen. Marshall, who had appeared before the House Foreign Affairs Committee earlier in the day, also told reporters that all indications were that Adolf Hitler would probably make an all-out attempt to invade England this spring.

Won't Elaborate Views. "Do you believe that Creat Britain with the aid of the United States could whip Germany?" Gen. Marshall was asked.

"Yes," the lean chief of staff replied.

"Do you think she could defeat Germany with all air except manpower?"

"I think so," Gen. Marshall replied. "That certainly is our hope." The general then was asked specifically whether he believed that Britain could defeat Germany with the aid contemplated under the bill. He replied "Yes," but declined to elaborate his views.

Gen. Marshall said indications were that Germany probably would launch an offensive against Britain in April or May and that any attempt at an invasion undoubtedly would begin with a tremendous aerial attack.

Roosevelt Defeats Washington-Lee

Roosevelt High defeated the Washington-Lee High basket ball team, 41-35, this afternoon at Roosevelt gym. The Rough Riders ran up a 28-15 lead in the opening half, but a late fourth-period rally by the Little Generals narrowed the victors' margin. Rod Gaumnitz of the victors took scoring honors with 12 points, and Charles Howard, Roosevelt center, was runnerup with 9.

Eastern Defeats St. John's, 31 to 14

Eastern High defeated St. John's High this afternoon, 31 to 14, in their basket ball game played in the Eastern gym. Neil Craig was high scorer for the winning team.

Coolidge Team Trails at Half

Bob Cremins scored 10 points in the first half to pace Bethesda-Chevy Chase High School to a 19-5 half-time lead over Calvin Coolidge in their basket ball game in the latter's gymnasium today. Calvin Coolidge scored first, but Bethesda-Chevy Chase then ran the count to 11 to 2 before the Coolidge team could score in the second quarter.

Trapped in Cinders Chute, Worker Dies During Rescue Effort

A 52-year-old colored laborer was trapped in the chute of a 75-foot cinder works tower at Seventh and T streets N.E. for more than an hour this morning and was dead when rescuers reached his body.

The man, Enoch Clegg, 406 L street N.W., went to the top of the tower about 10 a.m., fellow workers said, to feed cinders into the chute hopper Half an hour later Judge Littlejohn, foreman of the Hudson Supply & Equipment Co., saw Clegg's legs protruding from the bottom outlet of the chute. Fire Rescue Squad men and Emergency Hospital ambulance were summoned and at 11:45 a.m. released the body.

3 Moves Made To Curb Traffic Deaths Here

More Officers Sought; Schulte Calls Parley; Speed Cut Advocated

BACKGROUND-

District's alarming traffic death toll of 13 victims in 1941, a figure not reached until March 12 last year, has stirred action in civic and legislative circles for additional traffic policemen Commissioners and other District officials are working toward that end. Chairman Schulte of Traffic Subcommittee of House District Committee has begun investigation of city's traffic situation with view of possible congressional action to reduce causes of fatalities.

The safety crusade to curtail the rapidly mounting traffic death list in Washington advanced on three fronts today The developments:

Commissioners Young and Mc-Coach suggested use of the District's highway fund to finance employment of a considerable additional number of full-time traffic policemen.

Chairman Schulte of the Streets and Traffic Subcommittee of the House District Committee called a conference of municipal officials and heads of transit, taxicab and trucking companies for 10:30 a.m. Thursday in the District Committee room in the old House Office Building. Declaring speed was the greatest contributing factor in 10 of the 26 traffic deaths since December 1 of last year. Assistant Traffic Director M. O Eldridge today asked the support of the District Congress of Parents and Teachers in reducing the speed limit to motor vehicles at night to 20 miles an hour

Speaking at a meeting of representatives of local parent-teacher groups sponsored by the District Congress this morning at the National Education Association Building, Mr. Eldridge urged his listeners to seek their parent body's approval for the proposal

Road Fund's Use Urged.

Transfer of British possessions in the Western Hemisphere in exchange for American munitions was proposed today by Representative Maas, Republican, of Minnesota.

The French and British, Mr. Morgenthau said, had spent "hundreds of millions of dollars" in this country to create plants for the particular types they want.

Senator La Follette asked specifically whether the reason the British were holding up orders was that they lacked dollar exchange and could not purchase under present laws requiring cash payments. "That's right," Mr. Morgenthau replied.

Repeats British "Good Risk."

Senator Nye, Republican, of North Dakota inquired if the British were urging this form of aid legislation. Mr. Morgenthau replied they had simply made known to this Government the fact that they have used up all of their dollar assets on past orders.

Senator Nye asked the Secretary If he regarded Britain as a good loan

"Ves I do." came the answer "Even in the light of our 1917 experience?" the Senator pursued.

"I am not thinking in terms of being repaid in dollars, but in terms of Senator Pepper's question," the Secretary replied.

Senator Pepper, Democrat, of Florida a few minutes earlier had asked the Secretary if it would not be cheaper in the long run for the United States to help Great Britain survive than to face the cost of maintaining the large defense machinery this country would need for years to come if the axis powers

"From that standpoint, I think it is a very good risk," the Secretary of the Treasury added.

At the other end of the Capitol the House Foreign Affairs Committee tentatively closed its hearings on the bill with private testimony from chief of staff, and Gen. George H. Brett, acting Army Air Corps chief.

CEDAR RAPIDS. Lowa, Jan. 28-Verne Marshall, chairman of the No Foreign War Committee, was served today with a Federal subpoena directing him to appear next Thursday before a District of Columbia grand jury.

It is the second time in two weeks that the former Iowa editor, who said he was resting at his home here on advice of his physician, has been served.

In the previous instance Mr. Marshall was served with a subpoena which, he claimed, was signed by a clerk who no longer held office.

Today, when Deputy United States Marshal Joe Petrus brought the paper to him, Mr. Marshall demanded expenses for the round trip to Washington and Mr. Petrus gave him $83 in cash.

"Of course, I would not be subpoenaed before a Federal grand jury at Washington but for the fact 1 am chairman of the No Foreign War Committee * * *." Mr. Marshall said in a statement.

"The purpose of whoever directed issuance of that subpoena may be to embarrass, humiliate and, possibly, silence our committee and its chairman.

FOURTH RACE-VISIGOTH, WILLIAMSTOWN, TOWN BOY.

VISIGOTH has been threatening to come to life for a considerable time and he may awaken to win the 7-furlong fourth. He has the speed to dominate the running throughout. WIL-LIAMSTOWN is a consistent performer in these ranks and rates second best. TOWN BOY may scrape into the money picture.

FIFTH RACE - EQUISTONE, NO SIR, ROYAL MAN. EQUISTONE merely galloped to win his last race and the Equipoise sprinter impresses as a likely repeater. He may never leave the result in doubt, once he assumes command. NO SIR has been knocking at the door and qualifies as the dangerous rival. ROYAL MAN merits money consideration. SIXTH RACE-CLYDE TOL-SON, JOE SCHENCK, BIG PEBBLE.

Packard Needs Men, Machine Tools for 9,000 Plane Engines

16,400 Skilled Workers Required to Produce Rolls Royce Merlins

Mr. Edgerton, aviation editor of The Star, is making a tour of airplane engine manufacturing plants. This is the eighth in a series of articles.

By JOSEPH S. EDGERTON, Star Staff Cor

DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 28 .- Confronted with the biggest job in their history-that of producing 9,000 Rolls-Royce Merlin aircraft engines for the future warplanes of America and England-Packard Motor Co. heads are confident of meeting production schedules if they can get adequate supplies of two thingsmachine tools and personnel.

They have no illusions as to the difficulties ahead if they are to begin mass production of the British warplane engines by next July on schedule and to attain a scheduled maximum production rate of 809 engines ter.

3.000 Machines Necessary.

It will require no less than 3,000 different machines to build the Rolls-Royce engines. The smallest of them will weigh 1,000 pounds, the largest 60,000 pounds, and the cost per machine ranges from $600 to $125,000. The total cost of these machines will be $18,000,000 and contracts for all of them were placed as early as last September. Some of them now are being delivered. but, if the program is to go forward on schedule, an overburdened machine-tool industry must deliver all of them before next summer.

Packard, in all its years of existence, has built up a total factory personnel of 10.000 men. The Rolls-Royce engine program alone will require the services of 17,000 men-a far larger offspring than its present company. Today there are 600 men at work on the Rolls-Royce project, leaving 16,400 skilled workers to be found within a few months.

Something of the immensity of this problem may be realized when their dimes on the line. it is pointed out that there now exists a need for 80,000 new employes for defense projects in the Detroit area. There is available housing for not more than 12,000 more in the entire area.

Halifax May Reveal British War Aims In Public Address

Objective at Present Is to Win Conflict, He Tells Reporters

BACKGROUND-

Viscount Halifax, British Foreign Secretary and member of the war cabinet since beginning of the war, was named Ambassador to the United States to suceeed the late Marguess of Lothian soon after Lord Lothian died last month. President Roosevelt shattered precedent by going to Annapolis to meet Lord Halijax on his arrival last Friday.

