Morosini Had Charged Letts With Prejudice

By CARTER BROOKE JONES. Attorney Emil Morosini, defending George Sylvester Viereck, registered German agent, charged with concealing propaganda activities, was excluded by Justice F. Dickinson Letts in District Court this afternoon from taking further part in the trial because the New York lawyer charged in open court that the presiding jurist was "biased in favor of the Government and prejudiced against this defend-

Further defense of Viereck will be conducted by Mr. Morosini's law partner, Daniel F. Cohalan, jr., and a Washington associate, Col. O. R.

Mr. Morosini, making his accusation in the presence of the jury after Justice Letts had excluded several lines of evidence which the defense sought to present, had rested the defense case immediately afterward

The defense attorney halted testimony without calling a large number of witnesses under subpoena and without placing the accused publicist on the stand. Mr. Morosini said the rulings of the cou left no alternative.

Committee Hears Wickard On Surplus Sales Ban Behind Closed Doors

The House opened debate on the Agriculture Department supply bill today with farm bloc leaders predicting that a ban against sales of surplus commodities at prices below parity would be left intact in the measure.

The debate got under way after the Agriculture Committee heard Secretary Wickard gave his views on the parity situation behind closed doors. Members said later the Secretary appeared perturbed over language written into the appropriation bill banning below-parity sales While not insisting that the ban be removed, they said, Secretary

Wickard expressed the view the curb would prevent sales of surplus products for feed purposes and consequently boost prices farmers must pay for feed. His further views were expected at another meeting tomorrow. Meanwhile, the American Farm Bureau Federation joined in the parity fight by petitioning House members to retain the sales ban. Administration leaders, opposing the surplus sales ban, said they were hopeful of overcoming farm bloc votes before the bill is voted on, probably Thursday. President Roosevelt recently opposed the ban in a Senate bill on the ground it would boost the public's food bill.

Viereck's Attorney Charges Judge With Bias; Rests Case

Propagandist's Counsel Refuses to Allow Defendant to Testify

By CARTER BROOKE JONES.

Dickinson Letts was biased in and nearby counties will either have favor of the Government and their blackout materials in place or said there was nothing left except for the defense to rest its case.

against the presiding justice, the New York lawyer announced he would call no more witnesses and ended his case without calling to the stand Viereck, who is charged with failing to disclose his propaganda activities when he registered at the State Department as a German agent

After Justice Letts repeatedly had ruled out testimony proferred by the defense, Mr. Morosini paused, faced the bench and said:

"I think your honor has fore closed us from a very important line of inquiry into this case. I think in view of your honor's rulings throughout the Government's testimony and throughout the defendant's testimony. I charge that your honor is biased in favor of the Government and prejudiced against the defendant. I say that this defendant has no alternative but to rest his case."

Printing Records Barred.

The immediate cause of the unexpected denouement of the trial was he refusal of Justice Letts to allow the defense to introduce a series of charts made at the Government Printing Office, showing over a period of time reprints of speeches by members of Congress.

The Government presented eviience to the effect that Viereck had arranged for certain speeches to be delivered in Congress and mailed out n large quantities under congressional frank. Previously the court has refused to allow the defense to show that the practice of printing propaganda speeches in the Congressional Record and distributing them over the been widespread, both by isolation ists and interventionists. Justice (See VIERECK, Page A-4.)

Enemy Apparently Trying To Extend Occupation Of Southern Islands

Japanese naval units are shelling several ports on three islands of the Philippines, the War Department reported today, and are landing troops from a convoy of four transports escorted by a cruiser at Zamboanga on the southwest tip of Mindanao. There was virtually no ground or air activity over Gen. Douglas Mac-Arthur's positions in Bataan Peninsular, the department's communique said, but the Japanese apparently are attempting to extend their occupation of the southern islands of the Philippine group

Mr. Locher one of the first witnesses, submitted a long list of Government housing projects in the Washington area, which he said were built by workers receiving the union scale. Following completion of Mr. Locher's testimony Mr. knew of any housing project other than Government work which had been built in Washington in the past year by union labor. ## Rossvan's Comment

Selections for a Fast Track at Hialeah Park BEST BET-BROTHER DEAR.

FIRST RACE - LA RICHE, ROCKET GAL, FOUR STARS.

The Mate filly LA ROCHE was nosed out in a photo finish recently and might graduate today in the opener. ROCKET GAL is a well-regarded youngster and the stable is high on this one's chances. FOUR STARS has been working well for some time and has not done bad in local competition. Figures close.

SECOND RACE - PRIORITY, SAXONIAN, ABYSSINIA.

Everything appears made to order for PRIORITY today, and the gray filly should enter the winner's circle after the 10 furlongs. SAXONIAN is getting good and rates an excellent money chance. ABYSSINIA breaks very slowly, but comes like an express train in the stretch. Might be close.

THIRD RACE - BROTHER DEAR, SHIP'S RUN, CLIP CLOP.

Unless BROTHER DEAR is a morning glory, there should be plenty of daylight, between the Head Play colt and the finish this afternoon. Working sensation-ally in the morning and ready for the question. SHIP'S RUN would prefer more distance-in tiptop shape. CLIP CLOP rates a money chance.

FOURTH RACE - ALAKING,

LLANERO, HE ROLLS. ALAKING apparently has found a snug spot in the grade C handicap at 9 furlongs. Has some good works at Tropical recently and stepped a handy mile in 1:41 flat. The one to beat is LLANERO, nosed out by Riding Light several days ago in fast time. HE ROLLS figures to be in the money.

FIFTH RACE-BOSTON MAN, DIT, INCOMING.

The fast-working BOSTON MAN could surprise this afternoon in the Grade B Handicap. With only 109 to carry, the Bostonian colt has much the best of the weights. DIT, with 126 to carry, is in rare form. Led most of the way in the McLennan and should place here. IN-COMING also is a stout possi-

BRIGHT GAY has two good wins to his credit and qualifies as the main contender. GREE-DAN is very honest and seldom runs a bad race.

SEVENTE RACE - LITCH-FIELD, OFF SHORE, CHAR-

ITABLE. Going back to February 11 we find a corking good race that LITCHFIELD ran on that date behind Lassator. He was bumped at the start and was finally beaten about a length for all the money. OFF SHORE might hold on better today and should hold the balance of the field. CHAR-ITABLE is consistent.

EIGHTH RACE-HADAMOON. LADY INFINITE, FRENCH

ing HADAMOON appears to have been dropped in the right spot in the final. The Hadagal filly has the speed to go the front and the result should not even be close. LADY INFINITE has been working well for some time. FRENCH TRAP with two wins cannot be ignored.

Violators Will Get Off With Warning Except In Flagrant Cases

Residents of nearby Maryland and Virginia who violate the blackout tonight will be warned rather than arrested, according to civilian defense officials.

Although there is a county ordinance providing a fine not to exceed $50 or 30 days in jail for blackout violators, Albert E. Brault, executive director of the Montgomery County Civilian Defense Council, said arrests will be made only where violation of the blackout.

Anyone permitting a light to be shown during the 10-hour blackout period will be warned by the airraid warden in that area, Mr. Brault explained. If the person refuses to extinguish the light, a report will be made by the air-raid warden to his report center and a policeman or auxiliary policeman dispatched to enforce the blackout, he added. Continued refusal to put out the light "probably" will result in arrest, subject, however, to the discretion of the policeman, Mr. Brault

Col. Robert S. Barrett, State chief air-raid warden, is expected to witness the blackout in Montgomery County, the Associated Press reported from Baltimore. A procedure similar to that in Montgomery County will be followed in Prince Georges County, according to J. Robert Sherwood, Civilian Defense Council head in that area. Mr. Sherwood said warrants will be sworn out "only as a last resort" against persons who persist in their refusal to co-operate in the blackout.

The penalty for blackout violators in Hyattsville is a fine ranging from $2 to $25, 25 days in jail, or both. While there is no law covering all of Prince Georges County, several towns have passed ordinances similar to that of Hyattsville.

In this connection, Mayor Floyd B. Mathias of Mount Rainier urged citizens to observe the blckout. He warned that necessary steps would be taken to enforce regulations and to punish "flagrant" violators.

In Arlington County, Police Chief Harry Woodyard said arrests will be made only in cases of "flagrant" blackout violations.

City Manager Carl Budwesky of Alexandria said only outright refusal to observe the blackout will result in arrest. Violators face fines ranging up to $300 or 90 days in jail, he said.

are given, all the regulations provided under the Blackout Act will go in effect, including the right of police and wardens to enter homes or places of business to extinguish

For the blackout practice, traffic will be allowed to move as usual, street and traffic lights will be on and smoking and lighting matches will be allowed on the street.

Also excepted from complying with the blackout are Federal and District buildings, institutions, operations and equipment although some effort will be made to turn out unnecessary lights.

Navigation lights and aids to navigation, driving lights on vehicles, lights on military equipment, terminal and other lights customary for the normal operation of railroad and bus transportation, lights customary for the normal operation of public utilities and industrial plants engaged in essential war activity are also excepted from this order.

Feeding Unit Members to Report. Homes, office buildings, movie houses, apartments, hotels, restaurants and similar private enterprises are all included under the blackout regulations. In addition to the air-raid wardens, members of the emergency feeding and housing corps will report to their church headquarters at 8 p.m. for an hour's duty. The scramble for blackout materails climaxed last night when many residents spent hours tacking up dark shades in preparation for tonight's practice. In a number of communities, wardens were called to meetings for last-minute instructions on their responsibilities during the blackout

Officials expect to make an accurate determination of the extent to which the Capital's residents have gone in preparing for blackouts by touring through the city for an hours during the evening.

The Commissioners, national Office of Civilian Defense officials; members of the Senate District Committee and a corps of inspectors will make the tour, starting from the District Building at 9 p.m. and returning an hour later to report their findings and summarize the problems still to be met through fature blackout practices.

Acid Indigestion Wavell Sent to India, Dutch to Command Fight for Indies

No Change in Strategic Policy Is Involved, Statement Asserts

By the Associated Press.
In Java's most desperate hour the Dutch took over supreme command of the fight for the Indies today after the United Nations acknowledged that Japanese successes had split the Allied front in the South Pacific, creating a grave threat to British India.
The removal of Sir Archibald Wavell as commander in chief in the Indies and his return to his former post as commander in chief in India was pointed evidence that the Allies expected the enemy drive through Burma to assume more formidable proportions.

The shift in commands, disclosed here by the Army and Navy in a joint statement, was not considered an indication of any sudden worsening of the situation in Java. On the contrary, the belief was that Gen. Wavell had transferred his headquarters to Burma before the Jananese opened their assault on Java. The joint Army-Navy statement made plain that the move meant no change in plans for "general co-ordination of strategic policy," but had been taken for tactical considerations.

"After the loss of Malaya," it explained, "and the entry of the Japanese into Sumatra, which separated Burma from the Netherlands East Indies, it was agreed that command of land, sea and air forces of the United Nations in the Netherlands importance, and the demands for income for tax and other legal pur-East Indies should pass to the Dutch, protection within continental United poses. In the case of large incomes who are continuing to receive all States are piling up in a forbidding the tax is much cheaper if paid by available assistance from the United manner. This is a question of pub- two people in this manner than if Nations."

There was a hint that the Wavell transfer might have political as well as military significance, for well-informed sources in London believed it could foreshadow a British offer can people have the courage and of dominion status to India.

Gen. Wavell, one of the most respected Allied generals, was regarded as a man who could make the most of the upsurge of national feeling that would result in India and make it a fighting force. Gen. Wavell, now 58, is rated as a brilliant strategist, who prefers the unorthodox and daring to traditional tactics. In the fall of 1940, in Northern Africa, he struck lightning blows at Italy's Army and his men overran half of Libva. Took Control of Iran.

In the spring Gen. Wavell shifted a large number of his men from Libya to meet a German invasion of Greece, only to have the Germans chase the British from both Greece

It was assumed that he remained putation (heretofore a major issue) as deputy commander under the new Dutch chief.

(The Army-Navy statement did not name the Dutch chief who would take over the command. Jonkheer Alidius Tjarda van Starkenborgh-Stachouwer is governor general of the Netherlands Indies and Lt. Gen. Hein ter Poorten is in command of Dutch land forces.) India's defense bulks large in the global strategy of the United Na- manufacturers' sales prices. Other nese would have to traverse if they tried to join hands with any synchronized Axis drive through the telephone and telegraph service, oil, Near East. An ambitious pincers beer, wines, distilled spirits, transmovement of such huge proportions is not excluded as a possibility.

However, while the United Nations still were forced to fight holding actions, except in Russia, there was official assurance that preparations for offensive operations of an important character were being pushed with all possible speed.

Admiral Ernest J. King, commander in chief of the United States Fleet, and Gen. George C. Marshall, United States Army Chief of Staff, both declared yesterday that the armed forces were getting ready to carry the fight to the foe.

Admiral King, in one of the few statements he has made since he took charge of the fleet, told the Nation not to expect miracles, but reported that "an all-out effort is being made in the unspectacular but vitally essential task of establishing our sea and air communications."

"Appropriate measures are being taken," he went on, "to strengthen the key points of these communications, with a view to developing an offensive, which slowly but surely, will gain scope and power as we gain strength, through the production of aircraft, ships and guns. "Currently, therefore, the United States fleets are carrying on with the basic idea to 'do more than your best with what you've got.' This means to take and make every opportunity to harass and damage the portunity to harass and damage the same and the same an portunity to harass and damage the enemy, while building soundly for his ultimate defeat."

Enormous Amount of Work. Once communications have been established and assured, it was pointed out, the Army can proceed with what Gen. Marshall called "the business of carrying the war to the enemy." This day may be 6 or 12 months away, experts estimated, but they did not consider such a time lapse excessive, considering the immensity of the work incidental to mounting a world-scale offensive. "The time has now come when we must proceed with the business of carrying the war to the enemy, not permitting the greater portion of our armed forces and our valuable material to be immobilized within continental United States," Gen. Marshall said in a letter written to Senator Austin, Republican, of Vermont in connection with the $32,-767,000,000 war supply bill. "The enemy, calculating on public reactions, is undoubtedly employing submarines close in shore for the purpose of restraining our efforts to engage our planes and ground troops, so far as practicable, offensively in distant theaters. "Further, I feel that we must expect isolated air raids of a few planes directed against us for no other purpose than to create a public reaction which will adversely affect the sound military purpose of defending America by purpose of defending the defendance of the defendance fending America by engaging and WATCH, man's, open face: 10th and G

Deck Guns Return Fire Of U-Boat Barely Visible in Darkness

By the Associated Press:

SAN FRANCISCO, March 3 .-Alert seamen, who manned the newly installed-deck guns of the today toasted a moral victory Wright Johnson and F. L. Sandoz, over a Japanese submarine in reported since the arming of merchantmen began:

The underseas craft, presumably Japanese, fired on the modern Standard Oil Co. vessel without warning late Saturday night. Unhit, the tanker replied in kind. Deck guns blazed away at the assailant, barely visible in the darkness.

Whether the submarine was hit was not known. Naval patrol planes could find no trace of it when they reached the scene.

Freighters and tankers, armed and unarmed, have been sunk or badly damaged by torpedoes before their crews could drop lifeboats or aim cannon, but this was the first reported instance in which a United States merchantman had fought back and driven off the attacker.

The engagement, announced late yesterday by the 12th Naval District, occured close to shore about 30 miles below San Francisco. All radio stations were ordered off the air for a half hour to prevent the enemy from taking navigation bearings.

It was the second attack by gunfire in California waters in five days. A big submarine shelled oil company property near Santa Barbara February 23 with scant damage and no casualties. It was the first raid on West Coast shipping since last December, when underseas craft attacked nine ships in six days, sinking one and damaging

He appended to his list the $7,000,000 project which Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. is starting in Alexandria.

