Three German Peace Proposals in Last Month Reported

French News Agency Says Offensive Was Based on Goering Memorandum

LONDON, April 30.—Germany is declared by the independent French news agency A. F. I. to have proposed peace to Britain three times since mid-March, basing this spring offensive on a nine-page Goering memorandum which would give the Third Reich undisputed mastery of continental Europe.

Freedom for concentration of Nazi forces on the Russian front—ending of Allied aerial blows and the threat of new land action in the west—was the reported aim of Adolf Hitler's government.

British officials disclaimed knowledge of any such overtures and, although newspapers freely discussed a possibility that Italy would drop out of the war, there was no direct authoritative or journalistic disposition to place much stock in rumors about Axis peace feelers.

Moreover, both Prime Minister Churchill and President Roosevelt have declared there would be no negotiations with the Nazis, described by Mr. Churchill as "the guilty men who have let hell loose upon the world."

However, the A. F. I., affiliated with Gen. Charles de Gaulle's Free French government, reported details without qualification in a dispatch last night. It said the three proposals were routed through Turkey, Switzerland and Sweden. All were said to be similar.

The agency said the memorandum provided that Germany would control the continent, annex "living space" from Russia and control virtually all the French, Dutch and Belgian colonial possessions.

If the Allied powers accepted these conditions, it said, Germany would undertake:

- 1. To recognize the British Empire in its present form.
2. To recognize "control" of Latin America by the United States "both in political and economic spheres."
3. To collaborate in setting up a trade system among the three "empires."

Assistance Against Japan. The last paragraph was reported to have referred to assistance which Germany would be prepared to give the Allies so that they might "drive Japan back to her natural limits."

(A Berlin propaganda broadcast last night concerning President Roosevelt's Tuesday night speech referred three times to "the Axis powers and Japan," as if Japan were a part of the Axis. It suggested that the United States should restrict military activity to the Western Hemisphere for "a perfectly comfortable war.")

(Japan reported last December 11 that Japan, Germany and Italy had signed a pact that none would make a separate peace.)

Attribution of the peace memorandum to Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering recalled the Rudolf Hess incident of May 10, 1941. Marshal Goering is Hitler's chief deputy. Hess, still a British prisoner after capture when he flew to Scotland, was the Fuehrer's deputy for Nazi party affairs.

The London Daily Mail declared in a dispatch datelined "on the Italian frontier" that Fascists saw signs of revolt in Italy and the News Chronicle said editorially that all that nation needed to do to obtain a separate peace was to pledge that her territory would not be used against the United Nations.

(Japan reported last December 11 that Japan, Germany and Italy had signed a pact that none would make a separate peace.)

tion on this matter," one F. C. A. representative suggested today.

The Credit Union Section charters and acts in a general advisory capacity for Federal-employee credit unions, of which there are approximately 4,300 in the country. In addition to the 200 employees here, the section has about 50 in the field.

In Farm Credit there are about 1,150 employees. When they were ordered out in February about half decided to make the move, but it was said today that in the Credit Union Section everybody had prepared to go.

Missouri Tags Bought. A large number of these, it was added, live in Virginia where automobile tags expired April 15, so they explained their plight to State officials, who agreed that Missouri tags would be honored after that date. They then invested in the Missouri plates.

The move originally was scheduled to start April 15, but has not yet gotten under way. In the meantime, the transferees have been looking around Kansas City for living quarters, and wives of Farm Credit employees have been seeking to effect satisfactory transfers.

The shift of the one unit, consequently, caught every one unaware. The F. D. I. C., with the exception of a few employees, expects to go to Chicago about June 15. It is headed by Leo T. Crowley, who also is the newly appointed alien property custodian.

It was said today that the F. D. I. C. would decide on the destination of the Credit Union section in a day or two.

Insurance Firm Asks Relief From $192,000 Commission Contract

United Services Life Asserts Sales Head Got Big Sums in Three Years

Relief from what was described as an unduly burdensome contract was asked in District Court today by the United Services Life Insurance Co., 1626 K street N.W., which writes policies only on men in the Nation's armed forces—a great many of them in the Capital.

The company asked the court to cancel a contract which the company entered into with the United Services Sales Department, Inc., and its controlling stockholder, Samuel H. Emerson.

The complaint contends that Mr. Emerson, in his capacity as controlling stockholder of the sales company, entered into a contract with the life insurance concern, of which he also was president, whereby the sales company obtained commissions of $80,000 and Mr. Emerson commissions of $112,000 in three years.

District Court was told in the complaint that these payments resulted in reducing the paid-in surplus of the insurance company "to an unconscionable extent." To protect the policy holders, it was alleged, the contract was rescinded by the insurance company's board of directors on March 20.

The insurance concern asks the court not only to cancel the contract but to compel the sales company and Mr. Emerson to refund the payments received.

Soviet Agencies Stress Reports of Nazi Losses

KUIBYSHEV, Russia, April 30 (AP)—Soviet government agencies stressed reports of German manpower and aerial losses on the Russian front today, although troop positions were said to be essentially unchanged. The Moscow radio said several regiments of the Nazi 5th Division, termed "the spring division," were slashed to pieces by the Red Army 12 hours after they entered the front lines.

The Soviet Information Bureau said Russian troops "wiped out about 1,000 enemy officers and men" in two days of fighting on a sector of the central front, the Smolensk zone. Seventy-five German planes were reported destroyed Tuesday, a ratio of better than 5 for 1. Fourteen German transport planes flying reserves from Koenigsberg, East Prussia, were shot down in a

Torpedo Boat Expert Tells of Lt. Bulkeley's Exploits Off Bataan

Naval Hero 'Doesn't Know Fear,' Says Technician, Home From Philippines

By CLAUDE A. MAHONEY. Lt. John D. Bulkeley, twice decorated for his daring torpedo boat exploits against the Japanese, was described here yesterday as "either a man without a nerve in his body or he's crazy, or a combination of both."

TALE OF EXPLOITS—John T. McCabe, torpedo boat technician, gestures as he tells a circle of newspapermen of the feats of Lt. John D. Bulkeley, the "man who doesn't know fear."

Believes Beard Lucky. He said Lt. Bulkeley wears a tremendous black beard which he refuses to cut off because he thinks he is lucky.