By GARNETT D. HORNER.

Great Britain's war aims may be defined fully in a public address here soon by Viscount Halifax, new British Ambassador who is able to speak with authority, as a member of his country's policy-making war cabinet, he hinted at a press conference yesterday. Summarizing England's objectives as "to win the war" and then 'join with others" in a system of reconstruction that would prevent another war, he declined to go into detail because that would anticipate what "I may get an opportunity soon of saying in public.'

He said British military leaders would be "glad to see" Hitler attempt an invasion of England, refuted charges that democracy is dead in Great Britain, denied his country has any secret treaties for territorial redistribution after the war, and indicated that the most acute need for help from the United States is in the shipping field.

Says Planning Board Is Concerned Over Post-Defense Period

Charles W. Eliot, II, director of the National Planning Board, today called on the American Society of Landscape Arthitects to plan for the future in the "post-defense era."

Explaining to the society in its 12d annual meeting at the Washington Hotel that his own organization is vitally concerned in what is going to happen in the United States after the defense program is over, Mr. Eliot raised the question as to how the cities of the United States are to be rebuilt and how the whole appearance of the United States may be improved.

Stresses Conservation. He stressed the importance of conservation and development of national resources and urged the architects to devote their talents to a study of the future and a movement to make the whole American people see the importance of longrange planning. Mr. Eliot's appeal was somewhat a conference of city planners. He air force cannot do the job of deis a member of both professionstecture.

The conference will continue through tomorrow, when there will be a field trip of inspection, leaving the hotel for many points of interest. #### Message Hails Work of Christian Mission Meeting Here Next Week

President Roosevelt asserted in a letter to the forthcoming National Christian Mission today that "a real revival of religion is what this country most needs.'

The letter was made public by Dr. Raphael H. Miller, pastor of the National City Christian Church, and chairman of the Committee on Arrangements of the National Christian Mission, which is to be in Washington February 2 to 9. The full text of the Chief Execu-

"I welcome the news in your letter of January 21 that the National Christian Mission is coming to Washington for the week, February 2 to 9 next. I have read with deep interest the statement of purpose and trust the week's activities will be fruitful of a full harvest.

Need of Religion Emphasized. "I am glad to reiterate the statement which I have made many times before, that a real revival of religion is what this country most needs-that in such a revival we would find a solution to all of our problems, whether political, economic or social. "I like, therefore, the emphasis which your group places on the three alternatives which confront society; the collapse of civilization the acceptance of the new paganism or the revival of Christianity.

James M. Bennett Dies; Editor and Utility Aide

By the Associated Press. PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 28 .- James M. Bennett, 72, assistant to the president of the Philadelphia Electric Co., died last night.

Before he entered the public utility field he was a newspaperman, starting his career in his native Baltimore and coming to Philadelphia 37 years ago. He once was city editor of the Evening Public Ledger here. In 1914 he was appointed a member of the American Commission for the Relief of Belgium and spent two years there. A friend of the late Cardinal Mercier, he persuaded the Belgian prelate to write the story of his experiences during the war Mr. Bennett was a descendant of Richard Bennett, Colonial Governor of Virginia, and of Stephen Milburn, who settled at St. Marys City, Md., in 1634. He is survived by his widow, the former Susette Brome, of St. Marys City, and a daughter, Mrs. J. C. Montgomery of Detroit.

If you had lived all your life in a place where you were told the earth was flat, you'd know no differently. You'd say the world is flat.

But if you lived in a country where all the facts, all the ideas, all the opinions were brought to you in a handy everyday package, you'd be able to make up your mind about the shape of the earth or the worth of a law or the value of a certain kind of shirt.

And you do live in the latter kind of a country. You live in a democracy-a place where people, making up their own minds, can govern themselves, make a living for themselves and convert their money into bread and butter and permanent waves.

Where do they get this knowledge, this power to decide for themselves? Just where you are getting it now-from your newspaper.

Don't let anyone ever tell you you don't need news about people and laws and events. And don't let anyone tell you that you can get along without the advertising news you read.

Just watch a man or woman who reads the ads make a dollar do its full job. And watch the well-read man support the right kind of government. Watch him guard his freedom. Watch him increase his security and protect his liberty.

Isn't it strange how few people stop to realize that America's newspapers are the very key to America's freedom?

Lehman Proposes Cut In State Income Taxes By the Associated Press.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 28.—Gov. Herbert H. Lehman proposed to New York's Legislature last night elimination of an emergency 1 per cent personal income tax involving $21,000,000 annually

Recommending a $385,119,973 State budget for 1941-2, a reduction of $9.045.774 from the current fiscalyear figure, Gov. Lehman emphasized his suggestion for lifting the emergency levy, enacted in 1935, is based on the assumption "all other taxes will be continued for another year."

The reduction of appropriations lowest since the $298,000,000 budget of 1936-7, was accomplished, the Governor said, "in spite of" defense requirements which he estimated at $4.000.000.

Clarification Needed

In his address to the American Coalition, Senator Wheeler, opposing enactment of the lease-lend bill, presented a seemingly inconsistent argument which should be clarified if this important measure is to receive the intelligent consideration it deserves.

After asserting that we have transferred to other nations five-sixths of mania, which had held the territory all combat planes produced in the United States during 1940, the Montana Senator added: "We have transferred so many that the American air forces do not have a single completely modern plane equipped with fighting armor, self-sealing gas tanks and adequate firing power. We have traded fifty destroyers to England while our own naval strength that the American people were asked by the lease-lend bill to give the President, in effect, the power to wage undeclared war-not in defense of this Nation but in defense of foreign powers.

It might be pointed out in the first place that most if not virtually all of the planes which have been transferred to other countries lacked the modern equipment which Senator Wheeler specified, and that being greatly advantaged by the retention for their use of outmoded equipment. better planes as they come into pro- latter's Magyar minority. duction, planes embodying the technical improvements shown to be desirable by the fighting in Europe. This, certainly, is not all loss and no gain. The Senator's argument, however, seems to be faulty in a much more fundamental respect. On the one hand he contends that we have made a mistake in depleting our own stocks of planes and destroyers to aid England because the result has been that we have weakened our own defenses against potential enemies-namely, the axis powers. And on the other, he argues that the President should achievement was a treaty concluded not have the power to give further aid to England because he would use this authority to defend foreign countries rather than in the defense of the United States. In other words, Senator Wheeler's case boils down to an implied acknowledgment that we shall have to fight the axis powers if we have to fight at all, coupled with the contention that we are not contributing to our own defense by helping the British with material supplies in their fight against these same axis powers in Europe. Such an argument obviously is faulty, and serves to confuse rather than clarify the most important issue before the country today.

shal is sincere in his stated intention -gives the new French council a their leadership in the Far East and more useful aspect than either the our alleged domination of the West-German Reichstag or the Italian ern Hemisphere under the Monroe Chamber of Fasces and Guilds. The Vichy assembly appears destined to have a genuinely consultative character and to play a role of some importance in | East Pacific as its first line of dethe determination of France's future. | fense, just so long will friendly relations remain an idle dream."

Axis Loses a Friend

In the passing of Count Stephen Csaky, Hungarian Foreign Minister, the axis loses a useful friend at a critical moment in the unfolding of its plans for reconstructing the map of Europe. Long before the war began, Count Csaky was among the earliest of statesmen in his corner of the continent to conclude that Central Europe was destined to fall under the mastery of Germany and Italy. He proceeded to model Hungarian foreign policy on corresponding lines, and, rooted as it was in certain acquisitive purposes, he gave it a strong axis orientation.

Count Csaky lived to see his liaison with Berlin and Rome achieve tangible results for Hungary. In August, 1940, it produced, at Hitler-Mussolini dictation, the long-coveted restoration of half of Transvlvania by Rusince the World War. The transfer was seemingly one of the series of devious deals which were destined to partition Rumania, whereby Soviet Russia acquired Bessarabia and the Bucovina, and Bulgaria was assigned Dobrudja on the Black Sea.

Ardent relations between Count | bureau to relieve the bench of minor Csaky and the axis powers set in soon after Czecho-Slovakia's fate was lags behind the axis." And then to sealed. In March, 1939, Hungarian this charge he joined the contention and Rumanian armies faced each the major ones, including those reother in Carpatho-Ukraine. Hostilities were averted, reputedly at German behest, and Count Csaky, in token of respect for Nazi might and in return for assurances of German non-aggression, signed the anti-Comintern pact, although simultaneously Premier Teleki decreed dissolution of the Hungarian Nazi movement. Not long afterward, the Germans having conquered Poland, Count Csaky pleaded with Italy to the case it is not easy to understand dissuade Hitler from any designs on period. Continuation of educational why our air forces would have been the Magyar land. The significance of these challenging statements is enhanced by the personality of the speaker. Yosuke Matsuoka is no ignorant chauvinist. He knows well both Europe and America. In fact, he is a graduate of the University of Oregon, speaks perfect English, and has "American ways." With wide experience in business and finance as well past few years by as in diplomacy, he is one of Japan's most seasoned leaders. That such a man should take so uncompromising an attitude is a most disquieting sign.