Following his testimony the argument with Mr. Wilkes took place. Daniel Quigley, regional director of United Construction Workers (C. I. O.), sent a letter to Warner Gardner, labor solicitor, in which he said that it would be useless for him to attend the hearing. Mr. Quigley's letter read in part:

"I fail to see where the organization which I represent could be interested in this hearing, owing to the fact that for more than two years my organization has offered solution to the problem you are now confronted with only to be opposed and rejected by a so-called stabilization agreement entered into by Sidney Hillman of the O. ## Immediate Speedup In Arms Production Ordered by Nelson

W. P. B. Chief Outlines Four-Point Plan to Boost Output 25 Pct.

By the Associated Press.

An immediate speedup in arms production to an output even greater than President Roosevelt's goal was ordered today by War Production Chief Donald M. Nelson.

Stressing the desperate urgency of the war situation, Mr. Nelson called for around-the-clock production to boost output 25 per cent on all existing machines and launched a 4-point promotion campaign for full labor-management co-operation. Four-Point Plan.

As outlined by the production chief in a radio address over the blue network last night, the campaign involves: 1. Establishment of joint labormanagement committees in each war plant to direct production "up to and beyond the President's 2. Assignment of production quogreater production" 4. Speeches and other reports, by soldiers and sailors who use the weapons, to the workmen who build

TRANSPORTATION TO PRODUCTION

Without materials, parts, machinery and tools, industry cannot meet our Nation's demands for armament, munitions and supplies. Dependable transportation must be welded to production so that everything industry requires will be on hand when needed.

Union Pacific supplies that vital need for dependable transportation. Over its "strategic middle route," planned by Abraham Lincoln to connect the East with the West, gigantic locomotives haul not only vast shipments of industrial materials but also the finished products flowing out of production and assembly plants. We're keeping 'em rolling to "keep 'em flying."

Russians Attacking On Unprecedented Scale, Nazis Say

Reds Reported Massing Great Force on Front To Revitalize Drive

By the Associated Press. BERN, Switzerland, March 3 .-Soviet troops are massing in prodigious force all along the Russian front for a revitalized drive and have already instituted attacks "on a scale not hitherto reached in the war," German military spokesmen say.

The Berlin correspondent of the Zurich newspaper Die Tat stated that the U.S.S.R. obviously was starting "a fantastic effort to bring (Similar accounts developed in Stockholm, although the Berlin correspondent of the Stockholm newspaper Dagens Nyheter said the German spring offensive was prepared and when it opens "the forces will not be spared.

(German propagandists naturally have some motive in authorizing circulation of bearish statements. It may be to brace the Axis peoples for new reverses already in the making. More likely, perhaps, it is to screen some fresh German activity or to take the edge off urgent appeals by Russia to Britain and the United States for opening of a second front by implying she is winning the campaign alone. Reports originating in Berlin quarters said Nazi aerial scouts had seen great columns of fresh Soviet soldiers moving up; that many 52-ton tanks and long-range guns had been thrown into intense assaults on German positions in the Donets Basin and the Crimea

The Die Tat dispatch said Red Army troops attacked in 40 or 50 waves in some sectors, striking unhesitatingly regardless of their casualties. Siberian units were singled out in comment for their "almost unbelievable stubbornness.'

German airmen are compelled to concentrate wholly on attacks against Soviet communications, the dispatch said.

Moscow announcements indicate, however, that a major effort of German squadrons just now is to ferry supplies to the 16th Army men encircled in the Staraya Russa sector. The Soviet Information Bureau declared that "during March 1 we destroyed 77 planes" aloft or aground while losing only 8.

238 Nazi Planes Claimed.

Soviet Russian forces destroyed 238 German planes between February 20 and 28, the Soviet Bureau of Information reported today. The Russians acknowledged the loss of 62 planes in that same period.

Of the total 137 German planes were brought down in air battles, 9 were shot down by anti-aircraft fire and 92 were destroyed on enemy airdromes, the report said.

The bureau's midday communique said 12 more fortified and inhabited localities, which were not identified, were captured by units operating on the western and southern fronts

Red Attacks Repulsed In Crimea, Nazis Claim

BERLIN (From German Broadcasts), March 3 (AP).-German troops have repulsed strong, tanksupported Russian assaults on the Crimea and in the Donets Basin across other sectors, the high command said today.

The high command acknowledged, however, that the fighting in the southern zones was bitter. "Big fires were caused at Kerch tacks," its communique said.

On other sectors of the winter front numerous Red Army attacks were frustrated, the high command

"Our own offensive operations resulted in local successes," it added.

Md.

The fight for anti-strike legislation for the period of the war may flare up again soon on the Senate floor. Senator Connally, Democrat, of Texas said today he will seek the first opportunity to call up his long-pending measure to enable the Government to take over plants where tie-ups are threatened, freeze open or closed shop conditions and provide for mediation of wage

"The Army, Navy and Maritime Commission want my bill," the Texan said. "It is what they need to carry on an uninterrupted production program. It was reported favorably from the Judiciary Committee, 12 to 2, and I think the Senate should be given a chance to vote on it.'

Senator Byrd, Democrat, of Virginia a few days ago chided the Senate Education and Labor Committee for delaying action on laborcontrol provisions voted by the House early in December

Indications are, however, that efforts to introduce labor legislation at this time will be met by the argument from administration forces that the new War Labor Board should be given more time to work out a definite policy.

Essential Stocks at End Of 1941 Declared 30% Higher Than Year Before

LONDON, March 3 .- Public anger over black market profiteering in the midst of Britain's most critical war period was answered today by a government announcement that stringent new regulations and penalties are to be put into operation.

Castigating food racketeers as "a danger to our cause," Maj. Gwilym Lloyd George parliamentary secretary to the Ministry of Food, speaking in the House of Commons, declared that "we are determined that they shall be stamped out." He said details of the new measures would be disclosed soon, and pointed out that the Ministry of Food already employs 800 inspectors and Reporting that Britain's loss of food through ship sinkings had not been "really substantial," he asserted that the nation's essential food stocks at the end of 1941 were 30 per cent higher than at the end

Rations May Be Cut Some. Nevertheless, he said, it may be necessary to reduce existing rations to some extent. Food imports will be reduced, Mai. Lloyd George said, but thanks to the policy of building reserves the nation will be adequately fed. He indicated, however, that rationing would be extended to some foodtuffs now sold without restrictions. The improved food condition, he said, is due to "very substantial United States aid and increased Between May 1, 1941, and January 1942, Britain received lease-lend food approximately equal to one month's imports from all sources. American canned meat comprised

He added that the retail food index figure now was only 25 per cent above September, 1939, the month the war began, having

Brazil Gets 100 Million To Bolster Output of Strategic Materials

Credits for Rubber, Iron, More Lease-Lend Arms Provided in Pacts

By GARNETT D. HORNER,

The United States and Brazil agreed today on the details of a far-reaching co-operative program to stimulate Brazilian production of strategic materials and bolster defenses of the largest country in South America against possible Axis attack.

A series of formal agreements, carrying forward to a new high the practical application of long-standing principles of inter-American solidarity, were signed here by American and Brazilian officials. They

1. A $100,000,000 credit from the United States Export-Import Bank to assist in a program for "the mobilization of the productive resources of Brazil.'

2. Expanded assistance in the form of American military equip-ment to Brazil under the Lease-Lend Act.

2. Establishment of a $5,000,000 fund by the United States Rubber Reserve Co, to be used in collab-oration with the Brazilian government in developing rubber produc-tion in the Amazon Valley and adjacent regions, the rubber to be purchased by the Rubber Reserve Co. for at least five years.

"Answer to Hitlerism." 4. Assistance from the United States Metals Reserve Co. in the development of the Itabira Mining Properties and the Victoria-Minas Railroad, with arrangement for the resulting production of high-grade iron ores to go to the United States and Great Britain. A total of $14,-000,000 was to be earmarked for completion of the railroad. Signing of the agreements was described by Acting Secretary of State Welles as "one of the concrete answers of Brazil and of the United States to Hitlerism and the other declared enemies of the liberties of the Americas, of Christian civilization and of mankind itself." The first three agreements were signed at the State Department by Mr. Welles, Carlos Martins, Brazilian Ambassador, and Dr. Artur de Souza Costa, Brazilian Minister of Finance, who has been negotiating here for several weeks. Dr. de Souza Costa, officials of the Export-Import Bank and the Metals Reserve Co., and British Ambassador Lord Halifax signed the agreement concerning the Brazilian mining and railroad development. The British signature was needed, it was explained, because that country will receive much of the iron ore production.

43 years old He contracted tuberculosis after being placed in an officers' prison camp following his surrender in

The Duke of Aosta was a brawny, unconventional member of the Italian royal family, the only prominent person in the House of Savoy who continued to be an ardent supporter of Premier Mussolini and his Fascist regime.

The duke's father was one of the first to support Mussolini when Il Duce first began organizing the Blackshirts and because of this the duke almost was given a chance to become King of Italy.

Mussolini once thought he might be able to break the line of direct succession to the crown in favor of the handsome, 6-foot-tall Aosta. He wanted that especially because the more restrained and more intellectual Crown Prince Umberto had a definite dislike for Mussolini. But 1898. the conventional King Victor Emmanuel opposed any change and won on the point of Umberto remaining Crown Prince.

Won Out Over King.

Aosta won once against the King when he wanted to succeed Marshal Rodolfo Graziani in 1937 as Viceroy of Ethiopia. The King did not want the House of Savoy involved too much in the Italian victory over Haille Selassie's kingdom until it was determined whether Mussolini's conquest was to be permanent. As subsequent events proved, the King was canny in this, but the Fascist Grand Council decided otherwise.

There was no question about it being a distinct honor when Aosta was made Viceroy of Ethiopia; he was later to leave as a prisoner of the British Army which restored Emperor Haile Selassie to his throne in Addis Ababa.

There was no talk, such as there was when Italo Balbo was "exiled" to be Governor of Libya.

Three U-Boats' Attack On Freighter Likened To Target Practice

39 Aboard Marore, Torpedoed in Atlantic, Reach Norfolk Safely

NORFOLK, March 3.-The 39 man crew of the American freighter Marore reached port safely Friday 24 hours after their 8,214-ton ore carrier had been riddled and sunk by a torpedo and 100 shells from three Axis submarines, the Navy announced yesterday.

The ship, owned by the Ore Steamship Co. of New York, was northbound with 23,000 tons of ore when she was attacked off the Middle Atlantic Coast.

Capt. Charles E. Nash, Dundalk, Md., said the freighter had been running without lights but switched on mast and running lights just before the attack to avoid possible collision with two other ships sighted nearby. The ship was abandoned 10 minutes after the torpedo struck. It wrecked the radio antenna so no call for aid could be given.

Crew members said the three submersibles, forming a rough triangle, then blasted away at the ship for nore than an hour. Shells Bounce About Crazily. "It looked like target practice," said Howard Bock, first assistant engineer, Baltimore, adding that tracer shells bounced crazily about on the surface of the ocean.

The bronzed 42-year-old captain couldn't keep a tinge of sadness out of his voice when he told newsmen that he had wished to "stay close enough" to see his ship take its death dive, but that they had to pull away "because things were too hot around there."

"The shells going over our heads sounded like freight trains," was the way Radio Operator Christopher W.

Core, Richmond, described it. Deck Engineer Pat Ryan, 23, Savannah, said the men in his lifeboat sent up distress flares on sighting a ship Friday morning, but the ship "passed up our signal." ### Blackout Will Not Halt D. C. Welfare Services

Tonight's blackout will not halt the welfare services and activities normally carried on after nightfall by 31 Community Chest agencies.

The Eastern Branch of the Boys' Club of Washington will close before 8 p.m., but the Central and Georgetown Branches will be open as usual. Settlements remaining open are Barney Neighborhood House, Christ Child Settlement, Friendship House, Georgetown Children's House, Juanita Kaufman Nye Council House and Southeast Community House.

Infants among the 600 children sheltered in Chest-supported institutions will get their 10 p.m. feeding as usual, prepared in the lightsheltered kitchens of St. Ann's Infant Asylum, Florence Crittenton Home. Washington Home for Foundlings and the Children's Country Home. It will be "lights out" at 8 p.m. for 400 older children in other "homes away from home." which include the Episcopal Home for Children, St. Joseph's Home and School, St. Rose's Technical School and St. Vincent's Home and School. For the first time at the Christ Child Home for Convalescent Children no lights will gleam from its hilltop site near Rockville tonight.

Staff members of the two Y. M. C. A.s and the two Y. W. C. A.s are prepared to mask all lights in lobbies, swimming pools and gymnasiums, as well as in dormitories, washrooms and halls.

Make It a Success

A clear understanding of the purpose of tonight's blackout may help to produce the 100 per cent cooperation from property owners which will make it a success. In blacking out your home this evening, forget air-raid alarms. For the type of blackout ordered for tonight is not necessarily connected with airraid alarms. If you hear the raid sirens tonight it will be the real thing. Tonight's blackout, which is experimental and for training purposes only, may be followed this spring by the real thing. And the real thing might be prompted, for instance, by news of enemy airplane carriers in the Atlantic, not necessarily by the report of enemy planes on the horizon.

It is entirely conceivable that the whole East Coast of the United States may be blacked out for weeks at a time later on. In preparation for that possibility, property owners must forget the thought of merely turning out lights during a raid alarm. They must be able to adjust their living at home, and the conduct of normal business operations in their offices, under blackout conditions over an extended period-with or without actual air-raid alarms. Whether one likes it or not, the time has come in Washington to get down to the serious business of real blackout preparations. If tonight's experiment is successful, there will be less need to repeat it.

The Federal departments have made little preparation and will not be able to take part in the trial The same thing-with a few exceptionsis true of the District government buildings. This is not merely unfortunate, it is most reprehensible. Officials should set an example for the people and not be laggard. The next blackout should find the Government and District buildings as well prepared as the citizens. It should not find the brilliantly lighted public buildings mocking, by their disregard, the whole purpose of the

Free French Oceania

The arrangement made by our Government with the Free French authorities in France's South Pacific colonies is an important step in assuring our sea communications in that part of the world. Those colonies were among the first to espouse the movement headed by General Charles de Gaulle after the collapse of France in the summer of 1940, and they have worked in harmonious cooperation with Britain and her dominions ever since. Locally, therefore. America's agreement to help defend these colonies and to deal exclusively with the Free French authorities there is an act both logical and mutually beneficial to all parties concerned. A glance at the map of the Pacific Ocean instantly reveals the strategic importance of French Oceania, which consists of two widely separated possessions. Of primal interest is New Caledonia, a large island 250 miles long by 30 miles broad, with an area exceeding that of Massachusetts. It is a veritable treasure house of minerals, especially nickel, but its natural wealth is enhanced by its strategic position only 900 miles from Australia and on the commercial route between Australia, Hawaii and the United States. With Japan overrunning the Solomon Islands, less than a thousand miles to the northward, there has been an increasing danger that the Japanese might try an invasion of New Caledonia. American aid had thus become imperative. The other portion of French Oceania is an island-studded block of ocean about 1,000 miles square, far out in the South Pacific, the bestknown island groups being the Marquesas and Society archipelagoes with far-famed Tahiti as the center of authority. While not immediately exposed to Japanese attack, this French possession lies on the direct route between the Panama Canal and Australia, which is another important line of communication across the Pacific and hence needs to be safeguarded

By recognizing the Free French authorities in Oceania as being "in effective control" there, Washington has taken no new diplomatic step. It has dealt similarly with the Free French authorities in Central Africa, who also support General de Gaulle. This is what diplomacy terms "de facto" recognition-an acknowledgment of existing politcial enditions for practical purposes. It does not mean any lessening or impairment of our "de jure" recognition of the Vichy government in France of the Vichy government? Why did they discontinue the column by Dorothy gid ground, but we will regain it. We discontinue the column by Dorothy gid ground, but we will regain it. We discontinue the column by Dorothy gid ground, but we will regain it. We discontinue the column by Dorothy are daily increasing our strength. Soon of the Vichy government? Why did they discontinue the column by Dorothy are daily increasing our strength. Soon of the Vichy government in France of the Vichy government? Why did they discontinue the column by Dorothy are daily increasing our strength. Soon of the Vichy government in France of the Vichy government in Fr and in those French colonies which are under Vichy control.