Next to Lt. Bulkeley, or perhaps sharing the same high place in Mr. McCabe's estimation are the Navy mechanics who manufactured all types of replacement parts for the precision engines of the torpedo boats, and made the parts from odds and ends. Navy welders, he said, simply took old scraps and created motor parts. They straightened and patched other equipment, and made workable. The boats operated literally from the waste pile for all the new parts.

Official communiques have credited Lt. Bulkeley's squadron of swift fighters with torpedoing two Japanese ships in the Sulu, a warship and an unidentified type in February, and a light cruiser in April. The squadron has been on almost constant patrol since the war started.

Mr. McCabe related, and was largely responsible for getting Gen. Douglas MacArthur and his party out of the Philippines.

Hat Prevents Injury. Mr. McCabe was Lt. Bulkeley's squadron engineer. He had arrived in the Philippines on the last clipper to Manila, reporting November 22. At first, as a civilian technician, he served in a strictly consultative capacity, but after the bombing of Cavite, during which his tin hat saved his head from being crushed by a flying chunk of concrete, he became as much a member of the squadron as the officers and enlisted men.

Mr. McCabe was an engineer for the Packard Motor Car Co. before he was loaned to the Navy. He described the attack by 54 four-engine bombers on December 30, and said they hit the powerhouses and thus destroyed fire-fighting, and then hit the dispensary and destroyed first-aid service.

Hitler Living in Fear of Generals, Reds Think. KUIBYSHCHEV, April 30.—After two days of careful examination of Adolf Hitler's Sunday Reichstag speech, the Soviet press yesterday concluded that he was frightened by the prospect of a second front in the west and was living in fear of his own generals.

Canada-England Airmail To Be Resumed Soon. OTTAWA, April 30.—Airmail service between Canada and England via Newfoundland and Eire is to be resumed at once, Postmaster General W. P. Mulock announced last night.

INVASERS CLOSE IN ON BURMA ROAD TERMINUS—Japan's armies thrusting swiftly from Loilem have reached Lashio (1), Burma terminus of the actual Burma road, and another column is only a short distance from the northeast and by the Japanese columns which have reached Chauk, on the Irrawaddy River.

Burma. (Continued From First Page.) The British around Meiktila, 80 miles south of Mandalay, killed 150 Japanese and destroyed an invader transport two days ago, it was said, but this small victory does not change the necessity for a rapid withdrawal northward because of the Japanese advance against the Chinese on the east.

There is a tendency here to lay the Chinese weakness on the east to the fact that they sent reinforcements into the west to relieve a British force encircled at Yen-angyung last week.

Well-informed military sources discounted this, saying the Chinese sent to the British assistance were fresh from China and that in any case reinforcements were sent where they were needed at the time.

Considerable Damage To Paris Suburb Is Admitted by Nazis

Heavy German Raid on Norwich in Reprisal Reported by Berlin

By the Associated Press. BERLIN (From German Broadcasts), April 30.—British air raiders did considerable damage to buildings last night in an attack on the Paris suburb of Gennevilliers, the German high command announced today.

Heavy German raid on Norwich in Reprisal Reported by Berlin. "British aircraft, flying singly, also carried out nuisance raids on the North German coast," the bulletin added. "Two British aircraft were shot down."

The German air force, meanwhile, made a heavy attack last night on Norwich, England, the high command said. The same town had been raided Monday night.

Suitor, 80, Confesses Attempting to Burn Woman and Rival, 75

By the Associated Press. SWANTON, Vt., April 30.—Nelson Coons, 80, was held in St. Albans jail today on a second-degree arson charge after he allegedly confessed setting fire to a Central Vermont Railway toolshed in the belief that a 75-year-old rival was in the shed with a woman they both loved.

No one was in the shed at the time. The building was destroyed. State Attorney John H. Webster said Coons signed a confession that he crept up behind the shed and set fire to it.

Army Deserter, 16, Arrested in Beating Of Legless Man

Victim's Skull Fractured; Fire Lieutenant Captures Youth in Stolen Car. A 16-year-old Army deserter confessed today, police said, that he had severely beaten Lee K. Cornett, 39, of 233 Kentucky avenue S.E., because he thought Mr. Cornett was about to turn him in to Army authorities.

Police said the boy told them he slipped up behind Mr. Cornett and struck him several times in the head with the hammer and then dragged his unconscious form to the bathroom.

California Wife Slayer To Be Hanged Tomorrow

SAN QUENTIN, Calif., April 30.—Robert S. James convicted of drowning his sixth wife after the bite of a rattlesnake failed to kill her, must die on the gallows tomorrow morning. "This man is guilty," Gov. Culbert L. Olson said late yesterday in turning down a reprieve for the beady-eyed Los Angeles barber.

The crime was committed in Los Angeles in 1935, when hanging still was the legal method of execution in California.

Gas Ration Expected To Spur 'Doubling Up' Among Motorists

Owners to Be Quizzed on Mileage Between Homes and Offices. President Roosevelt's plan, announced yesterday, to "reduce the number of automobiles which are necessary to take men and women to and from their places of work," will get a boost when registration for gasoline ration cards begins May 12.

Application forms will ask these questions: "If you drive to work, what is the shortest mileage from your home to your regular place of work, or commuting point?" "Are you making every possible effort to reduce this mileage by using public transportation and by 'doubling-up' with your neighbor?"

The Office of Price Administration reported that five kinds of ration cards will be issued. The most generous will be the "X" card, giving unlimited supplies to the gas tank of ministers, doctors, taxi drivers, nurses and others.

Other cards will be designated "B-1," "B-2" or "B-3" and will provide greater amounts of gasoline, depending on the number of miles the motorist must drive to work.

A possibility that curtailment of gasoline consumption in the Pacific Northwest may be eased or lifted was seen in oil circles, meanwhile, as the Petroleum Co-ordination Office reported a substantial improvement in that area's motor fuel stocks.

The co-ordination office disclosed that the West Coast Petroleum Marketing Committee had asked that the restrictions in Oregon and Washington be lifted, due to better stock and transportation conditions.

San Diego Blacks Out, But Planes Are Friendly

By the Associated Press. SAN DIEGO, Calif., April 30.—San Diego residents last night experienced a 33-minute blackout during which Army searchlights played into the moonlight to pick out planes later identified as friendly.