Safety Conscious

Demand by the new chairman of the Streets and Traffic Subcommittee of the House District Committee for an additional fifty policemen to be permanently assigned to traffic work coincides with recommendations made within the past week by various groups whose interests are devoted to greater safety. Other suggestions of these representative organizations include appointment of civilian observers with limited powers, stricter inspection methods, elimination of would be unusable. all ticket "fixing," and a one-judge traffic court assisted by a violations cases. Some of these recommendations will meet with opposition, although lating to additional policemen and a reorganized court plan are generally | mately $4,000,000. Fr favored. Need for further discussion is obvious and it is encouraging to see a continued effort by Washingtonians to achieve safety on the streets. So far as appropriations allow, almost everything has been done by engineers to protect life. And certainly no community has carried on a more widespread educational campaign over so long a efforts is necessary, but seemingly no great advances can be looked for from this source alone.

With a limited force in a rapidly own forces will get possession of Slovakia to end maltreatment of the growing population, police officials have made some progress in combating accidents. But there are problems outside the field of enforcement. There are weaknesses, for example, in the issuance of drivers' permits. Stricter standards, both physical and mental, in examining potential drivers, coupled with careful but greater use of suspension and revocation powers, are needed. The congested situation in Traffic Court is a serious problem. However, immediate improvement could be realized by agreement among the present judges on more standardized penalties and limitation of modifications in extenuating circumstances, with a view to assuring justice to the innocent and certain punishment for the guilty. Representative Schulte's uncertainty as to the source of funds to provide fifty more policemen can best be answered by Congress when it considers the Federal Government's share in the upkeep of the National Capital in the light of greater activity of national origin and the increased burden additional Government personnel has placed upon municipal services in recent years.

Marshal Petain seems to have decided, however, that France soon must make decisions which call for more numerous consultants than now surround the venerable chief of state, and it also appears that he desires representatives of a fairly broad base of France's population to participate and share the responsibility of these decisions. It is in this capacity that the new national council will function. It is strictly consultative and will work only on questions referred to it by Marshal Petain, who remains dictator of unoccupied France. #### Matsuoka's Latest Threat Yosuke Matsuoka, Japanese Minister of Foreign Affairs, has challenged our Far Eastern policy and warned us of its consequences more than once since he became head of the Foreign Office last summer. But never has his language been both so threatening and so explicit as it has been these last few days. If prepare for trouble with Japan in the near future.

Last Saturday evening the Foreign Minister affirmed in the strongest Representatives the official thesis that Japan cannot allow mediation or intervention by any outside nation in disputes between Asiatic countries. Declaring that "Japan should have the sole right to offer mediation," Mr. Matsuoka said that this belief had been "vindicated" by acceptance of Japan's offer to mediate hostilities between Thailand and French Indo-China despite the efforts of "certain countries" to outwit Japan and reduce her influence in the matter. "Our country," he declared roundly, "has the right of leadership in Greater East Asia. whether others recognize it or not That is our policy, and it is made clear in the three-power alliance (with Germany and Italy). Mr. Matsuoka went still further when Representative Kuboi demanded in open House that the Foreign Minister reply to recent statements Hull. Legislators these days have to be ingenious indeed to devise new sources of revenue. The brown derby with palms goes to a Utah member of the clan who actually proposed, in Salt Lake City, a tax on bees. Not native bees, but out-of-State ones. These migratory workers, he says, in effect, habitually trespass on the home honey ranges, bringing their large families along and removing a natural resource, nectar, from the State, which gets no benefit as the ultimate product, honey, belongs elsewhere. He might also have stated that owing to the peculiar social structure of bee families, consisting as each does of a queen, a few dozen drones or husbands, and thousands of working children, the fair State of Utah is actually menaced with polygamy. All in all, the proposed bill seems to be a honey; it has everything dear to the heart of the politician. It has a moral issue for a background, a possibility of tapping a new source of revenue, and best of all, a chance of creating scores of new jobs at public expense. The jobs range all the way from tax collectors with smoke pots to experts with microscopes and imaginations to enable them to tell Utah bees from foreigners. These employes doubtless will have mosquito veils to protect them from being stung; the taxpayer will have no such luck. It is reliably reported that if Mr.

Mussolini had been contemplating writing a companion book to "Mein Kampf" he has decided upon an indefinite postponement.

Another requirement was that the paper be almost absolutely airtight. The slightest pin prick would make a cigarette virtually unsmokable. French paper chemists worked for years to produce a paper which would meet these requirements.

Titanic flowers of fire on the face of the sun, with the dark areas of sunspots as their centers and long filaments of flaming hydrogen gas as their petals, are being studied by astronomers at the Mount Wilson Observatory of the Carnegie Institution of Washington. These great filaments, sometimes forming vortices or whirls, have long been known to color observers.

The normal surface of the chromosphere, or outer atmosphere of the sun, looks like the skin of an orange when viewed with the spectrohelioscope under the best possible observing conditions. It is finely granulated, like the orange. Near large sunspots, however, there is a marked change in the appearance. The atmospheric gasses are drawn out into long filaments, indicating the presence of extensive fields of force.

"Seen under the best conditions," says Dr. R. S. Richardson, "these filaments remind one of petals or tendrils growing out of sunspot penumbra and spreading over the hydrogen chromosphere. Occasionally they form a pattern similar to the arrangement of iron filings around a barmagnet, or to the lines of flow in a vortex.

These filaments, he warns, must not be confused with the great polar prominences, geysers of fire thousands of miles high, which shoot up from the sun's face. They are smaller and lighter, but sometimes it is difficult to distinguish between the two phenomena. Well-formed solar flares seldom are observed. The cause is still debatable. Sunspots are known to act like great magnets, and one theory has been that the filaments are arranged by magnetic forces like iron filings. If this were the case, however, the direction of the "petals" would always be in accord with the polarity of the magnet. Another theory, which seems more in accord with present evidence, is that they are whirlpools in the sun's high atmosphere, whose form depends on how the gasses are flowing into or out of the spot.

Forecasts Further Compromises Like Those With Japan and Russia. To the Editor of The Star:

President Roosevelt, in his message to Congress, said: "We are committed to the proposition that principles of morality and considerations of our own security will never permit us to acquiesce in a peace dictated by aggressors and sponsored by appeasers.'

Who committed us? Certainly we have not so committed ourselves. Now the President asks for powers to clinch this committment. Here is lack of realism in full measure. Mr Roosevelt already has compromised with the aggressors, Japan and Russia, and he would be forced (the American people would force him) to accept the decision Judah," whose claws were drawn of British appeasers should Britain suddenly make peace with Germany.

Defends Astrology, But Favors "Vigorous Laws." To the Editor of The Star:

More vigorous laws governing the practice of astrology are advocated by a group of learned astronomers, including prominent Harvard University scientists. This ought to meet with widespread approval. It doubtless will gain the support of competent astrologers-of whom there are only a handful in existence. But to argue that the science of astrology has no workable mechanism is as senseless as would be an attempt to argue that the sun has no effect on a growing plant or that ocean tides are not definite evidence of the gravity of the moon. The plain fact is that planetary movements definitely affect life in any form. There is evidence everywhere you may look. Yet the interpretation often may be faulty. Even the most competent astrologer may miss at times. Even astronomers may make mistakes-though seldom.

We think more vigorous laws are needed, but such laws never ought to be based upon prejudice. A man might begin the study of astrology in his youth and follow it till the day of his death, but he would always be learning something new about it. No one knows all the answers.

Astrology cannot predict what an individual will do in his life, but it definitely can warn him of unseen forces which are likely to make progress difficult or easy, as the case might be. In the case of a dictator, say, like Hitler, a whole continent might be affected by planetary movements. E. H. ALEXANDER.

Lease-Lend Bill Expected to Be Ready For President Soon After March 1

By GOULD LINCOLN.

Within a week the administration's lease-lend bill to aid the British and other democracies fighting the totalitarian governments will have been reported to the House, and within a second week, it will, in all probability, have been assed by that body. The Senate Foreign Rela-tions Committee yesterday began hearings on the bill. It was commonly agreed that the hearings will be concluded within a two-week period. That being the case, the Senate should be able to begin consideration of the measure soon after the House has disposed of it. Unless there is interminable debate in the Senate, the bill should reach the President by March 1, or soon thereafter.

This is not lightning speed, but at least it means substantial progress if such a program is carried out. Through the medium of the House hearings, the public already has been well informed regarding the proposed legislation and the reasons for it. That public sentiment strongly favors all possible aid to the British has been demonstrated in various polls of public opinion. That this sentiment has been bolstered, rather than lessened, by the testimony given seems equally clear.