Yet, while the diplomatic situation may be unchanged in its technical aspect. Washington's closer and more extensive dealings with the Free French regime may well have indirect effects upon our relations with Vichy, which are in an admittedly tense state, especially owing to American fears about the French fleet. The Vichy government has just assured Washington that it does not intend to permit the use of the fleet for unneutral purposes, but Vichy is under such severe Axis pressure and has made so many concessions to Axis demands that our Government is frankly skeptical about the future. It has therefore acted in a way which cannot give Vichy legitimate cause for protest or offense.

Free Men vs. Slaves

Donald Nelson's address to the workers and managers of American industry, in sporting parlance, comes under the head of a "fight" talk-and a good one. But it raised a number of questions which were left unanswered.

The War Production Board chairman dealt primarily with the critical character of the remaining ten months of this year, with the decisive influence which American production during this period will have on the course of the war. The 304 days that lie immediately ahead, he declared, "can shape the whole course of history for a thousand years. Is it not then worth while to give up all else but war and production for war during those 304 days?"

Mr. Nelson then went on to call attention to specific moves designed to enlist the full co-operation of management and labor in the production drive-moves such as the setting up of joint managementlabor committees in each plant engaged in primary war production, the assigning of production schedules to each primary producer and the introduction of a competitive element into the task, a system for giving awards of merit to outstanding "production soldiers," and a plan to have Army and Navy men report directly to war workers on the manner in which their product has performed at the fighting fronts.

There can be no complaint, certainly, against any of these steps. The picture which Mr. Nelson has sketched for the coming year is a grim one, and anything which seems likely to stimulate production of arms for our combat units is worthy of encouragement.

But might it not also be helpful if

Mr. Nelson, or some one in authority. were to discuss in detail the specific reasons for the present deficiency in our production effort? Mr. Nelson said he was confident that our production could be increased by 25 per cent with our existing equipment. Why has it not been done? Is management falling down on the job? Is it afraid to expand its output for fear of post-war consequences? Or perhaps the fault lies with labor. If figures of the National Association of Manufacturers are to be accepted as correct, man hours lost to strikes in February increased by 206 per cent over the time lost for the same reason in January. Are these strikes -or slowdowns-at the root of our trouble? Maybe the responsibility must be shared jointly by both management and labor, but, in any event, why not state the facts instead of dealing in generalities which wear so thin with repetition? It is interesting to note that Mr. Nelson laid considerable stress on the production picture in Germany and Japan, where both management and labor are on a basis of virtual slavery. "Both," he said, "upon pain of death, must do exactly what they are told and exactly as much as they are told. They are actually slaves. That is what we are up against—a Germany and Japan whose production is at its peak. So, I ask you-all of you free men and free women-can we

There is but one inference to be drawn from this language—that we are not beating it now. We have been assured upon high authority in the past—and perhaps have taken that assurance too literally—that the production triumph of free labor and free management over slave labor and slave management is inevitable. But Mr. Nelson seems to raise a doubt on that score—a doubt not as to whether we can do it, but as to whether we will do it.

This is the first of several "tough" talks that Mr. Nelson proposes to make. Perhaps he will get even "tougher" in his subsequent discussions and let the country have the facts as to why it is not getting—and getting now-the volume of production which he says is essential to

What Goes On Here?

"We didn't wait for some one to give us the money—we went out and did the job ourselves."

Thus began a Star news story of the construction, by neighbors, of an air-raid shelter in a nearby Maryland community. With their own hands they cut down trees, hauled them to the school and built their log barricades.

What sort of thing is going on here? As they must realize, the fathers who worked together in this community undertaking are completely out of step with the times. Why did they fail to ask money from he county, or the State, or the

Why did they fail to hire assistants, at the taxpayers' expense, and obtain an appropriation with which to hire laborers, at the highest of "prevailing wage rates" established by the Department of Labor, to do the work? Why, after setting up an organization of job-holders, did they not hire a public relations man, equip him with secretaries and mimeograph machines, and set him turning out useless "handouts" for the press? Why did they fail to hire social workers to look after the comfort of the children in the air-raid shelters? Why did they fail to provide a complete organization in the name of defense, which would carefully duplicate other community services already established?

Their failure to do these things naturally makes the energetic fathers of Somerset, Maryland, suspect. They must be revolutionaries of some sort. For they are demonstrating selfsufficiency, independence and initiative. They should be looked into.

Organizing for Action

The drastic reorganization of the Army ordered yesterday by President Roosevelt gives force and meaning to General George C. Marshall's declaration to Congress that "the time has now come when we must proceed with the business of carrying the war to the enemy." The streamlining process which already has resulted in conversion of square divisions into triangular, fast-moving, hard-hitting units is to be carried to the top of the Army setup.

Under the new combat organization, to become effective next Monday, America will cut its Army pattern to conform generally with the outlines of the concededly efficient Nazi military machine. Aviation comes into its own as a branch co-equal with the ground forces. Commanding the quasi-independent air forces will be Lieutenant General Henry H. Arnold, now deputy chief of staff for air. All other combat elements of the Army are to be consolidated into a unified ground force, under command of Lieutenant General Lesley J. McNair, now chief of staff of general headquarters. The entire supply system as now constituted, including procurement, food, housing, transportation, administration and personnel, is to be made into a central service of supply, under Major General Brehon B. Somervell, now assistant chief of

One immediate effect of the reorganization will be the virtual abolishment of the positions of chief of infantry, chief of artillery and the like. The major responsibilities of all these branch commands automatically are to be divided among it was found that the average specific the supreme commanders of the air and ground forces and of the service of supply. And it is expected that with the passing of these positions, much of the bureaucratic conflict, confusion and competition for favored treatment which have evoked criticism in the past will have been eliminated, also.

Another encouraging aspect of the shake-up is the fact that the general staff will become a smaller, closely knit unit, with aviation due to be accorded equal representation with the ground forces. The staff will be stripped down to what Secretary Stimson described as a "small, alert, compact, air-ground general staff. composed of but a fraction of the present members." It is but logical that the air forces should have at least fifty-fifty representation on the staff, for aviation man power is fast approaching the total present strength of all the land troops and by the end of next year is scheduled to reach 2,000,000 men-which is some 400,000 more men than the ground forces now have. Both main branches of the new Army will be under supervision of the Chief of Staff, who, in turn, is responsible to the President as Commander in Chief.

It was indicated that further changes of the high command organization may be made-and, significantly, authority is provided for the formation and training of task forces to perform special assignments overseas. It is these task forces, necessarily small at first but eventually growing into formidable offensive organizations, which Admiral King, fleet commander, undoubtedly had in mind when he spoke yesterday of "developing an offensive which slowly but surely will gain scope and power."

Gangsters

One of the many hardships of life in Alcatraz has been the appalling lack of news. Many of its inhabitants do not know even yet that the Chattanooga Choo Choo passes through Baltimore and has diningcar service in Carolina with a breakfast special of ham and eggs. Imagine the feelings of a baseball fan, if deprived of information on how the pennant race was going and who won the series. In the same way. Alcatrazians must hunger for news of the old mob, and often wonder how Red Mike ever made out with that bank job he was casing in Peoria, and whether or not Spike the Slug ever managed to rub out that double-crosser, Louie the Lug. Lest they somehow find out, newspapers are forbidden. Now the ban on gangster news is partially lifted. American exponents of the art still have their activities veiled in official secrecy, but the doings of the European and Asiatic members of the fraternity are released. A condensed war report is posted daily on the bulletin board, and at such times as they have leisure to peruse it, Alcatraz pikers in

Of Stars, Men And Atoms

Notebook of Science Progress In Laboratory, Field And Study

By Thomas R. Henry.

Soon prospective recruits may be "ducked" for the Navy. This proposal is advanced by three naval medical officers headed by Lt. Comdr. A. R. Behnke, authority on deepsea diving, in a report to the American Medical Association.

It is inspired in part by their finding that, under present regulations, 17 out of 25 professional football players would be unable to pass the physical examinations because of being overweightalthough they obviously are in fine physical condition. At present, they point out, the criterion of examining officers is the ratio of height to weight.

They propose, instead, that the criterion be an individual's specific gravity. the ratio of his weight to the amount of water displaced. This is the old principle of the Greek philosopher, Archemedes. It requires that, after weighing on an ordinary scales, the subject "be suspended below the suface of water on a line leading up to a spring scale graduated in ounces. A weighted lead belt maintains negative bouyancy for all types of persons."

The weight in water then is subtracted from the weight in air. The result, after making allowances for residual air in the system, is the specific gravity of the individual.

What the Navy seeks to avoid, it is pointed out in the report, is not overweight, but "overfat." The extra pounds, as in the case of the football players, may be due to sound, hard muscle.

Fat, it appears from their experiments, has a quite low specific gravity. Hence the higher the figure for an individual the better, since it means solidity. The first subjects were 90 healthy sailors between 20 and 40 years of age. Dr. Behnke, together with Lts. B. G. Feen and W. C. Welham, found that the highest specific gravity-1.081 times the weight of water per unit volume-was obtained with men weighing on an average about 148 pounds. The lowest was 1.056 the weight of water for men who averaged 176 pounds. There were, however, striking individual differences. It looked as if the lower the specific gravity the greater the amount of useless fat. They then turned to the professional football players. They chose 25 of the foremost athletes in the United States, nearly all of whom have been all-Americans. They were playing strenuous games at least once a week. Regardless of rules. Lt. Behnke and his colleagues believed it would be absurd to believe that the majority of these men were physically unfit for the hardships of

They weighed an average of 200 pounds each. But when they were suspended in water and the difference calculated gravity was 1.080 times the weight of a similar volume of water. Except for their great muscular strength they probably would make poor swimmers. The gravity figure, almost equal to the highest obtained among the naval personnel, showed that their bodies were made up of material relatively heavy compared with the weight of water. Fat is hardly any heavier.

"On the basis of the standard heightweight tables used by insurance companies and in the military service," they say in their report to the American Medical Association, "17 of these 25 athletes would be considered as not physically qualified for military duty or firstclass insurance risk.

"But of the 17 rejected all-American football players, 11 fall into the group possessing high corporeal specific gravity. According to our classification these 11 men are in prime physical condition, if absence of excessive fat is a criterion of fitness. The type of physical exertion that these men are called upon to make is proof of their sturdy physique, estimated in terms of speed, agility and en-

"We propose, therefore, the classification of men as overweight on the basis of specific gravity of the body mass, using a tentative dividing line of 1.060 (the weight of water) for the elimination of the obese."

means of experiments with goats, at the first clear ideas of the effects of blast Throughout the bombardment of Eng-ish cities there were curious paradoxes. Persons comparatively near a bomb explosion would be unhurt, while others. further away, would be found dead without any visible sign of injury.

There were two possible theories, it was decided. Either the blast acted like a heavy blow on the chest or the shock wave, which had traveled through the nose and mouth, lacerated the bronchial passages and damaged the lungs internally. Goats were equipped with chest protectors which fitted over their bodies, but left their heads and legs exposed. Others had no protection at all. Charges were exploded near them which were fatal to the unprotected, but left those with chest protectors unhurt. In this way it was learned that the effects of blast were the same as those of a heavy blow and could be countered by outside protection, while the theory of internal injury to the lungs had to be dropped.

This is the reason why a strong screen of concrete or brick is placed outside the entrance to air-raid shelters and why it is essential to take any sort of cover while bombs are exploding.

Gives Opinions Of Columnists.

To the Editor of The Star: We wish to congratulate The Star on having two such exceptionally good columnists as Frank R. ## THIS AND THAT

By Charles E. Tracewell.

'Dear Sir:

"Your description of the female cardinal adorned with a diadem of ice recalls a similar observation of mine one early morning. On a bitterly cold winter morning I stood by the window watching the darting shadows that were my juncos, scratching about in the bit of snow-cleared ground by the house. It was still quite dark but slowly the sunlight reached over the ocean and up across the vista and touched the scene before me. As it did so, each tiny head was illumined with prisms of a rainbow diadem. Infinitesimal glory! A Rossetti painting, of utmost charmetraced by the angle of a sunbeam. "Again, it was an early April morning, and, consistent with the New England climate, there had been a light fall of snow during the night. It clung like fluff to each branch and shrub. I stepped out onto the terrace into a world of white, the air soft and fragrant with spring. Up across the vista the sun gleamed, sparkling the scene in myriad jewels, and all through the enchanted land the spring birds singing! It was the fairyland of childhood dreams ethereal and fleeting. * * * *

"Of all such memories of momentary charm in a bird's world there was one which spoke most tenderly. It was Easter morning and unable to sleep for the new grief which lay upon my heart I arose to watch the dawn-in a way to meet the day before it was too sharply upon me.

"In the east a faint rosy band streaked the rim of ocean's horizon. I turned to the west window looking into the forest with its mystery of moonlight shadows and the gold of the moon still filling the quiet garden pool.

"Then, in the peace and stillness, first low and whispering, then in the fullness of glorious song, from a leaning bough above the golden pool, a thrush poured out his soul to mine. Calm and sure, the beauty and the promise rang like bells of heaven and Easter dawned on the wings of song.

"'To grasp the moment and see it clearly,' as you say; they come so unexpectedly and make a heart's treasure. "Very truly yours, "D. D. F."

This correspondent will be glad to know that on Easter morning the western meadow larks can be heard singing from Colorado.

When this service goes on the air from the Garden of the Gods, the larks are a part of it.

They sing right along with the services, to the infinite glory of the Creator. This annual Easter broadcast, with the beautiful bubbling song of the meadow larks, reminding hearers of our Eastern robins, is a treat for all bird

The birds are excellent radio performers. They are in "good voice" all the time, yet at no time striking anything but a happy note, in keeping with the message of Easter morning.

Often such pictures never get beyond the heart which treasures them. What difference does it make?

Most men and women are artists, at heart, though they never utter a word. That is why they like artistic presentations, in words and colors, over the air and in the treater; they are able to recognize them at their full worth, because they have seen just such things themselves.

The artist merely puts into being what they already know. Walt Whitman said that to have great poets, we must have great readers, too. That was what he meant.

Our National Capital is noted, among other things, for its beautiful sunsets. All newcomers to our streets should watch out for them. It is an odd thing that one is able to see more fine sunsets in the city than in the nearby suburbs. We do not know why this is, but believe it to be true. When living in Georgetown, of happy memory, we often saw sunsets to take the breath away, if one were given to loss of breath over such sights, which one usually isn't, of course; that is just an old way of putting it, from times when it was thought to be fashionable to lose one's breath in such a positive manner.

Most of the homes in this section are low, and the skyline is easily seen. It is essential to see the horizon, or at least close to it, for the best of these pictures in golds, crimsons, purples, pinks, lavender; then there is often a mixture resulting which is unbelievable, at least would be if one saw it on an artist's canvas. "A picture no artist can paint"-truly enough, because if he were to paint it, nobody would believe him. This is the best thing an artist does, to put into words or on canvas something which we would not believe ordinarily. He stands close to the priest, in this respect.