The fourth interceptor command ordered the blackout at 10:40 p.m. Pacific war time, and the all-clear signal was given at 11:13 p.m.

Police said Mr. Cornett lost his legs in a railroad accident in Kentucky several years ago. He has artificial limbs.

Hammer Found in Hall. The bloody machinist's hammer was found in an entrance hallway. The telephone had been torn from the wall.

Police said Mr. Cornett was on the night shift at a camp at Indian-town Gap, Pa.

On their return trip to Washington they picked up an Army sergeant and the 16-year-old deserter, who were thumbing a ride, at Laurel. The sergeant got out at Fifteenth and H streets N.W. and Mrs. Simmons was let out at her home.

Allied Flyers Smash 20 Japanese Planes On New Guinea

Large Fires Are Set In Attack on Air Base at Lae

By the Associated Press.
ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Australia, April 30.—Allied planes destroyed or damaged 20 Japanese planes on the ground and started large fires in an attack yesterday on an enemy air base at Lae, New Guinea, it was announced officially today.

The assault was disclosed in an Allied communique which also reported that Japanese planes had attacked Port Moresby, New Guinea, three times yesterday, but had done only minor damage.

In addition to the attack on Lae, Allied planes also made a relatively light raid on the Japanese base at Korpang, capital of Dutch Timor, the bulletin said.

Reporting on the situation in the Philippines, Allied headquarters said the Japanese had landed reinforcements from five transports at Parang on the west shore of Mindanao Island—apparently in a determined effort to crush the small American and Filipino forces which still are maintaining gallant resistance there.

(The Tokio radio reported today that Japanese forces had completed occupation of both Parang and Cotabato, a short distance south. The retreating defenders left both towns afire, the Japanese declared.)

Corregidor Fortress, the communication said, again underwent heavy bombing yesterday and the surrounding fortified islands were extensively shelled. The guns of the forts answered the Japanese fire, silencing three batteries and destroying a truck column on the Luzon shore, headquarters said.

33 From Swedish Craft Also Reach New York; 19 Men Missing

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, April 30.—Twenty-five men from a torpedoed American freighter, whose sinking was announced today by the Navy, lived eight days in an open boat on rations of two hard crackers and a cup of water per man each day, they disclosed on their arrival here. Many suffered from injuries and exposure at sea.

Officers of the medium-sized ship, which had a crew of 38, said supplies were rationed carefully to make certain the food and water would last until rescue came. The boat was picked up by an American vessel on the eighth day and the men taken to a port in Bermuda. Chief Officer Phillip Curran of

SHORT LINE TO CAROLINAS AND SOUTH

Boston declared a torpedo "struck directly in the engine room and killed the watch of three men down there. The ship broke in two pretty rapidly and sank fast."

Seven Ambulance Drivers. Thirty-three survivors of a torpedoed Swedish steamer, the second torpedoing off the Atlantic Coast to be announced during the day, also arrived here. They included seven young ambulance drivers of the American Field Service, who eagerly asked for the latest baseball scores and shrugged off their experience at sea.

Thirteen members of the crew of the American ship and six of the crew of the Swedish ship were reported missing.

Mr. Curran said some of the 13 men on the American ship managed to toss a life raft overboard, but the lifeboat was unable to turn back to aid them "because two subs were sighted on the horizon—there was a regular wolf pack around us."

Attack Made April 15. "We heard the men yelling in the night," Mr. Curran said. "In the morning we couldn't find the raft." Second Mate Curtis Denton of New York City said the attack occurred April 15 at about 9:40 p.m. "I was asleep when an explosion

THE LAMB: I must apologise for just walking in like this. But I am here to remind you of a gentler way of dealing with that little trouble of yours.

JACK: Hmmm! I guess he must mean my constipation, Jill.

THE LAMB: You are quite correct. If you are one of those people with normal intestines who are troubled with constipation due to lack of "bulk" in the diet, KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN will not only correct the cause of the trouble, but will do it in a way that's surprisingly pleasant and gentle, too.

JILL: Let him go on, Jack. I want to hear more about this "gentle" idea.

THE LAMB: It's really very simple. Many medicinal laxatives work by prodding the intestines into action, or by drawing moisture into them from other parts of the body. But ALL-BRAN is quite different. It acts principally on the contents of the colon, helping you to have easy and normal elimination.

JACK: Say, you've got something there! But tell me, how does it taste?

THE LAMB: Oh! That's the best part. ALL-BRAN's now improved—golden-soft, doubly delicious. Try it—you'll love it. Eat it often and drink plenty of water.

AH! 3-RING TIME

Tonight, as millions rest up for tomorrow's war effort, they will enjoy a glass of Ballantine Ale or Ballantine Beer. Ale and beer, in moderation are such wholesome, satisfying wartime "refreshers"—leaving you fit as a fiddle to carry on with the job.

East Made Army Zone To Control Dimout, Stimson Explains

Voluntary Efforts Failed To Obscure Coast Towns, Secretary Asserts

Secretary of War Stimson said today the "imperative necessity" of controlling lightning which might aid Axis submarines was a prime reason for designating the entire Atlantic Coast a military area.

Voluntary efforts to control lighting on coastal resorts and cities have failed, Secretary Stimson told his press conference.

The Secretary said a friend reported witness a destruction of a ship off St. Augustine, Fla., which was facilitated by the glare from the shore.

Secretary Stimson stressed also that no mass evacuations were contemplated on the East Coast like those on the Pacific Coast, but instead policing and control of certain vital but limited areas with the aim of prohibiting potentially dangerous persons, whether alien or citizen, from entering these areas.

Bulk of Aliens Loyal. The War Department, he said, felt sure the great bulk of aliens were fully loyal, and the Army had no disposition to discriminate against aliens as such.

Secretary Stimson was commenting on the announcement made Sunday by Lt. Gen. Hugh A. Drum, commander of the Eastern Defense Command and the 1st Army, of preliminary plans for establishing an Eastern Military Area along the Atlantic Coast at an early date.

The War Secretary told a questioner he believed the order would permit resort to continue to operate, but added "if it is a question between bright lights and the lives of men aboard tankers who are bringing us oil, the lights will have to go out."