The measure of strength which the bill will command when it comes it emerges from the Foreign Affairs Committee, and upon amendments Lee at Chancel-which may be adopted when offered from the floor. There are plenty lorsville, surprise of signs that the bill will be amended, that the administration leaders by tactical will not insist upon its passage without change. On the other hand, this same leader said its subsequent exploitation that if the bill were amended then a large majority of the House Re- spring. Sometimes the latter type publicans would support it, and the bill would pass by an overwhelming may be accompanied by surprise by The abuses of these governmental vote.

House Wants to Shape Bill

House strategists are anxious that the bill be whipped into final shape in that body. They feel that it would be far better to follow this course than to send the bill to the Senate in a form that would lead to pretation of the commerce clause of a bitter and long fight in the upper house. Nor do they relish the idea of having the Senate rewrite this important measure and send it back. leaving the House the choice of playing second fiddle and accepting the against-attack by sea and attack Senate version or of rejecting the Senate version and forcing a long contest.

Already Democratic members of the Foreign Affairs Committee have indicated that they will not oppose an amendment fixing a time limit methods employed. The combat on the life of the proposed law. How far beyond this, they have not yet been willing to say the amendments shall go. 'There will be considerable support, however, for other amendments For example, there is a desire to have written into the bill a provision for some tangible security for the goods supplied to the British and other democratic nations. There will be proposed amendments placing some limit, in billions of dollars perhaps, on the amount of goods that may be supplied by this government; providing, too, that American warships not be used to convoy merchant vessels to belligerent ports: providing that warships of belligerent nations shall not use American ports as bases, and limiting the power of the President to transfer naval and military supplies of the American Navy and Army.

The administration is not allowing the statement of Col. Charles Lindbergh that American aid to the British has not been effective and son's committee has just made its will not be effective to go unchallenged. Secretary Hull is reported to have told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that such is not at jurists has also filed its views. Now all the opinion of the British themselves. Discontent Reported in Italy Despite Denials Of Insurrection in Main Industrial Cities

By CONSTANTINE BROWN.

The denials from Berlin and Rome about an insurrection in the main industrial cities of Italy are not convincing.

A general uprising in Mussoliniland is not expected yet, but there have been for several weeks brushes between the population and the Fascist authorities

Since the outbreak of the war there have been few-if any-such demonstrations until recently. The prospect of a tremendously important Italy with a vast African empire appealed to the patriotic feelings of the Italians. But the defeats in Albania and in Africa changed them. There have been rumblings of discontent in recent weeks not only in the south but in the stolid north. Food is almost as scarce as victories. Since the first transports with wounded from Greece arrived there has been a see is the beginning in the air of a lot of grumbling. The local Fascist leaders thought they knew the cure for it; the blackjack and castor oil. But these did not work. According to break through on the Meuse and gun and armor (with speed and reports received in Washington from reliable quarters in Italy a number of young Fascist local leaders have been liquidated in a mysterious manner in smaller places. They just disappeared during the night and were never heard of again. The headquarters of the party attempted reprisals but they did not work either. Furthermore because of the serious defeats in Egypt and Greece, the dictatorial Fascist "locals" did not dare go too far. Suspected individuals had children or close relatives in the army largest type of airplanes( heavy in the field and reprisals on their homefolks together with the incapacity of the Fascist authorities to provide the armies with fighting equipment and adequate officers compelled the high ranking Fascists to order their underlings to go easy.

Workers Offended at High-Handed Methods

Trouble in the North also has been reported here during the last few weeks. The workmen are lacking adequate food and being intelligent individuals they were offended by certain high-handed methods of the non-working leaders. Furthermore in the provinces the officials of the party continue to live well while the workingmen are starving. This is not a new development for the Italian working class. They can live as a rule on little-especially in the summer months. But now during the winter their tempers rose to high fever when they could not get adequate food for themselves and their families while the men high up in the Fascist hierarchy were feasting. The further defeats of the Italian forces on both battle fronts are likely to increase the rising discontent of the Italian masses. The announcement that the Italian and the German high command intend to become unified is not helping the situation much.

This merger undoubtedly will be under Field Marshal von Keitel and will mean complete subjection of the Italian forces.

In well informed quarters it is believed that the "unified command," the official announcement of which is due shortly, will not attempt to remedy the situation in Africa. Graziani will hold out as long as possible, according to these reports, and will "continue to draw the British away from their operation bases."

Italians May Police Conquered Countries

The Italians, according to reliable reports will be assigned the role in Europe to police the various countries which the Germans have subjugated. This does not mean that the present German forces will be withdrawn, from Rumania or Hungry. But as the situation will warrant it additional forces whenever necessary will be sent from Italy. The

In addition to this the New Departure division of General Motors. at its Bristol (Conn.) plant, is working on blade-bearings for the Curtiss-Wright Corp. to an unspecified amount. These assembled figures for the divisions of General Motors indicate that this giant corporation has about one-third of $1.000,000.000 of national defense contracts.

It is well to remember these facts is a disposition to blame labor for attempting to benefit from the defense program, by demands for higher wages, etc. In this connection. I have cited the G. M. C. figures because General Motors management has not had any substantial labor trouble since the sit-down strikes of 1937 and has a pretty good record in labor relations with the C. I. O., etc. since then. There is too general a disposition to take it for granted that it is all right for industry to profit and all wrong for labor to strike in the defense program. In this connection. I should like to quote the works of a far-sighted man, best known to America as a leader of conservative business thought. On December 19, 1940, Mr. Bernard M. Baruch addressed the National Industrial Congress Board on the subject of "Problems of Industrial Mobilization."

Baruch Quotes Report.

In his statement Mr. Earuch quoted from his War Industries Board report:

"If no action is taken to stop the rise in the cost of living and huge profits are in prospect, any man who labors will feel that he is entitled to greater pay. This includes all those working for wages and fees. I think too much stress is laid upon the shortcomings of labor. That they should be inordinately rewarded is unnecessary, wrong and easily avoidable, but not by drafting men to work for other men. A soldier serves the Nation directly. There is but one master in the case, and that master is America. He serves to profit no one but the country as a whole. There is no distinction between him and his comrades. He enters an immemorial status. His entry is not contractual. He is clothed, housed and attended.

"As long as our present industrial organization maintains, industry is in the hands of millions of private employers. It is operated for profit to them. The employe, therefore, serves in private industry operating for gain. Enforced and involuntary service for a private master is and has been clearly and repeatedly defined by our Supreme Court as slavery inhibited by the 13th amend-ment to the Constitution of the United States.

"If any such provision (the drafting of labor) were made it might be used to break a perfectly justifiable strike and so at one sweep destroy all the social advance of our labor system in the last century."

Earl Gilmore, President of the Gilmore Oil Company, awards trophy to William Knopp, driver of the winning Ford car. Al Stuebing, Hollywood Ford dealer entering the car, looks on.

For the fourteen-hour run the stock model 1941 Ford averaged better than 43 miles an hour over the grueling 599.3-mile course from Los Angeles to the Grand Canyon - through city traffic, across the Mojave Desert and Boulder Dam, up and down the winding roads of three high mountain ranges buffeted by stubborn headwinds, and over ice and slush for the last hundred miles with four inches of snow on the road at the finish! The run from start to finish was under the supervision of the Contest Board of the American Automobile Association. This Ford victory should conclusively prove to every motorist the surpassing economy of the Ford V-8.

Another Heroine of Popular Fiction Introduced in Agreeable Comedy By Rose Franken at National

As if Is Also an Epic looking over a life rich in friends, devotion and artistic creation, Brahms infuses the clarinet part with that tenderness he himself felt toward all those who made his experiences worth while and helped him to achieve greatness.

Mr. Langenus has reached the point of artistic maturity which makes him room for five stars instead of the unconscious of the means by which he attains his effects. In this he was not seconded by the piano, the part of which was in the hands of Gunnar Johansen, nor by the strings of the Pro Arte Quartet. The sensuous vehemence of the violin often disrupted his effects, even in passages which were muted.

In addition to the above-mentioned works, the artists performed Brahms' "String Quartet in A Minor. Op. 51, No. 2," which was given with good effect and found favor with the large audience which applauded cordially and recalled the the original. Top role, which the producerdirector regards as being of Academy Award caliber, is that of Loxi Claiborne, wild-hearted daughter of Key West, Fla., in the 1840s. Loxi has two suitors—one a swashbuckling sea captain and the other a fighting lawyer from Charleston. The other romance concerns Loxi's best friend, a Spanish belle from Havana, and the picturesque young leader of a band of wreckers, to be played by Robert Preston. Except for Preston and Lynne Overman, who is cast as an old shellback of the Florida coast, the principal roles remain unfilled.

Morning Musicale Artists Give Delightful Concert

Rose Bampton and Stokes Drop Glitter and Pomp of Stage for Drawing Room Atmosphere

By ALICE EVERSMAN.

The effect of yesterday's program at Mrs. Lawrence Townsend's morning musicale at the Mayflower Hotel was to create a happy and friendly atmosphere among the audience. There was a simplicity about it and an intimacy that has not been reached in others of the series. The Society of Natives of the Dis-trict of Columbia last night adopted a resolution asking the District Commissioners to take steps to collect some $90,000,000 from the Federal Government, which sum it was estimated is due this city under the old law, now repealed, through which the Federal Government was supposed to pay 40 per cent of expenses of the National Capital.