We remember a dove on an icy branch right outside the window. It flew down suddenly, and remained there for a long time, presenting a vision of pink and gray against the black stub of a dead branch, coated with ice. Then there was the time the two blue jays got after Quincy, the yellow cat, high in a tree. The color effect of those flashing birds, against the yellow stripes of the cat, was magnificent.

Just the other day we were passing an ordinary prosaic bush close by a sidewalk.

In the shrub sat a male cardinal and a song sparrow. They were about three feet apart, facing each other, and singing away, first one, and then the other answering. Both birds had decided it was spring. Each song was different from the ordinary winter singing of these fine

And Other Grievances.

To the Editor of The Star: As a rule, Washingtonians, especially natives, endure without complaint, verbal or written, the erratic actions and behavior of some of our officials, both national and municipal. But the sorry spectacle the present city Commissioners make of themselves on the slightest provocation is almost beyond belief, even to a native, used to anything and everything. To mention a few recent occurrences the one to keep unheated schoolhouses open all night, at first with women teachers on the job, certainly was a most dangerous proceeding in this crimeridden city, and the only explanation ever given was "to keep the lines of communication open," whatever that may

There are dozens of Englishmen or mission in this city today who would have been competent and glad to give them advice and assistance on air-raid sirens, practical knowledge gained through sad experience, but no, they rush in and order first one thing, then another and the city is about where it was three months ago in this respect.

Now we are due for a 10-hour blackout tonight, next to the schoolhouse order probably the most asinine performance yet, in my opinion. Wonder what next? Better get ready for another H. R. HARRISON. shock soon.

To the Editor of The Star: The die, it seems, is cast and we, the helpless denizens of the District of Columbia, will have to submit to the 10-hour blackout decreed by our rulers. Why a 10-hour blackout, even if a partial one, with other like affictions to come, our power-proud officials sayeth not. They have the power and seemingly they propose ruthlessly to exercise it.

What if such a decree result in serious discomfort to whole families, even dangers? Like good and obedient citizens, we are not even to question, much less to criticize, but supinely to obey. What about the 400-odd Government offices "unequipped to work during blackouts," practically all of them engaged on our war effort? What about the tens of thousands of employes let out from Government and private workshops about the time the blackout starts blindly to grope their way in dimly lighted eating places and then to their unlighted homes? What about the many wardens and assistants doomed after a hard day's work to stand a 10-hour vigil, without even a thank you?

A one-hour blackout, repeated if necessary weekly, would serve the purpose to make us aware that a war is on. It also would serve to equip us with at least the mental experience to meet the real thing. But that, possibly, would be letting us subject people off too easy.

Proposes Living Quarters Adjacent to Government Offices.

To the Editor of The Star: The writer suggests as a possible solution of existing traffic and housing problems of Government employes in Washington that temporary dormitories, or apartment buildings, be built adjacent to the office buildings in which they work.

Cafeterias now operated in the office buildings could be moved in toto to these residence buildings. The short walk at noon would give much needed and I believe welcome relaxation. ### Ruling Curbs Closed Shop As Issue

Holds Workers Must Specifically Allow Raising of Question

By DAVID LAWRENCE. Basic among the causes of labor unrest today is the growing demand for the closed shop, which has back of it many years of controversy Hence, it is interesting to note the rather sensational decision which has just been rendered by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals on the Pacific Coast bearing on that very issue. The opinion, if sustained by the Supreme Court. will materially David Lawrence. change the conceptions which have prevailed heretofore as to the manner in which the Wagner Act allegedly sanctions the closed shop.

Rendered by Judges Denman, Mathews and Stephens, the decision constitutes a milestone in labor relations litigation and may conceivably do much to prevent the closedshop issue from being raised as often in tthe future as it has in the past. Judge Denman, who wrote the opinion, is an outstanding liberal and was appointed to the bench by President Roosevelt. He has been mentioned from time to time for possible appointment to the Supreme Court.

Judge Denman rules that just because a union has a majority in a plant and claims the right to bargain collectively by reason of an election or a designation through membership cards, the same union committee or organization does not necessarily possess the right to bargain specifically for a closed shop. To make a closed-shop agreement, the court says, and to have it recognized as not unlawful under the Wagner Act, it is necessary for the workers specifically to authorize their bargaining representatives on that very point.

Two Bases for Opinion. This view Judge Denman derives not merely from a reading of the text of the Wagner law. He says that even if the plain words of the act did not require it, "a consideration of the many different objectives for which laborers may self-organize necessitate such a construction" of the law. He declares:

"It is therefore necessary that in proceedings before the National Labor Relations Board, the party having the burden of proof of a closed-shop agreement must show. as at the time such contract is made, either (1) that a specific designation or selection has been made by each laborer in the claimed majority, of the union as his agent for such bargaining, or (2) that he is a member of an organization having a membership of the majority of the employes which is created as an agent of its members to bargain for a closed shop, and that when he joins, ipso facto, he has 'designated or selected' it to Board in one or two cases has apbe such agent, and that his membership continued up to the time the closed shop contract was made." What the foregoing really establishes is that while a worker may designate a union to bargain for question. him with respect to wages, hours or other working conditions, he does not automatically delegate to some one the right to make a contract recent case insisted that individual whose provisions may cause him to authorization was needed because be dismissed from his job by the a union, once it got a closed shop employer. It would appear, therefore, that July.

The Political Mill

Revival of Bickering Gives President Great Opportunity to Effect Victorious Unity matter.

By GOULD LINCOLN.

Nine years ago tomorrow President Franklin D. Roosevelt entered the White House as Chief Executive. They have not been easy years. The country has progressed from a disastrous depression to a war that will require the utmost effort of all Americans. For the first time in the history of the Nation, one man has served as Chief Executive for more than eight years. The problems that Mr. Roosevelt confronts have shifted from domestic and those of peacetimes to problems international and wartimes.

With the war has come the necessity of unity—and yet the domestic problems still knock at the door, with strife as bitter as at any time during the eight years that preceded this year of war. Unless there is a willingness on the part of the various groups that make up the country to forget temporarily, at least, selfish aims, the hope for unity is dim. Immediately after Pearl Harbor, there was a spirit of unity that seemed on the way to give this country a solid front. As the weeks have passed, however, more and more the tendency has been to fall to bickering again. Properly the President has called for sacrifices on the part of the whole people to win the war. Individually, many of the people are making sacrifices. Many of them have gone into the armed forces, and there, indeed, the sacrifices are real. But when it comes to the great organized groups-economic and politicalthere has been little hint of sacrifice. Labor, organized labor, has continued to seek only gains for itself. The great agricultural organizations of the country are demanding their share. Industry, turning itself from peace to war, still seeks as great monetary gains as it can have. Political sharpshooting is one the increase. with the congressional elections just around the corner. That goes for Democrats as well as Re-

Foe Fights to Win. This country is engaged in a desperate struggle against two peoples who have been trained for one purpose—to win the war. no matter what the cost. It is true that in neither Germany nor Japan is there freedom as it is known in this country. But they have been prepared for war and they are fighting it with a single purpose in view-to win. As long as the American people expend their energies in fighting one another—instead of the common enemy-such a singleness of purpose will be hard to achieve. This is no claim that all criticism of the administration should cease. Criticism that is constructive, that will help strengthen the war effort, is always desirable. But criticism that is merely for selfish purposes, for selfish gain, is another

The administration itself is not free from the selfish taint. Instead of forgetting its old political hatreds and leading the way to unity, it retains its old grudges. It has still to throw down the barriers and make full use of the abilities of men who have opposed it in the past, men who would like to do their full part in this war effort. There is growing an apparent intention of seeking to make "before Pearl Harbor" the criterion of loyalty to the Government. Men who honestly believed that this country should remain aloof from the war until the Nation was attacked are more and mare being put into a class to be ostracized and to be defeated for public office if they hold elective offices. and not to be taken into the service of the country by appointment.

On the other side of the shield is the willingness of those outside of the administration, those who have been its opponents in the past, to seize upon every opportunity, upon every incident, no matter how trivial, to hold up the present Government to ridi-

Opportunity for President. The President has himself a great opportunity to lead this country to a victorious unity. He is in a position to make use or all the ability and all the strength there is. He can take the lead. Too often today the criticism is that he has moved in this direction only because he has been forced to do so.

It is easy now to criticize the administration because it did not expend the billions of dollars poured out during the days of the depression for national defense. But neither the critics of the administration nor its supporters would have countenanced such expenditures. War seemed far too remote from these shores. To the credit of the President. it must be said that he not only warned the country that with the world at war, this country could not remain aloof, but urged it to prepare. To his credit, too, it must be said that he moved strongly toward upbuilding the Navy-which for years had been allowed to lag on the theory that this country did not intend to be drawn into any future wars in Europe or the Orient. The years when country could have trained its men by the million, and could have supplied itself with the vital war materials and weapons, were allowed to slip by. Today America is engaged in an effort to make itself so strong in a military sense that it cannot only defy, but grasp victory from the strongest military nations beyond our borders. No American doubts that this can be accomplished. It will be accomplished the sooner if and when Americans stop fighting one

While convinced that they could occupy the island by force, the Nipponese realized that the Dutch would allow no section of it to fall into the hands of the enemy in any state of usefulness. Oil wells, refineries, factories, plantations, all are being set

The Japanese and Nazis would like to have Java's precious raw materials immediately. Agents speaking for the Japanese high command are reported to have suggested to the Governor General of the Netherlands Indies that the Dutch give up the fight as hopeless and accept "most honorable conditions" from the commander in chief of the Ninponese forces in the South Pacific.

According to these reports, which reached Washington over the week end, the magnanimous Japanese went so far as to suggest to the high Netherlands officials that British and American forces how fighting with the Durch in Java would be granted free and unhampered exit from the island.

No Quislings in Java.

The Japanese are also reported to have suggested-not officially, of course-that all weapons be surrendered by the Dutch, in return for which the Netherlands Indies troops and their leaders would remain absolutely free under control of the Japanese military. They particularly told the Dutch, according to these reports, that all technicians and engineers would be maintained at their posts and would be permitted to carry on business as usual—with the Axis.

This Japanese effort was doomed to failure: They could find no Quisling to deal with them in the Netherlands Indies. The civil and military authorities in the island did not even bother to answer the Japanese proposals but gave orders to the armed forces to resist to the last man and, wherever the situation appears hopeless, to put the torch to everything.

attempted to protect a mere military establishment-left the Dutch leaders completely cold.

"Honorable" Suggestion. The "honorable" suggestion of the Japanese high command appears to have been conveyed to the Dutch through certain prominent natives. The Governor General and commander in chief of the United Nations forces were told that Great Britain and the United States had let the Netherlands Indies down by failing to send them reinforcements, particularly planes.

In view of Japanese air superiority, these men were told, resistance would mean useless sacrifice of enormous wealth and thousands of lives. Germany, it was said, has complete control over the Netherlands in Europe, and further resistance would deprive the people in the homeland of their investments and comforts.

Forged appeals from men in the Netherlands are said to have been offered to the Governor General as convincing proof that the bulk of the nation under the, Nazi regime in Europe does not want the valuable properties in Java destroyed and that the existing "government" at The Hague is willing to have the fighting cease if honorable conditions could be obtained from the Japanese.

Same Old Nazi Methods.

The old Nazi propaganda methods were applied once Inore. These consisted of describing the Netherlanders as unwitting victims of Britain's and America's selfishness and the small number of British and American troops in the Netherlands Indies was cited as a conclusive proof that these two countries are reluctant to lend any substantial help to their smaller allies.

It is true that some highly placed officials in Java have not been fully satisfied with the assistance the United States and Britain have sent to the Indies. They have accused us in recent weeks of being short-sighted and having failed to heed warnings from Batavia that the Japanese were well prepared and would recklessly attack the South Pa-

These recriminations amounted, however, to a mere family squabble, which was patched up the day the Japanese attacked. As soon as this happened resentment disappeared.

having the citizens hoard.

McLemore-

Scribe Has an Itch

To Hoard Ice Cubes

By HENRY McLEMORE.

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla.-The

Government should publish a list of the articles it doesn't mind

A (artichokes, perhaps) and continuing through Z (zither, posaibly) it should tell the people just how much they can store away without being unpatriotic.

Practically.

Beginning with every citizen in Henry McLemere. this country is a hoarder at heart. There is just enough squirrel blood in all of us to make us want to lav aside a reserve store against possible rainy days to come.

It is a credit to us and to our patriotisin that few if any of us are tucking away things that we soon won't be able to get any more. But, brother, we might as well be honest and admit that we are itch-

I, for one, go 15 rounds with my conscience every day.

Every time I walk into a store and the clerk tells me "We won't be getting this much longer," or "Well, when that's gone there won't be any more," or "That's the last of that," temptation lets me have it right between the eyes.

I came so close to becoming America's No. 1 canned dog food hoarder the other day that it scares me to think about it. It never had occurred to me that the pups and pooches of this country are soon going to have to go back to table scraps because of the tin can shortage. When I learned of this, and the grocer told me he was down to his last two cases of dog delicacies. I had to shut my eyes and recite firmly to myself, "I pledge allegiance to my flag and to the republic for which it stands . . " to keep from buying it all.

When I walked out of the store with the one can I had gone in to buy, I undoubtedly was a finer, stronger man, but it was a narrow squeeze.

I talked to a delicatessen proprietor and he said his customers and their consciences fought a running battle in his place every day.

"They come in to buy a raft of the things that are getting scarce, but more times than not patriotism wins over greed," he said. "Every one knows that spices and canned fish are getting low, among other things, but no one has tried to buy out my stock."

Without detracting one whit from the patriotic feelings of us Americans, I am sure that one of the reasons that there has been so little hoarding, is that hoarding, like your sins, will find you out. If there isn't any tuna fish on Your family will love this new."Chive and Carrot" the market and a man serves a tuna fish salad or sandwich in his home, you very well know how he happened to have it. If six months from now a man breaks out in a rash of new white-wall tires for his car, he won't be able to explain them by saying he picked them off a tree. It will go without saying that he beat the gun and hoarded himself a batch of rubber.

The same goes for clothes. If the rest of us are wearing lapel-less coats and cuff-less pants and a gentleman comes striding by in a new suit covered with cuffs and lapels, we'll know that the only title to give him is that of bestdressed hoarder.

But to get back to my original idea of the Government's listing the things that one may hoard with peace of mind, it would offer all of us natural hoarders an escape. We would have the pleasure of hoarding and building up a secret closet full of items without harming any one.

Personally, I would like to hoard ice cubes if it's all right with Uncle Sam. There never has been a time in my home when there were enough ice cubes. Let guests drop in and, before they have been there 30 minutes, I am either knocking on a neighbor's door or on my way to the ice plant. Think how nice it would be to have three or four closets just filled with ice cubes. (Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

Alaska Highway Plans Pushed, Cartwright Says

Time takes away the edge of grief.
But memories turn back every leaf;
Thoughts return of loving pasts,
Time goes on, but memory lasts.
And while she lies in peaceful sleep
Her memory we shall always keep.
HER LOVING SISTERS AND NIECE. MADDOX. CLARENCE H. In leving memory of our beloved husband and father CLARENCE H. MADDOX, who passed internal rest four years ago today, March 3, 1938.

In our lonely hours of thinking
Thoughts of you are very near:
We who loved you sadly miss you.
At dawn of another year.
HIS LOVING WIFE AND DEVOTED CHILDREN. MARCEY, ELVIN J. In sad but loving remembrance of my husband and our father. ELVIN J. MARCEY, who passed away three years ago today, March 3, 1939. Today recalls the memory
Of the loved one laid to rest.
And those who think of him today
Are the ones who love him best. Ofttimes my thoughts go wandering
To the grave, not far away.
Where lies the sweetest memory
That will never fade away.