He said he noted on a recent visit to Miami, Fla., an route in inspection of the Florida Canal, that the blackout was nearly complete, yet did not seem to dampen the enjoyment of that resort.

Urges Rousing Send-offs. The Secretary also called on the "home towns" of the thousands of young selective service inductees to give the men "rousing" send-off as they leave for reception centers.

"That is the time to show we are proud of them and regard them as the key men of the country," the Secretary declared.

"We in the War Department favor very strongly a demonstration of feeling for the boys who are going to encounter hazards in all parts of the world," he said. "We have been very sorry for the lack of display of this feeling in many towns. We are at the point when our new Army is setting the pace for the morale of the country."

Secretary Stimson also announced today selection of a division camp site high in the Colorado Rockies for large-scale training of hardened combat troops. Men for the outfit will be hand-picked from skiers, guides, trappers and others.

Cadets Required to Enlist. Other requirements: For the duration candidates for enrollment in the advanced course of colleges R. O. T. C. units will be required to enlist in the Reserve Corps. This course is the last two years of the four-year R. O. T. C. training.

Four new senior R. O. T. C. units were authorized for colored college students. This brings the total of seven units to provide future Negro officers for the Army.

The new units and their types are: West Virginia State College, field artillery; Hampton Institute, coast artillery; North Carolina Agricultural and Technical College, infantry unit, and the Prairie View Texas State Normal and Industrial College, infantry unit.

More Colored Officers Trained. Secretary Stimson said that in the established officers training schools of the Army, the number of Negro candidates for commission rank had increased 46-fold since February 1, compared with a six-fold increase among white candidates. A total of 374 Negro soldiers are now attending these officer schools.

The Army has appointed 37 groups of officer recruiting boards to commission men in the Medical Corps in States east of the Mississippi River. These boards will begin recruiting physicians immediately. States west of the Mississippi will be covered at a later date.

Heading the boards in this area are First Lts. E. B. Sirota, Medical Corps, and Samuel T. Faber, infantry, for Maryland and the District. In Virginia Capt. R. M. Jacobson, M. C., and Capt. John B. Clark, infantry, will serve.

Foxhall Road Section Residences to Be Open May 9 for Charity

Nine to Be On Display To Raise Funds for Home for Incurables

Nine residences in the fashionable Foxhall road section will be opened to the public May 9 for the benefit of Washington's Home for Incurables.

Replacing the traditional benefit tea formerly held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Woods Bliss, the tour of homes will be conducted this year between 2 and 6 p.m. Socially prominent Washington women will receive the visitors.

Among the homes to be placed on view is that of Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Phillips, 2101 Foxhall road N.W., open to the public for the first time. The Phillips house is well known for its valuable collection of paintings.

Other homes in the group are those of Mrs. Anne Archbold, 3905 Reservoir road N.W., where tea will be served on the terrace; Mr. and Mrs. James Clement Dunn, 1714 Hoban road N.W.; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Clapper, 3125 Chain Bridge road N.W.; Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, former United States Minister to Norway, 1800 Foxhall road; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cushing, 2510 Foxhall road; Lt. Comdr. and Mrs. Walter F. Chappell, 4626 Garfield street N.W.; Mrs. Edward T. Stotesbury, 2300 Foxhall road N.W., and Mr. and Mrs. Morris Cafritz, 2301 Foxhall road N.W.

Admission tickets, which may be purchased at the homes on display during the hours of tour, are also being sold by Mrs. Moulton K. Johnson, 1607 Connecticut avenue N.W., and Mrs. Edward R. Pinkenstaedt, 3028 N street N.W. Mrs. Pinkenstaedt is president of the board of the Home for Incurables.

Chairman of the Benefit Committee is Mrs. Theodore S. Wilkinson. Mrs. Robert A. Taft is in charge of notices and Mrs. William B. Poland is chairman of the Poster Committee.

Selectee in Australia Greets D. C. Mother by Short Wave

Mrs. Mary E. Holmes Grateful for Listeners Who Notified Her to Tune In

"Hello, Mama!"

The words rang clear as a bell over 10,000 miles of war-troubled waters—Melbourne, Australia, to Washington, D. C.

In those words two hearts were united—those of a mother at home and a son who is among the "hundreds of thousands." President Roosevelt said are defending the frontiers of democracy over the world.

Two countries were united, for the message of the man at the front was one of grateful appreciation for the people of Australia.

And behind it all was a fascinating story of the part unnamed hundreds of short-wave radio listeners are doing to strengthen the morale of those anxious for word from some one far away.

This message yesterday was from Sgt. William F. Holmes, 34, to his mother, Mrs. Mary E. Holmes, 224 E street N.E. The son, who worked at the Government Printing Office before he was drafted on St. Patrick's Day, 1941, is attached to a medical unit now stationed "down under."

Australians "Grand."

For three minutes he talked.

"The Australian people are grand to us," he said. "They do everything they can to make us happy and feel at home. I have had many pleasant evenings here.

"Then reassuring words, "Do not worry, I am safe and well."

He sent his love to his sister, Mrs. Murray W. Gould, 3801 Sultland road S.E., her husband and two children, David, 14, and Merielys, 9, and to his friends.

Then he was gone.

But Mrs. Holmes, a widow, who operates a boarding house was thankful today not only for the message from her son but for the people—unknown to her—who made it possible for her to tune in. It is the kind of thing that almost any one can do to help bolster home morale.

First there was a phone call from a woman who refused to give her name. She had heard William's name mentioned over short wave from Australia and heard Mrs. Holmes' address. The full message apparently was misunderstood, for Mrs. Holmes feared that her son had been killed or hurt.

Special Notice by Mail.

Then, about 10 o'clock Tuesday night, came a special delivery letter from Dr. L. E. Szalo, 18740 River Cliff drive, Fairview Village, Ohio.

Peaceful Assembly Rights Dramatized by Students

Students of Roosevelt High School yesterday dedicated their "Our Freedoms" broadcast to the rights of petition and peaceful assembly, two of the major freedoms guaranteed Americans under the Bill of Rights.

The "Our Freedoms" series, presented jointly by The Star and the Senior High School Radio Committee over Station WMAL, pays tribute to the 150th anniversary of the Bill of Rights.