William E. Richardson, chairman of the society's Committee on Civic Promotion, introduced the resolution.

At the meeting, held in the Arts Club of Washington, District Attorney Edward M. Curran urged members of the society to give of loyalty and patriotism more freely than ever before and condemned those forces which seek to destroy democracy. In other resolutions, also intro-duced by Mr. Richardson, the society voted to ask the District Commissioners to investigate all real properties on which taxes are not now being paid and to determine on which of them taxes should be paid under existing law. Another resolution urged the Commissioners to ascertain what properties, which are tax exempts under present law, should be taxed under amended laws. The society asked establishment of an uptown east-west bus line along Military road. The Military road route was recommended in a resolution introduced by Fred A. Another of those touring ice shows opens tonight in the town's new-Another of those touring ice shows opens tonight in the town's new-est sports shed, Uline Arena, and we are reminded that tinseled skating musicales suddenly have become big business. musicales suddenly have become big business

The new troupe. Ice-Capades, is one of the larger firms, like the Ice Follies and Sonja Henie's gang, but advance publicity insists the Ice-Capades employ a different technique from the others. "The accent is placed on comedy," says Mr. Al Costello, the gentleman who beats the big drum at Mr. Uline's place.

That may be the Ice-Capades' way of applying the polish, but the pattern of all ice shows remains essentially the same. The main idea is to get a team of fresh-faced young ladies who can wear short skirts and literally dance on skates. Then at least two beauteous headliners, a few comedians, a straight man and a daredevil. There is a limit to what can be done on ice skates and this seems to be the kind of a cast capable of Glenn Cunningham has "retired" approaching capacity Nobody seems to be quite certain how to handle an ice show. That is to say, what is one? Do they come under the heading of sports? Or theatricals? Or are they like circuses and therefore to be treated, at least in the newspaper profession, on the local pages?

La Chandler's Crime Was Coming From Brooklyn

In any event they are uniformly entertaining and engaged in a coast-to-coast duel for a following. Up to now Washington has been Ice Follies territory. Sonja never happened to drop around, except the time she watched her football Dodgers lose to the Redskins, and so the Follies. headed by the Shipstads, Oscar Johnson and Bess Ehrhardt, have been in command

Of all the girl skaters, Henie is best known. She belonged to that era when it was discovered that it was possible for a young lady to take nice three nights ago in 4:09.7, the fastest pictures and also excel in sports. She was the Olympic figure skating champion and, of course, her movies enhanced her drawing power at the gate.

Miss Ehrhardt turned professional before she ever had a chance to win any titles. Indeed, she turned professional almost before she learned how to skate. She may be the best looking of all the headliners and, possibly, the worst skater. She bows to Henie from a technical stand- sophomore who placed third in point, but the Follies bounce back with the claim that their Evelyn 4:10.2, fastest time of his career and Chandler, who is the real star of the show, is the best skater that ever lived, and sometimes they include men in that claim.

La Chandler is one of those remarkable persons who can do things called Arabian cartwheels. She is far more acrobatic than Henie, but she had the poor taste to come from Brooklyn, and who is there in this country to rate a Flatbusher over a dimpled little girl from the fjords of Norway?

Ice-Capades' Star Must Get Married

The Ice-Capades boast of a pair of feminine headliners. A lithesome blond lady named Belita is billed as the star but the lady who is getting the publicity is Vera Hruba, a 20-year-old Czecho-Slovakian, also blond and also very easy to look upon. "She's terrific," beams Mr. Costello, "and she has to get married."

Miss Hruba is the sweetheart of the press agents because she is ready-made copy. Taking into account that Miss Henie, in private life, had none of the fall cross-country is the wife of Dan Topping, the well-known soldier, and that Miss running that put the others in Ehrhardt is the wife of the incomparable Roy Snipstad, her partner, the Ice-Capades' drum beaters are having the time of their lives with Miss Hruba.

It develops that, because she is a Czecn, she will be deported shade the best of the lot. Great Group in Trim To Burn Up Boards In Indoor Races

Giants Begin Grind February 14, Dodgers Day Later in Cuba

By JUDSON BAILEY,

NEW YORK, Jan. 28 .- The scent of wide-open races in baseball's major leagues has aroused sever. clubs to the extent of advancing their 1941 spring training programs ahead of last year's schedule.

Cleveland, Boston and Chicago, in the American League, and St. Louis, New York, Boston and Pittsburgh, in the National, have arranged to get to work earlier this season.

In addition, Jimmy Wilson, new manager of the Chicago Cubs, will call his entire squad together at Catalina Island February 26 instead of last year's setup, by which Gabby Hartnett took one section February 22 and another February 29. Thus most of the Cubs also will have an earlier start.

The New York Giants will set the spring training machinery in motion February 14 at Miami, Fla.; the Brooklyn Dodgers will open the next day at Havana. Cuba: the Cleveland Indians will swing into action February 17 at Fort Myers, Fla., and all except two clubs will be under way before the end of next month.

Tigers Delay Until March 2. The Detroit Tigers, American League champions, will summon their batterymen to Lakeland, Fla. March 2 and the rest of the squad March 9. Last year the camp opened February 25.

The Philadelphia Phillies, perennial National League tailenders, will start March 1 at Miami Beacn. Nine clubs will train in Florida this winter, one less than last year. Cincinnati's world champions will set up shop at Tampa again February 24, the St. Louis Cardinals will convene at St. Petersburg the same day, the New York Yankees, who also train at St. Pete, will start on the 23d; the Boston Red Sox on the 24th at Sarasota and Washington at Orlando, Fla., February 20, five days later than last year.

"She's had more than 50 offers of marriage since January 22." claims Mr. Costello. "She also says that she is willing to marry an American but that the right man must come along."

Vera Hruba Belongs With Top-Flighters

Prior to this turn of events, Miss Hruba achieved a minor measure of fame when a fellow named Adolf Hitler personally congratulated her at the Olympic games of 1936 at Berlin.

"She doesn't like Hitler. Mr. Costello declares. "When the German consul in New York ordered her to return to Czecho-Slovakia she refused. In our show she does a Czecho-Slovakian dance which was ordered by the consul to be discontinued. She refused to do this, too, and it will be one of the righ lights of our show, which opens tonight and runs weeks ago. through February 9, inclusive. There will be two matinees, February 1 and 8, and the prices are . . ."

With or without Mr. Costello behind her, the gal can skate. She belongs with the Henies, Chandlers and Ehrhardts in the top-flight. It may be that La Chandler is the best skater and that La Ehrhardt is the best looking and that La Henie is the most famous but, all in all, La Hruba can be bet across the board in perfect safety.

It may be that, despite the new ice customers the touring shows are creating, there are too many revues, which are very expensive what with salaries, costumes, traveling expenses, etc. When the Ice-Capades were born a sum of $10,000 was budgeted for costumes. When the costumes were on hand the rap was $35,000, which may give some idea

But if this "baby" of the skating shows is having troubles making ends meet there is always a ready, sure-fire remedy. Simply tax the stage-door-Johnnys who are waiting for Miss Hruba to come out.

Whirlaway, Bold Irishman, Our Boots, Bushwhacker Among Top Candidates

By the Associated Press.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 28 .- A list of 54 3-year-old thoroughbreds eligible for the 51st running of the $50,000 added Preakness Stakes at Pimlico May 10 was announced today by the Maryland Jockey Club.

The list includes the cream of the crop of last year's juveniles and all of the colts now considered likely contenders for 3-year-old honors this year.

Heading the Preakness candidates is Calumet Farm's Whirlaway, the 2 year-old champion of 1940 and currently regarded as the outstanding 3-year-old prospect.

Also among the top-ranking candidates are the Wheatley Stable's Bold Irishman Woodvale Farm's Our Boots, Alfred G. Vanderbilt's New World, C. S. Howard's Porter's Cap and R. W. McIlvain's Bushwhacker.

These six accounted for the richest and most important stakes for juveniles last year.

Whirlaway won the Saratoga Special, the Hopeful Stakes and the Breeders' Futurity; Bold Irishman, the Pimlico Futurity; Our Boots, the Belmont Futurity; New World, the Maryland Futurity and Grand Union Hotel Stakes: Porter's Cap, the Washington Park Futurity, and Bushwhacker, the New England Futurity

The list includes many others capable of strong contention, such as the Greentree Stable's Monday Lunch, King Ranch's Dispose, Mrs E. G. Lewis' Magnificent and Col. E. R. Bradley's Bryan Station.

Congressional Members Meet,

Congressional Country Club members today had before them a complete picture of what they may expect if the expected club reorganization goes through. Present and furecounted the steps which have led up to the situation confronting Congressional. Within a few days a Montgomery County court will issue a decision on the auction sale

At present the club is headed by continue operation under a new group headed by Gen. Frank T.