The years may wipe out many things, But this they wipe out never. The memory of those happy days When we were all together. Rest in peace, your work is ended, Sweetly sleep, your race is run: You have gone where those who loved you Soon are coming one by one Soon are coming, one by one.

HIS DEVOTED WIFE, SALLY, AND CHILDREN. WYNE, GEORGE E. In loving and sad memory of our husband and father. GEORGE E. WYNE, who passed away four years ago today, March 3, 1938. A loving thought true and tender. Just to show we still remember. WIFE AND DAUGHTER.

Thousands Face Draft.

The government's latest drastic decrees make thousands of Australians liable to a labor draft on army terms and at army pay.

The new wartime edicts were aimed at profiting from the lessons Australia has learned from the war in the Pacific so far-the urgent need for fast, uninterrupted and plentiful production and for precision military co-operation.

These were summarized in yesterday's report of Maj. Gen. Henry bassy. Gordon Bennett, the Australian commander at Singapore who escaped the Japanese. Senator Cites Example Of Parity Price Item In Appropriations Bill

Senator Vandenberg, Michigan Republican, proposed with Democratic support today that President Roosevelt be given the power to veto legislative riders to appropriation bills.

Senator Vandenberg told reportbloc-later abandoned-to attach a be vetoed parity price amendment to a $32,-762,737,900 military appropriations bill demonstrated the need for legislation which would permit the President to knock out individual items or riders in money bills.

"This is the perfect example of the necessity for the so-called item veto," the Michigan Senator de-Van Nuys Seconds Views.

His views were seconded by Chairman Van Nuys of the Senate Judiciary Committee, which has under consideration a resolution by Sen-plish this purpose. Senator Vandenberg said he believed the goal could be reached by passage of a simple law by Congress, but since there was controversy on this point ne advocated taking both routes.

"There is no reason why the President should have to swallow some rider that has no business on bill just because the appropriations measure must be signed," Senator Van Nuys declared.

Assured that the War and Navy Department would not make any purchases of Government-held crop surpluses with the funds involved. Senate farm bloc members abandoned efforts to attach the parity price provision to the huge military measure before it was passed yesterday. ## That Your Family. May Face the Future Unafraid!

KEDUCED to its simplest personal terms, that is what we are fighting for.

The victory will "take winning" but it will be won.

For America is strong . . . strong in red-blooded patriotic men and women ... strong in industrial plants equipped to produce the sinews of war ... strong in financial resources . . . strong in the capacity of our people to work, save and sacrifice . . . and above all else, strong in the will of a free people to keep their freedom.

Another source of national strength is the family security that the American people have built and are continuing to build through life insurance.

This family security is more important today than ever before. It helps to build national morale, and sound morale among Defense Workers and other home folks, as well as among our fighting forces, is essential to victory. The Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States provides $7,607,000,000 of life insurance protection.

Life insurance also serves to strengthen the social and economic fabric of the nation through the unceasing flow of benefit payments. Every hour of 1941 The Equitable paid an average of $23,918 in benefits, a total of $209,000,000.

A life insurance institution is also privileged to aid the war effort by investing in U.S. Government securities and by providing capital to industry to produce needed materials. The Equitable recognizes an obligation on behalf of its policyholders to direct a large part of its funds into Government securities. Between the attack on Pearl Harbor and the year-end, The Equitable acquired $88,500,000 of U.S. Government obligations. Supplementing financial aid to Government, The Equitable has $1,491,500,000 at work in industry and business.

By promoting individual thrift, life insurance is supporting the Government's program for reducing non-essential spending and paving the way for increased war production. Equitable agents last year helped 100,000 persons to establish $306,000,000 of individual life insurance protection.

The protection and cash resources policyholders build through their policies not only help American families withstand financial shocks of the war period but provide a backlog of security to meet post-war readjustments.

Just as every Equitable policyholder will make the utmost possible personal contribution toward our war effort, so the management will work and plan with the one objective that transcends all else-helping America to achieve victory.

There is a story behind every life insurance policy...a story of things deep down in human hearts. The smile of a baby...the tender glaw in the heart of a her...the pride of a father. In reality, these human things are as much a part of the annual report of a great life insurance institution as an accounting of the

"Your Policy," annual report of The Equitable Society, endeavors to capture some of these human things. It also contains practical illustrations of how best to use your present insurance. ## Howard University Praised by Barkley For Race Leadership

Senate Leader Asks Equal Chance for All Citizens in Emergency

One of the main purposes of the Axis powers is to "impose upon all mankind a universal slavery more intolerable than that suffered by the serfs of Russia or the Negroes in America prior to their emancipation," Senator Barkley of Kentucky declared last night in addressing more than 600 persons attending the 75th annual charter day banquet at Howard University.

The Senate majority leader told his audience that men and women of all races should have an equal chance to do their duty during the present emergency, free from prejudice and discrimination.

"We must recognize that without designations of race, color or religion," he said, "men who are compelled to fight or who volunteer to fight to preserve our national integrity and our individual liberties are entitled to work wherever their capacity and their opportunities may come together."

Praises Howard Example.

Asserting that in the present crisis the Negroes of America will do their share, Senator Barkley said Howard University has "set for them an example which will inspire them in the performance of this duty. and the diffusion of high training and education among the Negroes of America is aiding them in its

After emphasizing that Congress since 1829 has voted appropriations to Howard University, Senator Barkley said the "history and accomplishments of this university and the people who have come under its influence have justified the solicitude and determination of the American Government in fostering such an outstanding educational

Speaking of the value of education and equality of opportunity, Senator Barkley said:

"We must recognize that every child born into the world has a right to a fair chance to live amid healthy and wholesome surroundin a world of peace and justice to improve his individual as well as the collective welfare of all the people; we must recognize that men who are required to support the Government with their energies, their earnings or their blood have a right to a fair share and a fair voice in determining the kind of government which they and their fellowmen shall live under.

Offer Selves for Service. "We rejoice that the men and women who constitute the colored portion of our population in America have placed themselves and are placing themselves at the service of their Government. They know what it means to be the victims of injustice. They know what it is to be able to lift their faces toward the rising sun of a greater opportunity under the American flag and the American Constitution, and they know what it will mean if these things are destroyed." ### Advertising Aids War Effort, Censorship Official Declares

NEW YORK, March 3.—The im- dustrial war effort. portance of advertising in the war effort was cited by John H. Sorrells, assistant director of the Office of Censorship, in a letter to the Association of National Advertisers, made public yesterday.

"We believe that the story of the American war effort is one which should be told properly by every media at hand," he said. "American industry will benefit by anything which will help accelerate the tempo of our war accomplishment. Advertising, properly conceived, can help speed the industrial effort as it has in the past been a tremendous factor in promoting the American system of mass production." Declaring that "it is not the desire of the Office of Censorship to diminish the effectiveness of advertising," Mr. Sorrells said:

"The advertiser must realize, of course. Int he shares equal responsibility with the editor and publisher ings, to be educated according to for suppressing information that the his ability to absorb it and to strive enemy could use to inflict damage

HOW CAN I KEEP MY CAR RUNNING FOR THE DURATION OF THE WAR?

AST WEEK in a statement to car owners, we pointed out the responsibility of every American to keep his car fit for necessary driving as part of our essential transportation system. Since then we have received thousands of letters asking,"How can I do this?"

How long the war will last nobody knows, but our government says it will be a long one. So it is wise to budget on that basis. Here's how to do it:

- 1. Tear out the chart in this advertisement and take it to a responsible tire dealer.
- 2. Get his expert estimate of the number of miles left in your worst tire and put this figure down on your chart.
- 3. Decide how long you want to try to keep your car in service. Maybe it is 2 years, 3 years or 4 years. Figure the total number of weeks. Then divide the miles left in your worst tire by the total number of weeks and the result is the amount you can drive each week. Put it down on your Mileage Budget Chart.
- 4. Once a week note your speedometer reading. (Sunday is a good day.) Compare the miles you have driven against your Budget Chart. Put down the amount you are over or under. If over, you must cut down next week. If under, you've got a bonus for emergencies.

Your tire dealer can help you extend the life of your tires to the very last mile by his expert advice and the services he is equipped to render. If you wish other copies of the Mileage Budget Chart, any U.S. Tire Dealer will supply you free; or write to United States Rubber Company, Rockefeller Center, 1230 Sixth Avenue, New York.

Hialeah Fans Hunt Horse With $50,000 Legs

MIAMI, Fla., March 3.—Only a short while back we watched Ben Jones, the Calumet trainer, work out his 47 horses on the ghost track of Santa Anita. There were Whirlaway, Sun Again, Some Chance, well liked for the $100,000 Handicap or the Kentucky Derby.

This coming Saturday was to be the day of the $100,000 test that might have helped to put Whirlaway above Seabiscuit's all-time money mark. That dream ended weeks ago. But it still is the day of the $50,000 Widener, which has no spring competition this year.

The ghost track of Santa Anita, with its 3,000,000 flowers, its orange trees, its snow-capped mountains, its $6,000,000 worth of horses, was the lonesomest sporting spot I ever saw. It is all different at Hialeah.

The atmosphere around Hialeah is rife with the buzz of many voices on one topic. Who'll win the Widener? What horse is equipped with $50,000 worth of legs for Florida's big special? Challedon? Mioland? Market Wise? Alsab? Or some longer shot such as the Big Pebble-Get unbiased opinion of Leo Durocher, Off entry was a year ago?

Wise Money Goes on Market Wise in Widener

As a result of the Widener warmup last Saturday, Market Wise seems | deal of difficulty, providing only sure to be the favored entry with Attention, Mioland, Challedon and War Relic divvying most of the play that might be left. Market Wise not only has the speed and stamina needed, but the even rarer gift of consistency. At least he will be the horse to beat.

Last year Mrs. Anthony Pelleteri's Bay View, a 58-to-1 outsider, took over the $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap, while Eddie Moore's stable at 16-to-1 took charge of the 1-2 spots in the Widener roundup. No wonder thousands are trying to pick some price horse for Satur-

Before leaving the melancholy turf quarters of Santa Anita I was given two tips, before the Florida season approached its peak. One was that Bill Brann's Challedon had come back a long way. The other was that Charley Howard's Mioland had shown much improvement. Even before these two horses appeared at Hialeah, Californians suggested we keep an eye on both. And these tips came from smart trainers when it comes to racing form.

Smart Coast Trainers Couldn't See Alsab

Most of these trainers told me not to do too much limb-crawling in behalf of Alsab, which hadn't developed enough-which hadn't grown enough. They also gave me a list of star 2-year-olds which had been 3-year-old flops when it came to consistency.

Even before Alsab drew his first two defeats Ben Jones grinned and said, "I'll still have two or three horses for the Derby, and we might win." "So far Challedon, Mioland and Market Wise have proved they could get around a track in winning time. They are the horses you hear about. All three have been tough campaigners, hard to beat at their but you can't win a pennant with best. But no one can tell you on just what certain day even a high-class | nothing but pitching. We've got thoroughbred will feel like running a lick. Or half a lick. My references hitting to go with ours. That's the here are Ben Jones, John Partridge, Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons, Earl Sande, George Odom, Eddie Arcaro and several others.

So far as form goes, Hialeah has the experts subsisting largely on their fingernails. Sure winners have been running last. Requested, Haltal, either. A good left-hander like that a flock of them. Favorites have averaged under 30 per cent. Most of the Howard Pollet always makes a great electors have looked as if a depth bomb had just landed on their necks.

Bargain Hunters Still Hope for Killing

But they still remember that Challedon, Mioland and Market Wise Cardinals. Tough luck, boys, but have kept running. Every one knows they can go the distance—that on a there'll always be another year. good day any one of the three is fast enough and game enough to win. And they are hard horses to split where the odds run fairly even.

In the meanwhile, the bargain hunters are looking in other directions, They have seen too many baffled and bewildered looks around this track when sure-things suddenly decided to quit running and move into a canter. Their main job is to locate something around 10 to 1 or better. And there's always the chance, as things have been going, that a good-priced horse will take it all. Picking the right one is something else again, once you wander away from what is supposed to be the class of the $50,000 day.

In the meanwhile, smart money, of which there is no such thing and never will be, is turning to Challedon, Mioland and Market Wise, provided they don't develop charley horses, the pip or housemaid's knee before the race is on. This can happen since the thoroughbred, physically, is about as robust as a rabbit. We'll know more-or maybe less-around Friday. (Released by the North American Newspaper Alliance.)

Another thing, the cards have lost Don Padgett, who can bust that ball, and we have him now.

"Sure, they've got good pitching, difference. Some of those young pitchers that burned up the league for the Cards last year probably League for some reason, but the boys catch up with him in time."

Star Tourney Change To Permit More Fans To See 'Naturals'

By GEORGE HUBER.

Faced with a threatened seating shortage because of the heavy advance sale of tickets for Thursday's first-round double-header in The Star's 10th annual metropolitan invitation scholastic basket ball tournament, officials today found it advisable to make a shift in the schedule. Originally programmed for the opening night were Bethesda-Chevy Chase against Montgomery-Blair at 7:30 and Gonzaga against St. John's an hour later.

All four of these schools have large followings, and the Johnny-Eagle rubber game especially prom-ises to bring out a crowd. With the Blair-Bethesda rivalry also renewed the same night indications were that even the large capacity of Tech gym would be taxed. Hence the Blair-Bethesda game is being shifted to the following evening at 8:30, with the Washington-Lee and George Washington meeting moved up from that time to 7:30 on Thurs-

No Other Changes Made. Otherwise pairings and brackets remain the same, with survivors in first-round play to meet as originally planned on Monday and Wednesday of next week.

Here is the revised program: Thursday, 7:30, Washington-Lee vs. George Washington; 8:30, St. John's vs. Gonzaga. Friday, 7:30, Georgetown Prep vs. Bladensburg; 8:30 Bethesda-Chevy Chase vs. Montgomery Blair. Monday, 7:30, Prep-Bladensburg winner vs. W. L.-G. W. winner: 8:30, St. John's-Gonzaga winner vs. Blair-Bethesda winner. Wednesday, 8:30, championship

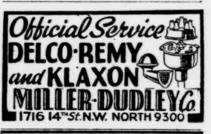

Tickets for these games are on sale at all participating schools and are priced at 25 cents plus a 3-cent Federal tax. The pasteboards are good for any session.

Three of the first-round games figure to be unusually lively affairs involved, aside from the fact that all the teams well rate a chance to win the Metropolitan championship. There is no history of traditional rivalry between Georgetown Prep and Bladensburg as this will be the first time these two have tangled in any sport, but it detracts nothing from their game on Friday. During the season they demonstrated they have two of the best quints in this section with Prep winning the Catholic League title and Bladensburg taking the Prince Georges County crown.

Both, incidentally, were operating with new coaches this year, Orrel Mitchell at Prep and Joe Kozik at Blatensburg. Bladensburg has the best record on paper of any team entered with 13 victories in 15 games, including a 12-game winning streak, best enjoyed by any school in the Washington Metropolitan Area.

Rivalries Particularly Hot. Washington-Lee and George Washington in Northern Virginia have battled to an even break in two games and both have the same standing in the Virginia Class A Conference, having gone through the same schedule with practically the same record. They will decide the Northern Virginia title.

Gonzaga, defending its Metropolitan championship, evened matters with the Johnnies only last Friday when before a near-capacity crowd at Tech they won, 29-24. St. Johns snared the first game, 31-26, so they are not only even in games but in points scored against each other. Bethesda and Blair usually face twice each season to decide the Montgomery County championship. Only one game has been played so far, with Bethesda in front.