The Roosevelt High presentation featured several dramatic skits showing the rights of petition and of peaceful assembly in action. One depicted a meeting of strikers broken up by police, on the grounds of "unlawful assembly," despite the fact that the group held necessary permits to meet. The skit, following the actual case, traced it through to the final appeal, where the rights of the strikers to meet publicly was upheld.

Taking part in yesterday's program were Tom Garvey, Eugene Atherton, Kurt Berlin, Milliam Beriman, Fred Boss, Leo Borah, Hugh Bravner, George David Edwards, Jerrie Gossin, Charles Herndon, George Murray, Phyllis Rands, Ruth Reiter, Jack Scott and Charlotte Zeigler. Miss Esther Galbraith of the Roosevelt faculty prepared and directed the presentation.

Man Fined $500 for Sale Of Short-Weight Coal

George T. Miller, Trevorton, Pa., yesterday was sentenced in Police Court to pay a total of $600 in fines or serve 210 days in jail on charges of selling coal short weight and for allegedly failing to have the proper ticket in delivering it.

There was an alleged shortage of more than 3,000 pounds in the weight of the coal which had been represented to weigh 15,240 pounds, it was testified. A check on the weight was made by the District Department of Weights and Measures.

After the purchaser had become suspicious, it was said.

Judge George D. Neilson, who imposed the fines, declared Miller's acts constituted a "racket" and expressed the view they were particularly bad at the present time.

Judge Neilson sentenced Miller to pay a $500 fine or serve 180 days in jail on the short-weight charge and to pay a $100 fine or serve 30 days in jail on the ticket charge.

Bendix Denies Cartel Hurt War Effort in Canada, Australia

Aviation Firm Consultant Identifies Agreements Made With Germans

By The Associated Press.
Edmund Toland, counsel for the House Naval Affairs Committee, said today that international cartels between Bendix Aviation Co. and German aircraft firms "interfered with the war effort of Canada and Australia," but this was denied by Vincent Bendix, former president of the company.

Mr. Toland had Mr. Bendix, now a consultant to the aviation company at $4,000 a month, identify several agreements entered into with Robert Bosch Co. of Stuttgart, Germany, and Siemens of Berlin, both manufacturers of aircraft parts, and then produced correspondence in which a German firm asked Bendix not to supply instruments developed in Germany to Canada because of the war.

Denies Interference.
"Isn't it a fact," Mr. Toland asked Mr. Bendix, "that your company interfered with the war effort of Canada and Australia?"

"I wouldn't say so," Mr. Bendix replied, adding that the company had been "very co-operative."

Representative Maas, Republican, of Minnesota questioned the fairness of saying the company "interfered" with Canada's war effort on the grounds that it might not have "assisted" it.

An economic expert of the Justice Department testified earlier that production of acetylene and acetic acid in this country had been hampered by a partnership agreement between Standard Oil of New Jersey and I. G. Farbenindustrie, German industrial trust.

Manipulation Charged.
"By United States patents, Irving Lipkowitz told the committee, I. G. Farben succeeded in preventing the full development of a new process for making acetylene, the principle material used in the manufacture of acetic acid.

The United States used 293,000,000 pounds of acetic acid last year. Nearly half went into the production of cellulose acetate, a raw material used in making rayon, photographic film and plastics. Other uses were for solvents used in paints and varnishes, for making salicylic acid from which such pharmaceutical products as aspirin and salvarsan are derived, and for making dyes.

Four Navy Flyers Die In Alaska Plane Crash

By The Associated Press.
SEATTLE, Wash., April 30.—Three officers and an enlisted man were killed and three enlisted men injured in the crash of a Navy patrol plane on a takeoff at an Alaska air station, the 13th Naval District announced today.

The dead:
Ensign Frederick Andrew Smith, U. S. N. R., pilot and commanding officer; Ensign Glenn R. Van Brimmer, U. S. N. R., navigator; Ensign John S. Carruth, U. S. N. R., copilot; Harold D. Cunningham, second-class aviation machinist's mate, U. S. N.

The injured:
Alvin S. Zettel, radioman second class; Gifford A. King, seaman second class; Ralph Mitchell, radioman third class.

The Navy's announcement did not give the date nor location of the crash. It said none of the injured men was in a serious condition. The home addresses of the crew were not immediately available.

Voting against tabling were: Chairman Vinson and Representatives Maas, Republican, of Minnesota; Drewry, Democrat, of Virginia; Mott, Republican, of Oregon; Cole, Republican, of New York; Bates, Republican, of Massachusetts; Vincent, Democrat, of Kentucky; Jenks, Republican, of New Hampshire; Anderson, Republican, of California; Sasser, Democrat, of Maryland; Rivers, Democrat, of South Carolina; and Johnson, Republican, of California.

The tabling came after a last-minute attempt by several members to keep the legislation alive in order to "perfect" it through amendments in later executive session.

Representative Mott declared that Representative Bradley's motion would end "two months of careful, exhaustive study on an issue, the solution of which is vital to the people of the United States and one which they want settled and cured by legislation."

He was joined by Representative Maas and by Representative Bates, who argued that while they couldn't vote for the bill in its present form they wanted an opportunity to change it and improve it.

Motion Stirs Protests.
"Are you willing to give the members of the House an opportunity to vote on this issue on its merits?" Representative Maas asked Representative Bradley.

"I am as anxious as any one else here to consider profit limitation," retorted Representative Bradley, "but as a separate bill, not one muddled with other controversial issues."

"But by your motion, you are denying the committee an opportunity to perfect this bill," protested Chairman Vinson.

From Representative Shannon came the cry: "I don't want the laboring man crucified on false issues. We want neither the slave labor of Germany nor the slave labor of Russia. We want to carry on in the American way."

Joining in the argument, Representative Bates maintained that some steps should be taken to allow working men to earn extra money "even at straight time," adding that this was particularly necessary in the highly competitive industries which are unable to pay time-and-one-half wages for work in excess of 40 hours.

One informed member of the Senate predicted that no action would be taken by that body on labor legislation which time the situation might be expected to "clarify" as public sentiment crystallized.

Mr. Davis said the President's message referred the problem of wage stabilization to "the War Labor Board and its machinery." The machinery, Mr. Davis said, goes all the way down to collective bargaining. "I interpret the President's message very definitely," he said, "to leave the field to collective bargaining."