Two Tie Old Mark By the Associated Press. CORAL GABLES, Fla., Jan. 28 .-Match play began in the 10th annual Miami Biltmore women's golf tournament today, but the locker rooms still buzzed with conversation about the amazing 74 scored by Elizabeth Hicks of Pasadena, Calif.,

Some gallervites had feared the winner, and National Champion The new grass at present has no Bethesda, Md.: Tom Ryan of Belle Betty Jameson would detract from the tournament, but little Miss Her score not only pared three strokes off women's par, but it broke the six-year-old course record by five shots and gave her the medal

> Marion Miley of Lexington, Ky., and Grace Amory of Palm Beach equaled the old record 79, but the pace was so fast they were overshadowed.

Still very much in the running were Jane Cothran of Greenville. S. C., and Dorothy Kirby of Atlanta, who qualified handily with 82s, and Louise Suggs of Lithia Springs, Ga., who carded an 83.

None of the favorites was expected to be extended in the opening matches, since all were paired against opponents who qualified at 95 or higher.

Miss Hicks faced Mrs. George Church of Coconut Grove, Fla.; Miss Miley opposed Mrs. J. G. Spitz of Miami Beach, Miss Amory met Mrs. William A. Hermanson of Boston, Miss Cothran engaged Helen White of New York, Miss Kirby encountered Mrs. Marion Hochheimer of New York and Miss Suggs opposed Marie L. Smith of St. Joseph. Mo.

STUDEBAKER'S DEFENSE ORDER FOR AIRPLANE ENGINES IS A "PLUS" ORDER

Separate division is being created to expedite production of Studebaker's share of national defense program

HEN the Government asked Studebaker to build airplane engines on a big scale, it was not the Studebaker plants or facilities that the Government wanted, but rather the Studebaker organization of engineers and production executives.

The Studebaker program for producing airplane engines will have no effect, in itself, on Studebaker production of automobiles. The equipment in Studebaker plants is not suitable for the manufacture of airplane engines and therefore separate equipment for that purpose is being provided.

Studebaker production of automobiles will be affected only if defense requirements for materials or labor necessitate a curtailment of production by all automobile plants.

The 1941 Studebaker Champions, Commanders and Presidents are more and more popular with motorists because Studebaker is offering more real value in these great motor cars at their low prices than anybody

Our country's national defense program creates new problems and new responsibilities for all of us. Studebaker intends to discharge its defense responsibilities in a manner which will add luster to its name.

erally recognized as the highest quality car in the lowest price field-and it's the lowest priced 6-cylinder sedan in America.

See it and drive it now-and see for yourself why it saves you substantially on operating cost as well as first cost. Convince yourself that it's the most restful riding, easiest handling, lowest priced car in America. You may use your present car as part payment-easy C.I.T. terms.

Lease-Lend Bill to Accomplish People's Will, Says George

Senator, in Forum Talk, Points to Plan as Guard Against Involvement

Chairman George of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee discussed the administration's British aid bill in an address in the National Radio Forum on WMAL last The topic of the address was "An Analysis of the Lease-Se and, arranged by The Star, it was heard over a coast-to-coast network of the National Broadcasting Co.

The text of the Senator's address follows For quite four centuries mankind has struggled to build up what we call international law, based upon the recognition and respect of the independent sovereignty of all nations, great and small, in the family of nations. The basic principle has promised the best chance of nations living at peace.

Here in our Western Hemisphere that principle has found its strongest support. To preserve our peace and security the United States wisely or unwisely, went beyond the restraints placed upon neutrals under the international code.

At the present time three of the most powerful nations in the world have rejected this principle and have based their foreign policy on organized aggression. The foreign policy, as well as the national deis immediately concerned. With the three powerful nations striking hard at the foundations of peace in the family of nations, we look to our defenses

our Government

The lend-lease bill seeks to insure us against involvement in the wars now being waged in Europe. Asia and Africa by authorizing the Executive to give material aid to those friendly nations whose continued independent existence is necessary for our vital defense.

Thus, the bill authorizes the President to manufacture in our Government arsenals and navy yards, as well as in privately owned factories, weapons and war materials for those nations whose defense the President deems vital to the defense of the United States. It also authorizes him to sell, lease, lend, or otherwise dispose of weapons to such countries. We all recognize that a nation engaged in warfare of the modern kind often requires facilities for repairing and testing and outfitting its own weapons of defense, such as a battleship. Thus, it may be that a warship is injured on the high seas, far from her home port. Unless she can be repaired and again placed in service, she may be a total loss so far as her usefulness in the war is concerned. This bill authorizes the President to assist nations, in whose defense we ourselves have a defense interest, by permitting the repair of such vessels and other defense articles in the United States.

Will Expedite Aid.

The bill will materially expedite the flow of military assistance to Great Britain. It is important at this time to eliminate any friction or confusion in the procurement and production of weapons for ourselves and for the democracies. This bill aids in the accomplishment of that purpose by giving to the President power to funnel our own orders and those of Great Britain through one agency. We want to place the President in the position where he has authority to run the aid to Britain and the national defense program on an efficient and businesslike basis.

I do not mean to say the bill contains no limitations on the broad powers which it gives to our commander in chief. There are limitations. Thus, for example, the leaselend bill provides that when war materials or defense information are made available to a foreign government, that foreign government must undertake that it will not transfer such articles or information to any other foreign power without the consent of the President of the United States.

Furthermore, the Congress of the United States has no intention of abdicating by passing this bill. Ours is historically a Government of checks and balances. While the Constitution makes provision for the exercise of vast powers by the Executive, it also wisely provides for methods of checking those powers by the Congress if they should be the subject of abuse. The Congress is desirous that information regarding what defense articles and defense information is exported under the authority of this bill should be gathered together in one place, and provision is made in the bill for that. Furthermore, the exercise of many of the powers granted under this bill will require funds, and the Congress reserves for itself its constitutional authority to grant funds. This bill makes no appropriation

The other provisions of this bill are largely administrative, and I doubt that even the most ardent critics of the bill have any objection to them. I should mention, however, that the bill does empower the Secretaries of War and Navy to

Pontiac's New Low-Priced Metropolitan "Torpedo" Sedan

Announcing the lowest-priced 4-door, 4-window sedan in Pontiac history!

NOW TO THE MOST popular line of cars it has ever offered, Pontiac adds a new and striking model-the low-priced Metropolitan "Torpedo" Sedan with body by Fisher, patterned after a higher-priced and sensationally successful Pontiac body type.

This new Metropolitan is a four-door, four-window sedan with a smart, enclosed rear quarter. With two windows on each side, it takes on lines and contours impossible to achieve with the conventional six-window design. In addition, it combines unusual rear-compartment spaciousness with the privacy which many find desirable. COAST-IN, INC.

Utilities Commission Orders New Schedules For $337,000 Fund

The task of apportioning a $337,000 rate reduction among customers of the Potomac Electric Power Co., was still unfinished today as experts of the power firm began preparation of new revised rate schedules in accordance with instructions issued by the Public Utilities Commission.

The commission called for the new schedules late yesterday after the company had submitted suggested new rates that would have applied virtually the entire reduction to commercial consumers. Chairman Riley E. Elgen of the commission directed that the percentage of current used by each class of consumers be used as a basis for division of the savings.

The utility company and the commission have been at odds since the opening of the public hearing to consider rate adjustments. At the outset, they disagreed over the sum to be made available for a rate cut. When the firm submitted its proposed new rates yesterday, another wrinkle appeared, precipitating a long debate.

Computation Factor Changed.

The controversy centered about a new application of the sliding scale formula proposed by the company. Up until last year, the Utilities Commission had figured the rate of reeffective February 1. No correction was made in the revenue figures for each January to reflect the fact that effect that month.

For the time being at least, the District Commissioners are not planning to seek deferred status under the selective service law for members of the Fire Department.

This policy was indicated yesterday when the city heads announced they had refused to recommend deferment for Fireman Edward S. Fire Chief Stephen T. Ramey. Porter had urged that Mr. Ramey be granted deferred status. The fireman has been with the Fire Department for 13 years and is now stationed at No. 13 Engine Company. He is now 35, but will be 36 on May 2. Officials said his wife is employed by the Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Co.

It was pointed out that 290 of the District's 872 firemen registered and are eligible for selective service. but officials said they believed that only about 60, who are unmarried and without dependents, are apt to receive early calls for military of the suburban area to receive a service.

Legislative Program Consideration Delayed In Quinn's Absence

The Montgomery County Civic Federation last night urged "strictest economy" in county expenditures during the coming year and no greater increase in the county budget than was warranted by the increase in county revenues resulting from the recent general reassessment.

At an abbreviated special meeting at which the legislative program scheduled to be taken up was postponed because of the illness of Chairman Carey E. Quinn of the Legislative and Legal Action Committee, the federation also declared against construction of the Martinsburg-Whites Ferry road from proceeds of a bond issue. Chairman Washington I. Cleveland of the Roads, Streets and Bridges Committee pointed out that the federation already was on record in favor of construction of the road, but was indicating its preference for its construction from the proceeds of the county's share of the gasoline tax revenues. A measure to authorize a bond issue of $40,000 will be placed before the Legislature by the county's delegation.