Hoyas at Peak, Rout Worn Colonial Five For Series Edge

O'Grady Directs Searing Killtop Attack; Zunic, Losers' Star, Fades

By LEWIS F. ATCHISON.

A lot of rest has been prescribed for George Washington's courtmen by Coach Bill Reinhart pending the start of the Southern Conference tournament Thursday at Raleigh, N. C., and the treatment apparently began last night when the Colonials dropped a 52-42 duke to Georgetown, squaring accounts for the season.

A goodly Riverside Stadium gathering of 2,500 fans who braved fearful elements saw the Hoyas smash the Colonials in a game that virtually was a replay of their first with roles reversed. At one time Georgetown had a 19-point lead, which should give you an idea of how completely it dominated the proceedings, and at no time was G. W. a serious factor.

"We simply had one game too many," Reinhart commented in the dressing room. "They were fresh and ready and we were dead on our feet. Their shots were hitting and ours weren't, that's all. Not many teams would have beaten Georgetown tonight."

O'Grady, Martin Sparkle. The Colonials were as far from true temper as the Hoyas have been in most of their home games. Matt Zunic and Bobby Gilham lofted in only two fields goals each, plainly showing the fatigue and strain of a long, arduous season. But for the yeoman-like work of Joey Gallagher, best man in the line-up, and Ed Gustafson, each of whom flipped in five buckets, G. W. would have been thoroughly disgraced. Coach Elmer Ripley of Georgetown was elated by his entire squad's performance with particular emphasis on Buddy O'Grady's work. "They wanted him to show them handler I've ever seen in college ranks and one of the finest since Jack Inglise of the old Troy club. I've seen a lot of good ones, I've played with them, but nobody tops this boy."

Don Martin, the half-pint forward, shared a thunderous ovation with O'Grady when Rip gave 'em the hook in the last minute of play and he richly earned it. He was up and down the court, getting in the Colonials' hair, intercepting passes and dribbling between them all

Bornheimer Is Big Help. Probably the most important factor in Georgetown's triumph, which gives it a 4-3 edge in the series, was Bill Bornheimer's work under the backboard. The big fellow displayed the form he showed in the first two games of the season and suddenly and mysteriously lost immediately thereafter. Not to be overlooked. either, was the sharpshooting of Charley (Rubberlegs) Schmidli, who heaved in five shots that couldn't have been more accurately measured. The Hoyas, it seems, could do no wrong in contrast to their Georgetown had a 27-19 lead at the intermission after trailing by 5-6 and 10-12 counts earlier in the period and proceeded to run away with the ball game as soon as play was resumed. Martin, Bornheimer and O'Grady sparked the first-half drive with Gabby Gabbianelli lending Schmidli a hand with the pointmaking in the final stanza.

Reinhart intends to rest G. W today, with only a light workout scheduled tomorrow at Raleigh.

Hoya Frosh Beat G. W. Yearlings in Game Of Many Points

Washington will lack a basket ball scoring punch next winter if the individual duel between the Hoyas' Andy Kostecka and the Colonials' Harvey Martens in the freshmen battle between the schools last night is a criterion.

Kostecka flipped in 14 field goals and a foul for 29 points in pacing the Hilltoppers to a 79-50 decision but Martens, cashing most of his free tosses was not far behind, with eight buckets and six fouls for 22 points.

SPREAD PLAY-George Washington's Joey Gallagher had plenty of "comph" when the photographer snapped this shot in last night's court duel between the Colonials and Georgetown at Riverside Stadium, but it was wholly unintentional. Joey came down with a sound like a deflated accordian when he tripped and fell going after a loose ball with Bill Schmidli (5) and Ken Engles (17) battling him for it. The Hoyas' Bill Bornheimer (shirt out) is following up the play. Georgetown won, 52-42.

Odds Against Cilinski In Bid for A. A. U. Feather Crown

Pete Cilinski's jump from the 118 to the 126 pound class in the District A. A. U. tournament had amateur mitt circles agog today, with most of the boys wondering if the popular St. Mary's Club ringman wasn't moving along too rapidly. Cilinski's move, by which he automatically vacates his 118-pound Golden Gloves title, was born of desperation and confidence. He tried and failed to make the bantamweight limit, then decided to have a crack at Lew Hanbury's iron jaw and jewel-studded crown. Hanbury's mere presence in the 126off all other contenders, but Cilinski is made of sterner stuff. Pete will be remembered for his brilliant battling in whipping Danny Petro for the Golden Gloves 118pound laurels, a gruelling tussle that called for a rematch. But if Cilinski makes the same stand against Hanbury the fans will be satisfied. The tournament resumes Friday night at Turner's Arena with 14 bouts scheduled.

Best Grades Range As High as $13.35 On Chicago Market

CHICAGO, March 3.-Average hogs brought more than $13 a hundred pounds and best grades sold as high as $13.35 today as prices spurted 10 to 20 cents in an active market. The $13.35 peak was 10 cents a hundred pounds above last week's top and established another new four-year record. Average cost, at about $13.10, was highest in more than a decade.

Live stock circles attributed the advance to an overnight cut in shipments and to continued strength of dressed pork markets. The salable run locally at 14,000 head was 4,000 head below expectations.

There was no new word from Washington regarding price controls. On February 25 Secretary of were "high enough" and the Government faced the prospect of invoking price controls. Today's top price was 10 cents and average price about 25 cents a hundred pounds above quotations prevailing when

Hog prices have advanced spectacularly in recent months. A month ago top price was $12.40 and average cost $12.18. Two months ago top was $11.75 and average $11.31 and three months ago, top, $10.15, and average

Demand for Leaders Revives After Early Lag in Prices

By VICTOR EUBANK,

Associated Press Financial Writer. NEW YORK, March 3.-Short covering in a handful of blue chips got the stock market back on its feet today after leaders had exhibited early stumbling propensities. While there was no particular rush to buy in sold out issues, the fact the bed news on the Treasury's tax program was out apparently inspired demand for assorted high-priced stocks that had been depressed substantially in recent weeks. Closing quotations generally were higher. American Telephone was in from

of the specialized revival. This bellwether was pushed up about 3 points near the final hour, but lost part of the gain. Brokers said the short line in this issue was fairly wide and, in view of the idea it had dropped around 38 points from its 1941-42 peak, those who wanted to cover found it a bit difficult. Du Pont, International Harvester, Chrysler and Union Pacific were among others that climbed a point or so at the best. Dealings picked up for a while but slow-downs kept the volume under 400,000 shares.

Rails assayed a mild recovery sortie at the start in the wake of the Interstate Commerce Commission ruling granting an average freight rate lift of about 6 per cent. The majority soon faltered but steadied eventually along with other groups. The war picture was still none too cheerful marketwise. While reports the Japanese drive in Java may have stalled, the Burma situation remained critical and the latest sinking of a United States destroyer by a U-boat off New Jersey chilled bullish sentiment to some extent.

Rail Bonds Improve. The bond market was kept on a fairly even keel by a sizeable number of rails which advanced fractions to a point or so in response to the increase in freight rates announced late yesterday. Going into the final hour the main list of corporates, other than the carriers, held to a narrow range with small gains and losses about evenly divided.

Chicago Grain

CHICAGO, March 3.-Modification of the Commodity Credit Corp.'s wheat selling program caused a sharp advance in wheat prices here today. Other gains rose sympathet-

Washington reports indicated that the C. C. C. has decided to suspend at least temporarily, its sales of ever-normal granary 1939-40 wheat to mills after March 14. Grain men asserted today that these sales the fact that there was the constant threat of Government grain selling at certain price levels, have had the effect of limiting price advances The Senate last week passed a bill to prohibit sales of wheat, as well as other commodities held by the C C. C., at prices below parity.

New Peak Established By War Expenditures During February

Amount Nearly Four Times Same Month Of Last Year

War spending reached a new peak of $2,201,081,089 in February. The Treasury, supplying this fig-ure today, said that although the month had three fewer days, its spending record was $100,000,000 more than January's. Also, the amount was nearly four times the rate of February last year. February costs brought defense-war spending for the first eight United Drug Reports months of the fiscal year to $12,-516,021,882. The Government will have to spend nearly that much more in the remaining four months of the year to meet President Roosevelt's budget estimate of $23,996.525.400. 996,525,400.

Including other governmental costs, total Treasury expenditures last month were $2,629,839,201, bringing the eight-month overall total to $16,813,666,775. Revenues in this period were only about a third of expenditures and the eight months' deficit soared to the record figure of $11,312,132,576.

Early returns on 1941 income taxes, however, added a slightly brighter touch to the revenue figures. February income tax collections, amounting to $282,505,926, were more than double the $104,408,-150 taken in in February last year. The big income tax collection will be this month, when collections are expected to reach approximately $2,750,000,000. The Federal debt at the end of January was at a new high of $62,380,505,166, representing an increase of approximately $2,370,000,-000 in the last month.

February war costs included: Army, $1,098,850,599; Navy, $530.611.-138; lease-lend, $431,682,663; Maritime Commission, $60,892,352.

Lanham Bill Course Studied By House Group

Decision Delayed On Acceptance of Senate Changes

By JAMES E. CHINN. The House Public Buildings and Grounds Committee today reviewed in executive sesson Senate changes in a bill authorizing an appropriation of $70,000,000 to provide housing and related public works in the congested Washington Metropolitan Chairman Lanham said another meeting would be held later in the week to decide whether the Senate revisions should be accepted or the legislation sent to conference for adjustmnt of differences in the House-approved measure.

Without debate the Senate passed the measure late yesterday after agreeing to amendments to the House version recommended by its Education and Labor Committee. The principal change increased the amount of the authorized appropriation from $50,000,000 to $70,000,000.

Representative Lanham said his committee would "get to work" on the Senate revisions without delay because of the urgency of additional housing and public works needs in the metropolitan area. He plans to leave it to the committee to decide whether to accept the Senate changes or to ask the House to send the measure to conference to iron out the differences. $45,000,000 for Housing.

As passed by the Senate, the bill specifically allocates $45,000,000 for housing and $25,000,000 for such necessary community facilities as aditional schools and hospitals, extensions to water and sewer services and increased police and fire protection. Five million dollars of the housing fund is reserved for carrying out the so-called Goodwille pro-blocks in Southwest Washington. The newly created National Housing Agency is given authority under the Senate version to administer the $45,000,000 housing fund. The $25,000.000 for public works would be turned over to the Federal Works Agency with this stipulation:

gram for rehabilitating about nine

"Such public works may include, but shall not be limited to schools, and other places for care of the sick, recreational facilities, streets. roads, facilities for the disposal of for signature. sewage, garbage and refuse, and other types of necessary public

The House-approved bill failed to earmark any of the $50,000,000 apit authorized. The propriation money would have gone entirely to the Federal Works Agency in the form of a blank check.

For 10,000 Housing Units. Exclusive of the $5,000,000 Southwest rehabilitation program, it is estimated the remaining $40,000,000 in the housing fund will provide 10,000 housing units. The bill fixes the average cost per family dwelling unit at $4,000 exclusive of the cost of land, public utilities and community facilities.

Authority is given the District Commissioners in the bill as revised to accept "advancements" from the F. W. A. for public works. Repayment of any sums so advanced | court would have jurisdiction over and the interest payment thereon, the bill provides, shall be in the same manner and subject to the same conditions governing other Federal loans to the District.

Plans Laid for Extended Red Cross Fund Drive

Plans for another month's work in connection with the Rad Cross war fund drive were laid at a dinner meeting of the speaker's bureau at the Y. W. C. A. last night.

Speakers included Miss Mable Boardman, chairman of the special volunteer services; Col. Philip Huntington, chairman of the home service, District Chapter, and Stuart Brown, national director of public relations. Miss Marion Burt Claussen, chairman of the bureau, pre-

Yesterday's donations to the fund included $3.48 by the One-Two-Three-Go Red Cross Club, made up of a room of 7-year-old youngsters at the Ketcham School. Lula Weber is president of the group. Other donations came from employes of Frank R. Jelleff Co., $170; the Thomas Somerville Co., $80; Laborers District Council, Stores, $156; Safeway Stores (additional contribution) Melvern Dairies, Inc., $25 from the firm and $37.50 from em-

Relieve Federal Courts.

The bill not only provides for merger of the two courts into a super municipal court but also creates an intermediate court of appeals to act on appeals from the combined court. The new municipal court would have 10 judges and the intermediate court of appeals 3. One of the principal purposes of the measure is designed to relieve the Federal courts of the District of civil cases. The new municipal cases involving suits up to $3,000. The limitation of the present Municipal Court in such cases is $1.000.

One of the major changes made in the House-approved bill by the Senate-an amendment sponsored by Senator Tydings, Democrat, of Maryland-would allow lawyers who have practiced in Washington for five years and who live within a radius of 10 miles of the District to be eligible for appointment to the benches of the unified court.

Judges "Greatly Overworked." Senate action followed an explanation of the bill by Chairman McCarran of the District Committee. He pointed out the legislation had been subjected to "intensive study" by the committee as well as by the judges of the District courts, representatives of the Justice Department, the District Bar Association and prominent legal au- Vinson Asks Navy to Put

Apportionment Rule Is Eased

Exemptions Made To Speed Transfers To War Agencies

Widespread exemptions from the apportionment law, which requires appointments here to be made in accordance with State quotas, was ordered today as the Civil Service Commission speeded up procedure to meet war needs. The commission also abandoned maximum age limits as part of the program which contemplates the recruiting of probably 100,000 persons a month, over the country as a whole, through 1942-43. About 60 per cent of this personnel represents additions to the Federal force, which is expected to pass the 2,000,000 mark in July; the rest is for replacements. Incidentally, increased employment of women was predicted by commission spokesmen as men are taken into the armed services.

The new commission was devised to conform to executive orders issued in the past few days facilitating transfers and providing for an examination system under which applicants for many types of employment simply will be rated as "eligible" or "ineligible instead of being graded numerically.

City Officials Oppose Higher Milk Prices

Young Addresses Northeastern Dairy Conference

Admitting that the price of milk to District consumers "may have to go up," Commissioner Young said today the city heads are strongly opposed to any increase. "I am convinced that the public interests must be protected." Mr. Young told delegates to the Northeastern Dairy Conference at their opening session in the Ambassador Hotel. He added that District officials have not been shown any reason for the milk price increase. Milk producers in the Washington milkshed have petitioned the Agriculture Department for an in-

Confusion and inefficiency in agricultural defense work were hit by Dr. R. B. Corbett of College Park, Md., president of the conference, in his annual report to the delegates representing dairymen in 13 Eastern seaboard States.

"Two many organizations are attempting to assume the leadership for agricultural defense work," declared Dr. Corbett, who is director of the Maryland Agriculture Experi-mental Station. "Better co-opera-tion might come from the farm groups up, rather than to come from Washington down."

The speaker likewise criticized the "lack of representation of agriculture in the Federal defense organizations." It is felt, he added, that agriculture should be represented directly by men from agricultural organizations, "responsible to them, just as Mr. Hillman and Mr. Knudsen have had responsibility to labor and industry.

Turning to the controversial subject of parity, Dr. Corbett claimed that it was a national policy that "rates of wages should go uncontrolled while agricultural prices shall be kept around parity." With labor free from control and rates of wages at about 175 per cent of parity, why is agriculture critized and complete" investigation of the for attempting to get recognition of administration and operation of the this situation? he asked.

Acts After Hearing Pros and Cons of Alexandria Project

By ALEXANDER R. PRESTON, Star Staff Correspondent.