Asked whether an effective ceiling on prices would eliminate generally the reason for higher wages, Mr. Davis said, "Generally, yes." He emphasized the first word of his reply and said inequalities deserved remedies.

The War Labor Board chairman, when asked whether an effective price ceiling would eliminate generally the basis of demands for higher wages, replied, "Generally, yes." He added, however, there were existing inequalities for which some concessions in broad policy might be expected.

But, said Mr. Davis, "You're not going to improve the standard of living of the worker who's getting a standard wage now." Asked to define a standard wage, Mr. Davis said a wage obtained in real collective bargaining was a standard wage at the time it was obtained, in his opinion.

Asked what effect the wage-steadying policy would have on union maintenance and security, Mr. Davis said: "This thing will take leadership to put over. We are going to have to call on the leaders of labor to put this idea over. That is more reason for upholding the hand of the leaders of labor."

Before the Naval Committee acted, Representative Isaac, Democrat, of California declared that approval of the bill would "constitute a slap in the face for the President."

Even more emphatic was Representative Cannon, Democrat, of Missouri, who asserted that the bill's profit limitation feature was inserted "simply to railroad the labor restrictions through Congress."

D. C. Clearings Set Record for April and Four Months Latest Report Shows Volume Far Above Peaks of 1929

By EDWARD C. STONE. Bank clearings in Washington in April shattered all previous records for business in the Capital's history and also set a new all-time high mark in the first four months of the year, George H. Bright, manager of the Clearing House Association, announced today.

Clearings in April totaled $157,760,113.43 against $147,871,745.61 in April of a year ago, a jump of $9,888,367.82. This total was far ahead of the famous year 1929 when April clearings reached $129,300,050.37, causing wide comment and general surprise.

Bank clearings in the first four months of 1942 totaled $620,918,814.43, today's report shows, against $535,615,180.98 last year, a sharp increase of $85,303,633.45. Canceled checks in the like period in 1929 totaled $500,183,311.05.

The April report indicates the best business in the month on record and also discloses very heavy spending on the part of Capital residents, bankers said. Clearings so far this year compare as follows with the corresponding months in 1941:

Table with columns for Year (1941, 1942, 1941) and various financial metrics like Clearings, Canceled Checks, etc.

Our chief object right now is to help place War savings bonds in every household, as it should be understood that this war must be financed in a great part out of the income of the rank and file of citizens if it is to be avoided, President Roosevelt declared at a conference here with the 11 other Home Loan presidents, Home Loan Administration, Treasury officials and the National Housing Agency.

Every citizen has an individual job to do if we are to win this war, he continued. We have all got to contribute our money and our services to one or another of the various necessities of regular purchase of War bonds, not only in daily over-the-counter sales, but in weekly and monthly payroll deductions and through other group plans.

Selected Stocks Up Fractions to More Than 2 Points

A. T. & T. Takes Lead in Quiet Extension of Market Recovery

By VICTOR EUBANK. NEW YORK, April 30—Stocks angled for further recovery in today's market and, on the whole, were moderately successful.

While the extension of yesterday's brisk rally was rather half-hearted, additional strength displayed by American Telephone, Chrysler, and other favorites, at the best, ran to 2 or more points for favorites. Prices flattened out here and there in the final hour, but plus signs were well distributed.

There was a fair amount of activity in the forenoon when quotations were around the top. The ticker tape reverted to sluggishness later and transfers for the full proceedings were around 300,000 shares, against 412,000 Wednesday.

Technical influences, based on the thought the list had overdone the decline, again were given the main credit for the market's generally higher inclinations. The war news was about a stand-off as the market began to recover from a sharp decline. Some with plenty of cash at their disposal were inclined to buy up cheaply offered more assurances of the practicability of the price-fixing program and other anti-inflationary steps.

In the rising dividend most of the time were Bethlehem, Chrysler, Pontiac, American Can, International Harvester, United States Rubber, common and preferred, American Tobacco, Liggett & Myers, B. Philip Morris, Paramount Pictures, Montgomery Ward, Anaconda and International Nickel.

Among feeble movers were American Smelting, Johns-Manville, Santa Fe and Republic Steel.

The bond market lost quite a bit of its forward moving urge, but a sufficient number of issues added to the list to begin trading at a point to keep the main trend steady as the final hour neared.

NEW YORK, April 30—Bethlehem Steel Corp. reported a net profit of $6,140,682 or $2.51 a share in the first quarter of 1942, compared with $10,459,742 or $2.96 a share in the preceding quarter and $10,436,028 or $2.95 a share in the corresponding period last year.

Directors declared a dividend of $1.50 a share on the common stock, the same as paid in recent quarters. The dividend is payable June 1 to stock of record May 11. The regular quarterly dividend of $1.75 a share on the 7 percent preferred was declared, payable July 1 to stock of record June 5.

The estimated value of orders on hand March 31 was $1,222,000,000, compared with $1,237,500,000 on December 31, 1941, and $1,232,200,000 on March 31, 1941.

Production of steel ingots and castings averaged approximately 96 per cent of capacity during the first quarter of 1942, compared with 103 per cent during the fourth quarter of 1941 and 100.3 during the first quarter of 1942.

Current steel production, E. G. Grace, president, said was approximately 100 per cent of capacity. Total income of the corporation, reports showed, was $40,735,391 in the first quarter of 1942, compared with $62,533,658 in the last quarter of 1941 and $26,558,128 in the first quarter last year.

Wheeling Steel. The report of Wheeling Steel Corp. and subsidiaries for the quarter ended March 31 showed net profit of $1,200,000, equal, after preferred dividend requirements, to $1.31 a share on the common stock. This compared with $1,661,000 or $1.37 a share in the 1941 first quarter.

Provision for Federal income and excess profits taxes in the March quarter amounted to $2,625,000, and included about $375,000 in anti-inflationary tax credits. Total income of the corporation, reports showed, was $40,735,391 in the first quarter of 1942, compared with $62,533,658 in the last quarter of 1941 and $26,558,128 in the first quarter last year.

Barndahl Oil Co. reported for the quarter ended March 31 net profit of $775,248, equal to 35 cents a share, against $498,569, or 21 cents a share in the March quarter last year.