Favors Fireworks Restriction.

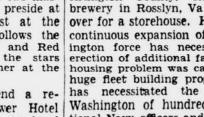

The federation adopted a resolution opposing the present fireworks setup and favoring the enactment of legislation barring the use of fireworks by private individuals and restriction of sales to appropriate public officials for community celebrations. A fireworks ban failed of passage by one vote at the last Legislature and will be voted on again this session.

Another recommendation of the federation to be forwarded to the Legislature's county delegation is one for making provision for the two county suburban districts in the law returning a portion of State

Income Tax Enters Picture.

Mr. Laws said it was "equally difficult for the company to comprehend" the adjustment made by the commission in income tax accruals for 1938 and 1939. He said depreciation had been computed at 3 per cent in determining the amount to reserve for this contingent liability. The commission, on the other hand, had figured depreciation at a rate of 3.5 per cent because the firm has asked the Bureau of Internal Revenue for that allowance commission to believe that . the Internal Revenue Bureau will grant allowance at the 3.5 per cent rate. ### Dog Tag Shortage Probe Is Pressed by Auditors

As a result of disclosures Saturday of a $1,338 shortage in the District dog tag accounts between July 1 and November 30. Acting Auditor Arthur R. Pilkerton and several of his assistants today were examining a huge stack of dog tag license coupons and cashiers' stubs to determine if anything wrong had occurred in earlier periods.

Mr. Pilkerton and his aides began examination of license coupons and cashier stubs for the years 1938 and 1939.

The reported shortage was discovered directly as a result of an order issued by the Commissioners in October for specific audits of all of the accounts of District agencies receiving money from the public, This order was issued after discovery of a $2,000 shortage in the accounts of an agent of the tax collector at the Department of Vehicles and Traffic.

Mrs. Roosevelt Honored At Mrs. Wallace's Party For Senate Ladies

Two Cabinet at Homes Are Scheduled For Tomorrow by Mrs. Jones And by Mrs. Walker

SOCIETY.

Mrs. Roosevelt was the guest of honor today when Mrs. Henry A Wallace, wife of the Vice President, entertained at luncheon for the Senate Ladies' Luncheon Club. The gathering was held in the continental room of the Wardman Park Hotel, where the Vice President and Mrs. Wallace make their home.

Approximately 100 guests were present, including the Senate ladies themselves, wives of the cabinet members and wives of the justices of the Supreme Court

Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Walker Have at-Homes Tomorrow

Tomorrow two cabinet at-homes are scheduled-those of Mrs. Jesse Jones, wife of the Secretary of Commerce, and Mrs. Frank C. Walker, wife of the Postmaster General.

Mrs. Jones will receive callers at the Shoreham, and assisting her during the afternoon will be Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, Mrs. Wayne Chatfield-Taylor, Mrs. Nellie Tayloe Ross, Mrs. William C. Costello, Mrs. Emil Schram, Mrs. Sidney Morey, Mrs. Eugene O. Sykes, Mrs. Norman Baxter. Mrs. Sam H. Husbands and Mrs. Howard J. Klossner.

Others who will pour during the afternoon will be Mrs. Charles B. Enderson, Mrs. Frederick Van Nuys, Mrs. McGruder Winfield. Mrs. Adolf A. Berle, jr.; Mrs. Timothy Ansberry, Mrs. Lawrence Groner, Mrs. A. S. Monroney, Mrs. Richard Kleberg, Mrs. Clarence Norton Goodwin, Mrs. Warren Lee Pierson and Mrs. John Goodwin Locke.

Mrs. Walker's Reception To Be Held at Carlton.

Mrs. Walker will hold her reception at the Carlton from 4 to 6 p.m. tomorrow

Her assistants will be the wives of the Assistant Postmasters General, Mrs. Ambrose O'Connell, Mrs. Smith W. Purdum and Mrs. Ramsey S. Black; Mrs. Kildroy P. Aldrich, wife of the chief post office inspector: Mrs. Vincent M. Miles, wife of the solicitor of the department; Mrs. J. Austin Latimer, wife of the executive assistant to the Postmaster General; Mrs. William J. Bray, wife of the special assistant to the Postmaster General; Mrs. William F. Cronin, wife of the senior administrative officer to the Postmaster General, and Mrs. Vincent C. Burke, wife of the postmaster of the Washington Post Office.

Mrs. Keyes Will Give

Luncheon for Mrs. Knox.

Another cabinet hostess will be busy tomorrow. Mrs. Frank Knox, wife of the Secretary of the Navy, will be honored at a luncheon by Mrs. Frances Parkinson Keyes at her Alexandria home. This is the party which Mrs. Keyes had planned to honor both Mrs. Knox and Mrs. Cordell Hull, but Mrs. Hull's illness prevented her attending.

A party yesterday of much interest in both official and residential circles was that given by Mrs. E. E. Barry, who entertained informally at tea in her apartment at 4700 Connecticut avenue. The tea was in honor of Mrs. David M. Barkley, daughter-in-law of Senator and Mrs. Alben W. Barkley, who will leave soon for San Antonio, Tex., with her husband.

Sharing honors with Mrs. Barkley & were Mrs. B. M. Harris of Jacksonville, Fla., sister of the hostess, and Mrs. Norman Blakley of Miami, who have been house guests of Mrs. Barry since the inauguration.

Both Mrs. Harris and Mrs. Blakley are prominent in Democratic circles. Mrs. Harris having been State chairman of Democratic women's day in Florida, and Mrs. Blakley being South Florida's delegate to the national convention.

Handmade Lace Cloth Background for the Silver.

Mrs. Barry's tea table yesterday was laid with a handmade lace cloth which showed to its best advantage the lovely silver service and the centerpiece of jonquils, heather and K. Hollingsworth, publicity; Mrs. Joseph Winthrop Peabody, table lighted candles. Pouring during the afternoon were Mrs. A. G. Arapian, jr.; Mrs. Neil Andrews, and from Alexandria were Mrs. C. L. Holland and Mrs. R. L. The guest of honor's mother-inlow, Mrs. Barkley, and mother, Mrs. Ashton W. Graves, were among the guests, and others present were Mrs G. F. Seiz Seitz, Mrs. Hugh H. #### Vera Hruba, 20, 'Really Might' Wed A Letter Writer

Vera Hruba, the Czech girl who must be married before March 1 or face imprisonment, had 150 proposals of marriage every day last week, but she still hasn't picked a husband.

The figure-skating star is only 20 years old, but she has incurred the enmity of the German Reich, conqueror of her native Czecho-Slovakia. The United States will have to order her deported to her homeland by March 1, because she has already had four extensions on her visitor's visa, and the law permits no more extensions.

The only thing that can save her from returning to German-occupied Praha-and a concentration campis American citizenship. The quota for Czecho-Slovakia is filled up for the next five years, due to the tremendous flow of refugees from that nation to America, and marriage is the only solution. ### Maximum Penalties Asked In Speeding, Drunk Driving Terming the number of traffic fatalities during the past month "shameful," the Midcity Citizens' Association last night called upon judges of the Police Court to impose maximum penalties in cases of speeding and drunken driving and asked for jail sentences in lieu of fines. A more rigid examination for permit applicants was also demanded.

The association voted to oppose vigorously a bill now pending in the Senate to exempt from taxation the property owned by the Club of Colonial Dames. The resolution declared that if the bill were passed the District would lose $500 in taxes annually.

Acting upon the motion of Nathan M. Lubar, the group approved the proposed Military road route for a crosstown bus service. Mr. Lubar declared that this route would not impede traffic and would cut cross-

A detailed program to reduce local cluded John Sullivan, born in Limtraffic fatalities through stricter en- erick in 1699, and Margery Browne, forcement of traffic regulations and more efficient prosecution of offenders was approved last night by the Lincoln Park Citizens' Association. Acting upon a resolution by C. C. Gillikin, the group advocated 34 extra police for precincts 5, 9 and 11 and an additional 100 men for the District as a whole; the appointment of a separate judge to handle traffic cases exclusively, improvement of the street-lighting system, appropriation of $50,000 for traffic signals and a survey to determine the possibility of increasing parking space. The report of the Streets and Avenues Committee on a northern cross-town bus via Military road, adopted by the Northeast Confer-

New Training Plane Delivered to Army

A new Army airplane for basic flying training was delivered today at an undesignated Air Corps station to be put through rigid flying tests.

Known as the XBT-12, it is a product of Fleetwings, Inc., of Bristol and is powered by a 450-horsepower, radial air-cooleed, single Pratt & Whitney engine. Facilities provide space for a student and instructor in the canopied cockpits. The fuselage is of gleaming stainless steel.

Army officials said the new traning plane, designed for primary flight instruction at the various aviation schools, is replete with the latest instruction equipment. The gross weight is 4.400 pounds, and the wing span is 40 feet.