RICHMOND, Va. March 3.-The door is open for the development of a $7,000,000 apartment project in Alexandria as a result of legislation signed by Gov. Darden yesterday making it possible for the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. of New York to proceed with construction.

The Governor placed his signature on the Baldwin-Louderback which carried an emergency clause and became effective immediately, after a two-hour morning hearing in which several Alexandria City officials supported the measure and a comparatively small amount of opposition was heard.

The opponent of the measure who was instrumental in having the Governor call the hearing was Charles C. Carlin, jr., editor and publisher of the Alexandria Gazette.

Glenn U. Richards, president of the North Ridge Citizens' Association, also opposed the legislation but recognized that his group's opposition was chiefly for local rea sons which would have to be given secondary consideration in deliberation on a law affecting insurance companies and policy holders generally.

Given Realty Support.

Gov. Darden read a letter from W. S. Hoge, jr., secretary of the Alexandria-Arlington-Fairfax Real Estate Board, expressing support of the legislation.

Mr. Carlin asked Andrew Christian, representative of Metropolitan Life, if any more housing projects were planned near Washington, Richmond or Norfolk, to which the answer was given that "so far as I know, the one in Alexandria is the only project planned."

"This, in effect, makes the bill a added that he represented a majority of the people of Alexandria who oppose the project.

"We have several examples of projects sponsored by the Federal sion recommendations which would been debated many years in Virwhich is a credit to the community,"

Mayor Wilkins said. He declared the Federal project known as Chinquapin Village on that district comprising Alexandria providing a State-wide system of King street extended for employes and the counties of Fairfax and probation and parole and abolishing of the naval torpedo plant is what 'you might call a concentration camp." He said persons are moving to Virginia from Maryland and remote sections of the District to be nearer their places of employment in the new Federal Government departments which will continue to operate after the present emer-

Supported by Simpson.

Vice Mayor Eugene Simpson, who voted on the City Council against rezoning the property which made possible the erection of the development, said his action at that time was to protect the interest of property owners. He added, however, that conditions have now changed and he believes the Federal Government would build low-cost, undesirable houses there if private enterprise did not do so. He told Gov. Darden that another Government housing project on Duke street resembles "chicken brooders.

"While I prefer single house developments," he said, "we are faced with the fact that the Government is coming in anyway and is going to build irrespective of local wishes. We would be deprived of taxable land values and have to deal with the Government on its own terms as to what compensation we will receive for essential services such

s police, water and sewer facilities." In response to a question by Mr. Carlin as to why private enterprise should not be permitted to erect single houses, the Arlington Delegate replied that priorities could not be obtained because, "while we may be fighting dictatorships abroad, we are faced with beaucracy in almost every department in Washington

Other members of the Alexandria delegation were Ernest L. Mankin and Charles M. Stump, both members of the City Council.

Pushed by Darden.

Gov. Darden has made known his wishes that something be done to reapportion the State on a more equitable basis. When only last week it appeared that reapportionment was would be adversely affected, the Governor is said by reliable sources to have renewed his earlier pleas but in a firmer vein

Medley Points to Revenues.

At this point, Senator William D. Medley of Arlington, in defense of the Fuller Commission recommendations, said Arlington provides the greatest amount of revenue of any Virginia county and provides more revenue than all but four cities. He also argued that Arlington's increased population should be a major factor in giving that county additional voice in the Assembly.

Both bills as reported will now appear on the House and Senate calendars and bitter debates are expected on the floors of each body. The House bill dealing with redistricting of House seats must overcome opposition on the floor and pass through the Senate Privileges and Elections Committee before the final hurdle on the Senate floor. A similar process, but starting at the other end of the Capitol, in the Senate, must be encountered by the Senate bill.

The other two measures are Sen ate bills and would provide the necessary transfers of funds for the operation of the new department and place sheriffs and city sergeants on salaries in lieu of the existing fee system. Committee amendments axed the range of salaries from $1,200 to $6,000, compared with the original bill's $1,000 to $7,500. The farmers' motor vehicle bill, Finance Committee substitute for the original measure introduced by Senator Burr P. Harrison, was amended on the floor Monday to exempt sprayer trucks also.

Vehicles Exempted.

It would exempt from the license fees any motor vehicle, trailer or semi-trailer used for farm or horticultural purposes on lands owned or leased by the owner of the vehicle and which is not operated on a public highway for more than one mile, from one point of the owner's land to another, or for the purpose of taking it or fixtures attached to it to a repair shop. Before a vehicle could move over a highway even for repairs, however, a permit would have to be obtained from a highway patrolman or licensed agent of the director of the division of motor vehicles.

Owners of these vehicles would b entitled to gas tax refunds on all fuel used for farm and horticultural purposes on lands of the owner provided the owner of a vehicle already licensed surrenders his license plates to the clerk of the circuit court or to the nearest office issuing licenses.

Limit Removed On School Levy In Fairfax

Law Is Enacted Within an Hour To Set Record

RICHMOND, March 3.-A probable record for quick enactment was established yesterday when legisla-tion to abolish the $1.25 ceiling on the Fairfax County school levy was sent to the Governor for signing parely an hour after it was introduced in the General Assembly.

No emergency in Fairfax demanded such haste, but it was necessary that the legislation, requested by the County Board of Supervisors and County School Board be handled speedily for passage at the present session

Delegate Robert J. McCandlish jr., of Fairfax was unable to introduce the requested legislation in the form of a new bill because the deadline for introduction of general laws has passed. Even though it was a local application, he had determined a general law was necessary to bring about the change.

Rescued by Another Bill. The difficulty was overcome, however, when it was discovered that another bill by Delegate L. P. Collins of Marion, relating to the same section of the law which Mr. McCandlish sought to amend, had been passed by both branches of the As-

Mr. McCandlish conferred with Gov. Darden about the local legislation he sought to introduce and as a result, the Chief Executive, as is often done, sent the Collins bill back to the Asembly with a "suggested amendment." This change, incor-porating Mr. McCandlish's recommendation, was quickly accepted by the House and sent to the Senate where Senator William D. Medley obtained the concurrance of that body. Another piece of local school legislation has been handled by Mr. McCandlish in a similar manner and is now pending in the Senate for final action. This proposed law provides for the abolition of the Falls Church School District but permits the Town Council to reestablish that district at any time on its own motion gate amended a bill by Delegate T. tion, are located at Beltsville and B. Tate of Danville, while that on the University of Maryland County Safety Council campus. Government in Alexandria, none of take Arlington County out of the ex- ginia legislative halls also were on passage. The coincidence there was that the Tate bill also sought to amend a section of the code which was necessary to be amended for the Fairfax legislation.

The amendment to the Collins bill now on the Governor's desk also permits the imposition of a different school levy in the various Fairfax County school districts.

Mr. McC andlish said that at the request of the Falls Church Town of Dr. H. C. Byrd, president of Council and School Board, he will introduce a special act today to clarify the language of the existing law and remove any doubt that the town may be assessed with a higher levy than the rest of the Falls Church school district, of which it will become a part as soon as the town district is abolished. The new Falls Church school district will comprise the present magisterial district of that name

Another School Bill Up. Meanwhile, the House Counties, Cities and Towns Committee will act this afternoon on a McCandlish bill providing for a referendum to determine which of three optional methods for selecting School Board members shall be adopted. The options to be presented the voters are selection by the present method, appointment by the Board of Supervisors or direct election by voters.

Indications were given yesterday that a bill by Mr. McCandlish to prohibit the annexation of Fairfax County territory by Falls Church, Alexandria or the proposed City of Arlington will be killed in committee A subcommittee was named to study the measure, particularly with respect to a constitutional prohibition against enactment of any local annexation law. Another bill, by Senator Burr P Harrison, prohibiting cities from annexing large undeveloped areas. was reported by the Senate Courts of Justice Committee yesterday. The bill provides, however, that courts holding annexation suits may vest zoning authority over such outside territory in cities seeking to annex, with a view of controlling the type. of future development of the adjoining territory. The House indulged in some funmaking at yesterday's session, laughing when Delegate C. G. Quesenbery offered a resolution to make Delegate L. L. Triplett of Faquier the State's official greeter, asserting that he was already functioning unofficially. Mr. Triplett replied that he thought the position ought to carry some compensation.

Two Training Centers For Defense Work Started in Maryland

Machine Tools Worth $95,000 Will Be Used In N. Y. A. Program

Ninety-five thousand dollars worth of machine tools at two training centers are going to be used to prepare boys from "places where there is no industrial opportunity," for work in defense industry in nearby Maryland, it was disclosed today. The two training centers, operated In this instance, the Fairfax Dele- by the National Youth Administra-

> The two centers, while training new defense workers, also will produce equipment for use by the Coast Guard, Army, Government hospitals and other establishments, officials said.

The center at Beltsville is already in operation, although all its equip ment has not yet arrived. The Beltsville center is under the direction of Joshua W. C. Byrd, brother Maryland University. Mr. Byrd was in charge of a C. C. C. camp at Beltsville until January 2, when he became affiliated with the N. Y. A.

Shop Is Unfinished. The machine tool shop at the university is not yet completed. T. Walter Gough, assistant State N. Y. A. administrator, said that the Maryland plant probably would be finished by April 1.

Mr. Gough estimated that tools to be used at Maryland are worth $50,000, while the equipment at Beltsville is valued at $45,000, and that the entire cost of the project will be about $100,000, excluding the cost of laying water and sewer mains. This was done by the Agriculture Department, which is leasing the 10-acre Beltsville tract to the N. Y. A.

Forty boys now are working at Beltsville. Thirty of them are from Texas, the others from Kentucky and Tennessee. Mr. Byrd said that he expects to place some of them in defense industries this week.

Steps Taken to Assure Sugar for Canning

BALTIMORE. March 3. - State Rationing Administrator Louis C. Burr said yesterday every effort was being made to make sugar available for summer home canning.

In recent weeks, garden clubs and other groups throughout the State have asked for assurance that such sugar would be available to preserve foodstuffs grown on farms and in victory gardens.

Mr. Burr said he had been in formed by A. E. Bowman, chief of the War Production Board sugar sections:

"In our monthly allocations of refined sugar we are taking into account the sugar that will be needed for home canning. While the supply may be somewhat limited, just as the supply for daily consumption is already limited, it will be sufficient to enable housewives to can what they need.'

Admitting that the price of milk to District consumers "may have to go up," Commissioner Young said today the city heads are strongly opposed to any increase, "I am convinced that the public interests must be protected," Mr. Young told delegates to the Northeastern Dairy Conference at their opening session in the Ambassador Hotel. He added that District officials have not been shown any reason for the milk price increase. "Two many organizations are attempting to assume the leadership for agricultural defense work," declared Dr. Corbett, who is director of the Maryland Agriculture Experimental Station. "Better co-operation might come from the farm groups up, rather than to come from Washington down."

Lt. Col. Stanley K. Donovan, 31, of the Westchester apartments, assistant chief of flying training in the Army Air Corps flying training command, parachuted to safety shortly before 6 p.m. yesterday on a farm near Franconia, Va., after "icing conditions" had disabled his training plane.

On a routine flight from Mitchel Field, L. I., to Bolling Field, Col. Donovan, 1934 graduate of West Point, was almost home when he was forced to bail out.

"The rain had changed to snow by that time," he said, "but there was not much wind. After I bailed out, I saw the plane pass onward but did not see it crash." He had set the controls so the craft would 'more or less glide into the ground.'

Col. Donovan said. Except for a scratched chin, he anded in a field without difficulty. The plance crashed on the farm of Vernon Lynch, two miles west of Franconia, in Fairfax County. Col. ## Capital Society Turns Attention to Exhibitions Of Arts and Crafts

Chilean and Bolivian Objects To Be on View at Pan-American Union Through March 12

Society is taking time out from its various defense activities and blackout preparations to show interest in exhibits. A large number of diplomats and officials attended the formal opening of the exhibition of Chilean and Bolivian arts and crafts at the Pan-American Union yesterday. Senora de Michels, wife of the Chilean Ambassador, and their daughter, Senorita Cristina Michels, were there yesterday acting as hostess and showing particular pieces of weavings, embroidery and native silver in which they were interested. The newly appointed Bolivian Ambassador and Senora de Guachalla have not yet arrived and in their absence members of the Legation staff-for the Legation will not become an Embassy until the new Ambassador is here-will be in attendance during the showing.

Senorita Mabel McCrimmon, a native of Chile, has collected the arts and crafts for this exhibition which will be on view through Thursday, March 12. Senorita McCrimmon, whose ancestors migrated to Chile from Scotland, will be present each day and give brief lectures about the works as well as the customs and habits of the people from the

Millikin Says U.S. Is 'Fed Up' With 'Bumble-Fumble'

The Colorado Senator denounced the "overlapping of war production agencies in Washington" as well as the shortsightedness of the Government in failing to employ the services of the "little businessman" in war production work.

With news of the approaching visit home of our Ambassador to London, John G. Winant, come well-founded reports that Lord Halifax will return to his country in June to re-establish personal contact with his government, but that he will return to his present post after his visit home. It is possible that Lady Halifax will remain here to await her husband's return, for in these times passages back and forth across the ocean are hard enough to get for travelers with official status.

Mrs. William E. Borah has received a letter from her niece, the former Joan Luddemann, who is now Mrs. Jack Eagle and is with her husband in Honolulu. The letter is a gay and chatty one, showing that the war isn't depressing the spirits of those in the zones under fire. Much of the letter was spent in telling Mrs. Borah how her 2-week-old great-niece and namesake, Mary Eagle, is progressing. She already has a gas mask, as has every one else on the island-but hers is in Mickey Mouse design, and she looks very cunning-and prepared for the worse.

Ickes and O'Mahoney Point to Opportunity in Metal Stores and Power

The natural resources of the United States were discussed last night by Secretary of the Interior Ickes and Senator O'Mahoney. Democrat, of Wyoming on the National Radio Forum, sponsored by The Star and broadcast over the Blue Network. The program was heard locally over Station WMAL. The following is the text of the forum discussion: Senator O'Mahoney: If this war is to be won for freedom, America will have to produce more.

We know now that every nation resisting the Axis is depending upon America to produce the implements of war. The Dutch in the East Indies and the Australians-Russia China and England are looking to us for help which we must send. We are rightfully committed also to the defense of the whole Western Hemisphere.

When the great scope of this program for the defense of democracy is thus revealed to us, we know that we must make use of all of our resources.

We have delayed too long. More than 10 years ago Japan invaded Manchuria to obtain raw materials for this war. For eight years Germany has been preparing for this appalling armament that has ever terials for the war.

Let me cite a few facts. The United States for years has been dependent for many critical and that we knew would become precarious in time of war. The United States has had available within her own territory known sources of many of these. The domestic supplies, however, have not been developed because the ores were of low grade. The costs would be higher than for materials from lands that had high grade ores.

There were also other reasons why

veloped, even unexplored. Monopolies controlled the peacetime production and they wanted no com-petition. Companies refrained from the use of processes by which the low grade materials could be made useful because the old methods

Must Act Now on Power.

Now we must turn to these do-peacetime we ignored. We are shocked by the fact that our survival depends upon our use of them. New processes are being developed.

Many of these require large quantito supply these pyramiding needs.