Climax Molybdenum. Climax Molybdenum reported net profit for the three months ended March 31, after a special reserve of $1,500,000 to provide for an increase in Federal taxes, was $2,048,892, equal to $1.82 a share, compared with $1,844,925, or 73 cents a share in the corresponding quarter of 1941.

Russo-Jap War Sure, Says Head of Chinese Mission in Capital

Gen. Hsiung-Fei Urges United Nations to Start Double Offensive

War between Russia and Japan is inevitable in the opinion of Lt. Gen. Hsiung-Fei, head of the Chinese Military Mission here, and the United Nations should not give the Japanese enough time to exploit their present conquests and strengthen themselves for further aggression. He did not attempt to time the expected outbreak of hostilities between Japan and Russia but insisted that their military positions and their whole histories pointed inevitably to conflict between them. At a press conference at the Chinese Embassy yesterday, he said he thought the United Nations can and should fight an offensive war against both Japan and Germany, and pointed out that diversion of our naval and air strength would provide the needed offensive strength in the Pacific area while the British-American-Russian land power could be concentrated in the European theater.

Here for Conferences. Expecting to participate in Allied consultations here, Gen. Hsiung-Fei expressed confidence at a press conference at the Chinese Embassy yesterday afternoon that the United Nations would win the final victory, but emphasized that there must be unified and co-ordinated strategy. "We all realize," he said, "that a lack of co-ordination among ourselves at the beginning of the war enabled Japan, after more than four years of exhausting war with China, to win notable victories in the Southwest Pacific. And now, in contrast, we see that Japan and Germany, in pursuing a strategy possibly designed to meet in the Persian Gulf, have manifested their striking desire in co-ordinating their efforts."

"It had been the aim of your country and every other country on our side to keep the peace honorably as long as possible, and so it was that not until Japan herself took the initiative were we able to begin to formulate a common strategy. In consequence, losses were sustained, but we must not allow the Axis nations to exploit the conquests they have already made. Japan's Gains Cited.

"In particular, Japan has acquired inexhaustible supplies of rubber, oil, sugar and rice; and if given time to consolidate her conquests, she will become almost impregnable and the war in the Pacific will be indefinitely prolonged. Germany at present is being held in check by Great Britain and Soviet Russia, but under no circumstances should Japan be given a breathing spell to wax stronger for wider conquests."

"In our grand war strategy China has her assigned responsibilities.

Therefore she should be supplied not merely in the spirit of friendly assistance but as a definite consideration in strategic necessity to give to a fighting ally supplies which will be sufficient for the task assigned and expected of her." China's principal needs, the general explained, are for military airplanes and heavy artillery. Her own production facilities are adequate for light arms and ammunition, he said, and the nation's manpower is fully adequate if the fighting tools are made available.

Cut in Recorded Music Gives Orchestra Vital Role, Says Kindler

Conductor Points to Value of Programs In War's Stresses

Dr. Hans Kindler, conductor of the National Symphony Orchestra, said yesterday as he prepared to leave for two guest-conducting assignments at Toronto, Canada, that the drastic curtailment of the manufacture and sale of recorded music during the present emergency makes it more important than ever that living music should continue.

Dr. Kindler's statement was made in connection with the symphony's drive for a $114,000 sustaining fund to carry it through the 1942-3 season, now $41,760 short of its goal.

"Of course, recorded music is a marvelous source of morale, solace and propaganda in the best sense of the word," the conductor admitted, "but inasmuch as it is probable that that source will be cut off, or at least drastically curtailed, we need uncanonized, fresh music more than ever before."

People may smile at the idea that symphony music can mean a great deal to a nation at war and particularly to members of the armed forces, he said. "But," he added, "670 soldiers attended our last concert in Richmond, Va., last month, and each of them paid 35 cents to hear two great big symphonies—there was no 'pop' stuff at all."

As further proof of the value of symphonic music in wartime, Dr. Kindler also cited the reply of the British government to an English conductor who wanted to resign his post in order to fight: "We want you to remember that we shall not fight any better, nor as well, if we fail to maintain the very things we are fighting for."

Traffic Deaths Decline 11 Per Cent During March

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, April 30.—Traffic deaths have slumped sharply despite heavy travel.

The National Safety Council so reported last night in announcing that motor vehicle fatalities in March numbered only 2,440, or 11 per cent fewer than those of the corresponding month of 1941.

The drop was attributed to evidence that motorists were driving with more caution to conserve their cars and were less inclined to go off on long distance, high speed trips.

Council statisticians decided that available figures indicated mileage had not been curtailed appreciably although tires and cars were being rationed. They surmised that "last fling" drivers and war-boomed transportation had kept motors humming at a comparatively normal pitch.

March was the second consecutive month to show a slump in traffic deaths after they had been on the upward trend for 17 months in a row.

Misses Elizabeth Collins, Fay Fletcher and Lucy Johnson, all of Manassas, Va., were included on the dean's list of honor students for the winter quarter of the 1941-2 session at Mary Washington College, Fredericksburg, it was announced today.

Library to Set Up War Reading Room For Public Guidance

C. P. Taft to Speak at Reception Tuesday Initiating Service

A war reading room, bringing together in one place for easy consultation books, pamphlets, maps and other printed material useful to the public in time of war, will be opened in the Central Library, Eighth and K streets N.W., with a reception from 4:30 to 8 p.m. Tuesday.

Charles P. Taft, co-ordinator of defense health and recreation under the office of the Federal security administrator, will speak at 5 p.m. He will be introduced by Commissioner Guy Mason.

Members of the Board of Trustees of the District Public Library will be on hand to receive visitors.

"Here will be found information on civilian defense, nutrition, budgeting, consumer interests, child care, home entertainments, gardening and other suggestions for making life as satisfactory as possible under the necessary restrictions of war," reported the trustees in announcing plans to open the room. "Here also will be found books on the causes of the war, on the traditions of democracy, on the American way of life and on post-war planning."

Staff members who will be on duty in the room will be especially informed in the subjects included in the collection. They will be able to guide readers in its use and also to direct them to the resources of other divisions of the library.

"Now I see why he wanted HANES!"

• "JIM asked me to get him some HANES broadcloth Shorts today. He said he likes their comfortable fullness—that they won't bind or pinch.