Clever Ways to Use Odd Jewelry Have Been Invented by Some Local Ladies

Charm Bracelets Used As Smart Lapel Pins Or Gay Necklaces

Watches Are Also Convertible; The First Lady Sets a Floral Style Trend for the Spring

By Helen Vogt.

As far as we've been able to find out, the problem of what to do with old razor blades has never been solved with any degree of satisfaction. However, the question of what to do with jewelry that has served its purpose in its original form has been neatly worked out by some of the smart women around town.

For example, there's this business of charm bracelets . . . Two or three years ago, the vogue was in full force and the number of gold charm dangles seen encircling feminine wrists was exceeded only by the number of silver ones in the same general position. Then came that usual let-down that follows any intense fashion trend, and women found that they were just a little tired of these expensive trinkets which, however, were much too valuable and attractive to be tossed away. So, the smartest of the charm followers got busy and thought up some novel ways to wear this jewelry

One of these ladies known for her chic made her two gold charm bracelets into a necklace by the simple process of linking them together and adding a short piece of gold chain. This convertible item could be worn either as a necklace or as bracelets and was extremely effective on a simple black dress. The same idea could be worked out with silver bracelets and chain.

Later, however, a new and different thought occured to this in genious lady and she had a local-

Girls' Expensive Tastes Usually Resented by Majority of Boys

> 'Gold-Digger' Tendencies Are Responsible for the Wreck of Many Beautiful Friendships

By Kay Caldwell and Alden Harrison.

In our last two columns we've been tussling with the problem of why boys should stand the expenses of dating girls, when the girls earn just as much as the boys do, and often actually compete with them in the job market

We admitted that this situation seemed illogical and unfair. We considered the possibility of an eventual Dutch-treat dating standard, and tried to show what some of the undesirable effects of such a standard might be. And we voiced the opinion that the long-established man-pays as long as he walks with me to the tradition wasn't founded merely on economic conditions, but even more front door, I should at least wait to on fundamental differences in the sexes, which make masculine leadership and feminine compliance in romantic relationships not only desirable but almost inevitable.

We realize, however, that girls have entered business and industry right in this, absolutely. Standing to stay. The day is cone when the man filled the family sock, and the at the door watching him get into woman merely darned it. For as long as any one can see into the future, girls are going to continue to work outsided the home, both before and after marriage.

Inevitably, these economic activities of the modern girl create problems in romantic relationships. But if young people, fellows and girls alike, expect and understand these problems, we see no reason why they can't deal with them successfully. -

Thus the characteristics and capabilities of the two sexes supplement each other; together, they make a perfect team. But there isn't much "equality" in this setup. Nature's idea wasn't equality; it was co-operation. And the closer you stick to Nature's idea in your boygirl relationships, the more suc-cessful and happy they are to be. Harder Next Time In Order to Win

By Angelo Patri.

We have to teach children to be good losers. They do not come by that easily. It is not in human nature to like to be beaten, and children are human nature at its fullest, richest state.

It won't do to have a child cry and throw his bat on the ground shout he won't play, he is cheated, it was no fair and the like. He must learn to accept the decision of the umpire, to know that the best man won and take it with as cheerful a smile as he can manage. If it is good form to shake hands with his conqueror, he must make that gesture in good grace. I would not tell him that he to win when he plays and he should all the purple lipsticks, of course, your lips try to do so with all his might and with colors which are also domimain. When he does his best and nantly blue; and yellow lipsticks, by fails, he is to make no sign-he which we mean the rust tones, with must take it gracefully-but in- all colors dominantly yellow. This wardly he is to ask himself why he failed and what he can do to chartreuse, and also brown. Rememmake him the winner next time.

When he takes defeat as just one failure that must be wiped out by greater effort and finer skill next time he is on the way to power, and that is the attitude that good sportsmanship instils. The defeatist attitude, the spirit that says, "What of it? Who cares? It makes no difference whether I win or lose so long as I play fairly," is not good sportsmanship, and it does not make for fine character.

A defeat ought to make a loser cover what is wrong with his play. It should make him determine that he will work for the next chance and do his best to be in better shape, in stronger spirit, in good form for the game, to win if he possibly can. Defeat taken in that spirit is tonic to the soul and body.

I have no sympathy with the notion that one does not play to win, that one plays for the sake of the play. I don't believe that. Everybody plays hard to win and feels badly when he loses in this struggle for life's prizes, and children get their training for this struggle in their play life, their games, tournaments and matches. They have to learn to play hard and well to win, and after doing their best, to accept the decision with outward grace and the inward resolution to fight again and win.

The prizes of the game belong to the winner. I am not on the side of those who think there should be no prizes. That is contrary to any plan of life yet seen on this earth. Children ought to be given the awards of the game when they have been fairly won-laurels and medals and brass bands if they belong to the occasion. The winner keeps the marbles he wins, the winning team gets the pennant, the star performer the medal. The victor must be crowned, but the loser, to be a good loser, must be inwardly resolving that next time is his time. If he gives in, accepting defeat as his lot, he isn't a good loser, but a sick one.

Keep him to the healthy side.

Answer-It is, perhaps, natural that a wife whose husband is unfaithful to her should lay the blame for it on the other woman. It saves her face to believe that an intelligent, experienced, middle-aged man of the world is such a guileless baby that he is being naughty when he steals kisses from every pretty girl he meets, and that he is so unsophisticated and trusting that any little nitwit of a deb can involve satisfied with the simple dating fare him in an affair without his suspect-

If you are a student or a busy executive who must bring extra work home you will find a typewriter table one of the most convenient articles to have. A good one is sturdily made, is equipped with rollers for moving from room to room and has two extra leaves on which one may place papers or other essentials. You will find these tables large enough to accomodate either a portable or standard size typewriter. . . Add a dash of brightness to the bathroom with a new shower curruffed a spade with dummy's eight of hearts and returned a club from dummy. When East followed. South ruffed with the heart nine, hoping that East had the queen of hearts. But West overruffed with the heart queen and returned a trump. A low diamond was led from the dummy, and West won and led another trump. That was the end of poor South; he was set two tricks!

South had adopted a bad line of play but should have made his contract anyway. When East followed to the fourth round of clubs. South should have ruffed with the heart king! Then he could ruff a spade with the heart jack and return a diamond. Even though West might win and return a trump, Bouth would then be able to ruff a diamond and would have a total

But South made his big mistake at the third trick. To plan a crossruff was correct, but there was no need to plan to ruff clubs in his own hand when it was so much safer to ruff diamonds. At the third trick South should have led a diamond. From then on he could easily cross-ruff spades and diamonds without risking an over-ruff and the consequent loss of the is a far simpler matter and engineers agree on its feasibility. Such a pipe line would give a large fleet a steady supply of oil. But it also would involve a steady production of oil at the other end, and that is where the readjustment with American oil interests begins to shape up. In this connection it might be stated-and it is an understatement-that the production and distribution of oil since the American properties were confiscated has been inadequate.

Port Being Improved. Acapulco, 1.500 miles from the Canal, beautifully fringed with palms, has water 60 feet deep, but no docks to which large vessels can come for speedy taking on of supplies. A huge concrete mole is being built by the Mexican government and within a few months the largest vessels will be able to come alongside. Furthermore, large oil storage tanks are being placed. These improvements benefit the port in general, of course, and the small Mexican west coast gunboats in particular. They also might be of service to our Navy. Topolobampo presents an entirely different situation. It is inside the Gulf of California and is the terminus for the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient Railroad, which almost links our Midwest oil fields with the Pacific. I say almost, because, in accordance with the sad sequence of American development projects in Mexico, there is a gap of 100 miles in the line. The two terminal points are ready for business, and so are most of the intervening miles, and then the whole project just melts away in Chihuahua, amid gold fields and timber tracts. And Topolobampo has languished, too, of course. In addition, it has been taking up its share of the tremendous silt load coming down from the Rocky Mountains via the Colorado River. Government Intervenes. In the more than half a century since Dewey marveled at its harbor. it has silted up about 20 feet; that is, the entrance in 1936 was only 10 or 12 feet deep, instead of 30. But here, without knowing or intending it, the United States Government has intervened. It built the Boulder Dam, and virtually stopped the Colorado River in its tracks. That not only stopped the inflow of silt from the river's mouth several hundred miles above, but started a great unchecked suction process toward the abysm of the Gulf of California, 11,000 feet deep, to the Far South. That suction is dredging the entrance to Topolobampo at the rate of about 2 SHOULD feet a vear. In addition, the mysterious hand KNOW of coincidence is reaching out in another direction. Engineers are in the Chihuahua hills again, and there are many indications to support the reports that the missing link in the railway is to be built in. Topolobampo would be an outlet for high-test gasoline for airplanes. Mexico at present makes no such gasoline-the American oil companies having taken the necessary technique and technicians with them when they were forced out. This port, with rail connections with our

Midwest, would bring high-power gasoline several days nearer a fleet off the Canal one than it is today through existing facilities in the United States. In addition, of course, it would bring a big development around Topolobampo itself,