All of this may take time, but not

Erik Wants to Make a Hat For First Lady of Land, He Says on Visit Here

Telephone Manners and Attire Of Feminine Jitterbugs Also Among Thoughts for Today

Miss Jones, take a letter to our psychiatrist: Dear Sir: The fashion editor thinks it's time to consult you about the strange thoughts that currently are wandering through her feather-bobbed (and brained) head. If it were not that fashion shows and luncheons with visiting firemen take up all her time, she would visit you in person. As it is, here are the symptoms that indicate she's as

For one thing, she can't get Erik off her mind. He's not a beau; in fact, she's never met him, but he called the other day and said, in a charming accent, "This is Erik; I'm quite famous, you know." The fashion editor did know that Erik is a top-notch millinery designer, formerly of London and Paris and now of London and New York. She also knew that his partner is the Princess Rene of Bourbon (spelled like the drink, says Erik) and that she was formerly H. R. H. Princess Marguerite of Denmark. Furthermore, the editor knew that Erik's spectacular new collection features black, white and green hats with an up-in-back sweep and a decidedly feminine, though not fussy, manner. That part doesn't worry her.

What does worry her is the telephone conversation with the man who describes himself as "tall, blond and typically Scandinavian." In the course of this conversation Erik. confided that he was in Washington us, either. Umbrellas have their good points. But they are like modern machines. Unless they are controlled and well handled, they become dangerous. The first umbrella rule is to be

The only reason you're carrying the umbrella at all, probably, is because some thoughtful soul said to you just before you left home, "Do you have

Souffle Is Not Hard To Make

Really Very Simple Despite Fancy Reputation

If you want to establish a reputation as a fancy cook, just learn to make a souffle successfully. There is nothing which will bring you such respect from your guests.

Standards for souffies differ greatecipes in cook books direct that a souffle should be baked in a pan of water. This is one American practice which I am against. My standards demand a crisp golden edge and op and these can only be obtained y baking without water and in a noderately hot oven. Souffles baked in this manner will have more lavor than the other type and will not fall any more quickly than will the others.

Let me warn you that you had setter not attempt to serve a souffie o guests who are likely to be very late for dinner. I am talking now about a main-course souffie because a dessert souffie can be baked in the 25 minutes it demands while the main course is being served.

Then there are double souffles of the dessert type. These demand only the whites of eggs and take 40 minutes to 1 hour for steaming over hot water. They are practically foolproof and can stand a few minutes if the cover is not removed until the moment of serving. When making a souffle of this sort, you should plan to use the egg yolks either the same day or the next day. You may like to make custard sauce for the souffle and use the remainder for hollandaise another day. Little gold cakes also demand egg yolks.

'Sobby' Letters From Home Only Upset the Soldiers; Make Yours Cheerful

Best to Write Medium-Length Ones at Frequent Intervals; Send Clippings, Snapshots

By Kay Caldwell and Alden Harrison

A recent issue of our college alumni magazine contained the following excerpt from a letter written by a boy in one of the Army training camps: "A lot of the boys have been receiving rather 'sobby' letters from home lately. These letters are much more upsetting to them than the prospect of being sent into the thick of the fighting. Seems to me a braver front ly in this country and others. Most by many of the people back home would take a big load off the minds of the soldiers in camp and bolster their morale a good deal." These words should be taken seriously by every girl who is writing to a soldier. Even if you miss Johnny so badly that it actually hurts, don't weep and wail in your letters. Let him know that you miss him-of course! He'll get a bang out of that. But show him that you're keeping a stiff upper lip. You want him to admire you, not worry about you! Another thing to remember is that a couple of medium-length letters are better than one long one. He will be thrilled every time he finds a it up and then dragging it out over page after page. Typewriters are all right for almost any kind of correspondence these days, but if you're inditing a real, honest-to-Eros love letter, we suggest that you use good old-fashioned pen and ink. Somehow a fervent phrase seems to mean more when it's in your own handwriting. A typewriter makes it rather matter-of-fact and & mechanical. But a typed letter is better than none at all! In trying to make your letters live and a book of postage stamps. Child Could Make It.

No Cooking. Big Saving.

You may not know it, but, in your own kitchen, and in a moment, you can easily prepare a really surprising relief for coughs due to colds. It's old-fashioned, but for real results, it can't be beaten.

First, make a syrup by stirring 2 cups granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. No cooking needed. It's no trouble at all.

Then get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist. This is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated for m, well known for prompt action in throat and bronchial irritations.

Put the Pinex into a pint bottle, and add your syrup. Thus you make a full pint of really splendid cough syrup, and you get about four times as much for your money. It never spoils, and for quick relief, it's a wonder. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, eases the soreness, makes breathing easy, and lets you get restful sleep. Just try it, and if not pleased, your money will be refunded. pleased, your money will be refunded.

Fifth, the domestic materials should be put into war production quickly. To make sure that the best sources of all critical minerals are found as quickly as they can be found, the drilling and mining records of all companies should be opened to the Bureau of Mines and the Geological Survey on a confidential basis. The drilling records of a wildcat oil well in New Mexico led to the development of potash deposits which have made the United States independent of Ger-

Senator O'Mahoney: It was also the drilling of an oil well in Sweetwater County, Wyo., that revealed large deposits of sodium carbonate Secretary Ickes: The sixth point is that the companies that have developed processes for treating any low-grade materials should reveal them to the Bureau of Mines and the bureau should recommend to new companies the processes which are, on their records, most effective.

Senator O'Mahoney: Yes, it was in this connection that Senators Bone of Washington, La Follette of Wisconsin and I introduced a bill to allow the Government to use all patents. A patent is the reward granted by the Government to the inventor. My feeling is that every inventor and discoverer will be willing to make his genius and his industry of service in the preservation of the Government which alone can grant him the protection of the Federal Grubstake.

I should like to emphasize, in connection with another phase of your program, Mr. Secretary, that the days of the pioneers are gone. In the early days minerals were discovered at the grass roots and the individual miner could stake out a placer claim or even a lode claim and make his fortune. Now the search for minerals and the processing of them have become big money undertakings. A grubstake by the grocer for the little fellow will not do today. In your program, Mr. Secretary, you propose that Uncle Sam, in a manner of speaking, grubstake the modern miner. Is that not right?

Government is financing plants and Government is charged with win- to action. ning this war. If mere financing is not enough, Senator O'Mahoney, the Department of the Interior, through its Bureau of Mines, stands ready to do the job which must be done. Senator O'Mahoney: Your plan is to keep them going. to help the people help themselves and your objective is to get the Secretary Ickes: We must get the Job done.

Job done

Senator O'Mahoney: The wisdom of such a program must be apparent to any one who surveys the present scene. Concentration of industrial development has proceeded both geographically and in terms of industrial organizations. Last March I submitted to the Senate the final report of the Temporary National Economic Committee. I called attention to the fact that between June 1, 1940, and March 1, 1941, 35 States had received less than 15 per cent of all the defense contracts awarded by the War and Navy Departments up to that time and that 15 States had received more than 80 per cent of all the contracts.

Figures from the War Production Board show that of $15,250,000,000 in war contracts given out between June 1, 1940, and October 1, 1941, 82.6 per cent have gone to only 100 companies and more than 50 per cent in value have gone to 15

The power experts, or at least some of them, still persist in sticking their heads in the sand, declaring that there is no reason for alarm or for Government action. because there is enough power. The requirements for power to meet the President's war program exceed the total production of energy by all electric utilities in the United States in 1940. Half of our deficiency in power could be made up through the conservation and diversion of power from peacetime uses. The people know what that means. The other half must be supplied through the expansion of present facilities or the provision of new facilities for generating electric energy. I am proud of the fact that my department now is supplying from Boulder, Grand Coulee and other great hydroelectric plants, power at the rate of 7 billion kilowatt-hours a year and that in three years this output will be tripled. This energy will go a long ways toward effectuating the program of metals for war, but it will not be enough.

This is the reason why I included in the war program which I submitted to you and your committee Senator O'Mahoney, plans for 17 hydroelectric and steam plants which could be built by the Bureau of Reclamation in the next two or three years. The 10 million kilowatt-hours of power which they could provide annually will be seriously needed.

Senator O'Mahoney: I believe I speak for all when I say, Mr. Secretary, that your steadfast and intelligent conservation policies are appreciated from coast to coast.

Secretary Ickes: Thank you. It is the knowledge gained and the experience earned in the conservation of these resources which the department now seeks to turn to the winning of the war.

Senator O'Mahoney: I have received many letters applauding the program which you outlined to the committee, Mr. Secretary. The wide use of patented processes will bring such an outpouring of mineral wealth from our hills and mountains as few have dared to imagine. The use of our plentiful low-cost power resources in mineral development is in its infancy. Little miners, hundreds of them in the West, would be set again to work if they had cheap power, and if they could use as well the improved electrical processes the numbers would be raised to thousands that already the War Production Board, as I have been advised by Donald Nelson, has asked the Defense Plant Corp. to make the necessary arrangements for the construction of four of the domestic manganese plants which were recommended in the war program that I presented to you.

Now in the line of further action, am I right in my understanding that you and others. Senator, are considering the introduction of a bill further to effectuate the war program for metals and power?

Senator O'Mahoney: Yes, I am working on a bill. It will be introduced at the earliest possible moment. I have had encouraging word from the R. F. C. on it as well. I am anxious to bring it before the Congress because it represents a definite turn away from the defense and to the attack psychology,

Secretary Ickes: Good. Then it is safe to tell the radio audience that more will be done and that it will be done at once. You know how to get things done, Senator, and you know what you are trying to do. We have been inexcusably dumb Count on my department for all the

OFFICIAL NOTICES.

COMMISSIONERS OF THE DISTRICT OF Columbia. Pebruary 27, 1942.—Public hearings having been held by the Commissioners of the District of Columbia in the matter of closing certain streets and alleys in the District of Columbia. as hereinafter described, and the said Commissioners being satisfied as to the equity, justice and advisability of said closings, and that the same will not be detrimental to the public interests nor to the interests of abutting property owners. NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the said Commissioners have prepared the following order: "Ordered, That pursuant to the provisions of Public Act No. 307, approved December 15, 1932, the street and alley areas as shown in streen on plats filed in the office of the surveyor of the District of Columbia and numbered as Maps 2431, 2406 and 2609, are hereby ordered closed, same to take effect on and after March 30, 1942, the title to the land comprised in the areas so closed to revert to the abutting property winers, as shown on said maps; the said areas hereby ordered closed being described as follows: 1. Closing part of Devonshire pl. north of Cortland pl. n.w., including a proposed transfer of jurisdiction to the District of Columbia in connection with the relocation of said Devonshire pl. 2. Closing of alleys in the eastern half of square 1018, located west of 13th st. between D and E sts. s.e. 3. Closing part of Adams Mill rd. n.w., abutting square 2587." Any and all parties interested must file objections, if any, in writing, to said closings within thirty (30) days after the date of this publication as inserted at the beginning hereof, otherwise said order shall become effective on March 30, 1942, and the street and alley areas as herein described shall on and after said date become closed in accordance with the provisions of said Public Act, No, 307, approved December 15, 1932, JOHN RUSSELL YOUNG, C. By THORNTON W. BURGESS. Granny Fox is not the only one who has learned the ways of Blacky the Crow. No, indeed! Old Man Coyote is quite as smart and sharp as she. In fact, he is just a wee mite Kate Smith Speaks smarter and sharper, as Granny found out shortly after he came to the Green Meadows to live, though she never would admit it and won't now. Old Man Coyote knows just as well as she does that when Blacky gets excited and caws at the top of his lungs there is usually something Young Dr. Malone going on worth looking into. So whenever he hears Blacky he stops to listen, and if Blacky seems very much excited he takes the trouble to find out what it is all about. Now, at the time when Granny Fox was trotting down the Lone Little Path and first heard the excited cawing of Blacky the Crow News-Sports Page Pace-Lee Victory Rev. deep in the Green Forest, Old Man Covote had just stretched himself out for a sun bath on the Green Meadows, not far from the edge of the Green Forest. Just as Granny Fox had done, he pricked up his ears at the first sound of Blacky's voice and listened. Prayer-Sports News Frazier Hunt-News

"When Blacky caws like that he sees something quite unusual, and when there is anything unusual going on it pays to know all about it. It may be no business of mine, and I may have a long walk for nothing, but then again I may find out something worth knowing. Blacky is as great a mischief-maker as his cousin, Sammy Jay, but he sees all that is going on in the Green Meadows and in the Green Forest, and though he has made trouble for me more than once he has gotten me out of trouble just as many times by giving me warning. I'd a lot rather take a nap now, but I guess I'll have a look and find out what has got into that black

Glenn Miller's Orch. Old Man Coyote yawned, then he stretched, yawned again, listened for a few minutes, and finally trotted off into the Green Forest in the direction from which Blacky's voice sounded. Now, just like Granny Fox, Old Man Coyote always keeps his eyes and ears wide open. And he always uses his nose. He learned when he was a very little fellow that his nose can often tell him a lot more than either his eyes or his ears. So as he trotted through the Green Forest he was using eyes, ears and nose, and it was his nose that gave him the first news. He was trotting along so softly that he didn't make a sound when suddenly he stopped 0.45 Melody Moments

She had heard that fuss Blacky is making and she is on her way to see what it is all about. I think I will hurry a little faster." So Old Man Coyote hurried a little faster, and though Granny Fox didn't know it, he was right behind her when she reached the place where Blacky was making such a fuss. He saw just what Granny saw, Peter Rabbit dodging this way and that way, with Reddy Fox right at his heels, and, just like Granny, he made up his mind right

He grinned to himself, and it was an unpleasant grin. for he knew that all he had to do was to show himself to have the chase of Peter all to himself. You see, Reddy and Granny Fox are afraid of him, and he didn't have the least doubt that he could catch Square Gerden Ed "Archie" Gerdner, George Peter, now that he was so far away from the deal Old Briar Patch. He was just getting ready to spring out when Peter stopped dodging and started lipperty-lipperty-lip for a big pile of brush. In a twinkling the white patch on the seat of Peter's trousers disappeared under the big pile of brush, and there stood Reddy and Granny Fox staring at each unfortunate choice, and dummy won with the king. The heart ace revealed the bad break and a low heart found East playing the jack and South the king. South next led a spade and finessed dummy's ten, following that play with the spade ace. East ruffed and South over-ruffed, thus reducing East to a point where he could win only one trump trick.

South next led the ten of hearts East winning with the queen. He returned a diamond, not having noticed that his partner had signaled for a club return by playing the nine and then the three of clubs on the trump leads. West had to take the diamond ace and could not escape the eventual end-

West led the jack of spades and South ruffed and drew East's last trump. At this point both dummy and West had two diamonds and two clubs. ### UNCLE RAY'S CORNER -Knights and Pilgrims Traveled Widely

Most Roman roads fell into bad repair during the Middle Ages. People did not spend time to take proper care of them. Some of them lasted very well, but others came to be grown over with grass and shrubs. In Western Europe, where Roman roads were not common, little effort was given to the making of highways. Those who traveled from city to city usually had to take lanes or narrow pathways. Wagon traffic was small—the great method of land travel was on horseback. Knights were the greatest travelers during the Middle Ages. Sitting on their trusty steeds, they rode far and wide. They took part in tournaments, where they might win prizes for expert tilting. Sometimes, during their journeys, they fought in deadly earnest against robber knights or other enemies.

Women did less traveling than men, but now and then a lady was ried most of the goods into Lonto be seen riding near her knight don, but there were pack animals and hoping that he would save her as well. They were loaded with from any danger along the way.

Now and then kindly persons gave them something to eat. As payment of a sort the pilgrims told the news which they had picked up during their travels. A walking journey from Paris to Rome was likely to take four or five months. Some of the pilgrims were away from their homes for years at a stretch

Washington's theaters, ready for tonight's blackout test, will have no blackout inside—and all entertainment programs will continue on regular schedule without intercuption.

This was revealed by a check of theaters yesterday, with managers completing changeover from brightly lighted marquees and electric signs to complete darkness—as far as the exterior of the stage and screen houses is concerned. Managers stressed the fact that tonight's test is a blackout test-not an air-raid test. There will be no interruption