"I can see myself that the material hasn't been skimped. Jim will get a lot of wear out of them. They're sewed well too—and that means less work for me."

Your own men-folks will appreciate HANES broadcloth Shorts. You can choose from many smart new patterns and colors. Buttons or snap fasteners. They team up perfectly with a HANES Undershirt. It's made from soft, absorbent, premium cotton—knit to exact chest size and cut for proper length.

10 Missing After Sinking Of U. S. Ship by U-Boat

By the Associated Press. WILLEMSTAD, Curacao, April 30.—Two officers and eight men of a United States merchant ship sunk by a submarine early Sunday morning in waters near here are still missing, it was disclosed yesterday following the arrival of 25 survivors in this Netherlands West Indies territory.

The 25 reached the island of Bonaire, southeast of Curacao, Tuesday, the Areta News Agency said. Two of them remained in the Bonaire Hospital to be treated for shock, and the 23 others were flown to Willemstad in two planes of the K. L. M.—Royal Netherlands airline.

The survivors, unshaven and many of them suffering from painful cuts and bruises, told of the sudden attack by the submarine, which shelled and torpedoed their vessel, allowing them less than three minutes to launch one lifeboat.

The lifeboat remained in the vicinity until dawn, searching for crew members in the sea and picking them up one by one. One seaman kept up his spirits by singing loudly as he swam around in search of a lifeboat.

McNear Won't Accept Labor Arbitrator's Decision

By the Associated Press. PEORIA, Ill., April 30.—George P. McNear, Jr., president of the Government-operated Toledo, Peoria and Western Railroad, advised the War Labor Board last night that he would not participate in arbitration of a labor dispute on the line and that he would not accept findings of the arbitrator.

In a lengthy telegram to Chairman William H. Davis, Mr. McNear replied to the board's recent message advising him that "the case will proceed ex parte if you continue to maintain your defiant position and fail to participate in the hearing."

Mr. McNear remained as president of the road after the Federal Government took over control March 22, terminating a strike of nearly three months.

beautiful bright metallic yellow eyes. The throat of the male is black; the females have light-colored throats and a few spots on their jaws.

The eggs of the toad will be found in long tangled strings, much like those of the American toad. They are arranged in one or two rows in the same laying, and they are slightly smaller than those laid by our American toad.

Another Moslem Claimant Convicted as Draft Violator

Another man claiming to be a Moslem has been convicted by a District Court jury of failing to register for selective service. Assistant United States Attorney John C. Conliff, Jr., presented evidence yesterday in the court of Justice T. Alan Goldsborough.

The Government introduced in evidence a statement which Nipper gave to Federal Bureau of Investigation agents, in which he was quoted as saying that as a Moslem he was registered with the nation of Islam rather than the laws of the United States.

Man Held in $6,500 Bail On Housebreaking Charges

John Weber, 59, who was arrested several nights ago by Policeman William Porter of No. 1 precinct after allegedly smashing the window of a downtown jewelry store, yesterday was held under $6,500 bond for grand jury action when taken before Judge John P. McMahon in Police Court on charges of housebreaking and attempted housebreaking. The attempted housebreaking charge was placed in connection with the jewelry store window smashing and bond for it was set at $1,500. The additional $5,000 bond was set in the housebreaking charge. Policeman Porter had been attracted by the sound of breaking glass at the jewelry store and captured Weber at the scene, he explained. Weber is said to have resided in the 1000 block of Twelfth street N.W.

War's Coming Makes Labrador Land of Contrasts and Paradox

Planes Transport Luxuries to One Area; Another Section Gets Mail Twice a Year

(Second of a Series.)

By B. J. McQUAID, Foreign Correspondent of The Star and Chicago Daily News.

A LABRADOR AIR BASE—A year ago, the largest community in Labrador was Northwest River, a little Hudson's Bay Co. trading post and Grenfell mission station, which is a long trip from here by dog team. Northwest River has a dozen permanent buildings, which shelter about 100 persons, including the Eskimo children who attend the mission's boarding school.

Today—Less than a two-hour air ride from Northwest River—there is a city in Labrador, with automobiles, electric lights and modern plumbing. There are runways capable of accommodating the largest ocean-flying airplanes and capable of limitless expansion for the great freight-carrying planes. One can drive over 100 miles of eight-lane highway—the only highway in Labrador—without seeing a single billboard. Some of this highway, to be sure, won't exist much longer. It was created by the simple expedient of bowing over 80-foot spruce trees with bulldozers, and its base is frozen muck, which is now deteriorating rapidly under an April sun.

Much of System Permanent. But much of the base's highway system is permanent, having been built on a 500-foot depth of sand blasted swept in here somehow in centuries when the ice was in. In about mid-July, roads won't be necessary anyway. There is no underbrush in Labrador and the spruce and birches, in most places, grow wide apart, so that you can actually drive an automobile at a good clip, winding your way right through the woods, with nothing for pavement except the endless carpet of caribou moss.

All these things make Labrador a land of contrasts and paradox. Little Eskimo boys gaze in wide-eyed wonder at the snowmobiles—airplane-propellered sleds—which the white men use in lieu of dog teams. Their fathers, accustomed to trading with Hudson's Bay—get work on construction gangs at the rate of $4 a day. A week of such wages means more wealth than they have ever known. No wonder the construction bosses complain that the Eskimos are uncertain help. After a week, drunk with wealth, they knock off and go fishing, or caribou hunting.

The R. C. A. F. authorities and the Grenfell mission people tell me that I am the first newspaperman in Labrador since 1924, when a delegation from New York and New England came up to welcome the returning round-the-world Army flyers. Even then the boys came only as far as the coast. Nobody seems to know when, if ever, another reporter has penetrated the Labrador interior.

War Changes Situation. After all, why should any white man, except a Hudson's Bay factor or an explorer or an artist, want to go to Labrador? It is the war which has made Labrador accessible—the war and the airplane.

This whole development was inspired by the airplane, and the need for continental security against air invasion. And without the airplane it would not have been possible to maintain and supply this huge base.

In the old days—say a year ago—a summertime sailing voyage to Labrador, even if it only extended to Battle Harbor, on the southeast coast, was a great event. It took nine or 10 days of hardy and adventurous travel.

But we flew to Labrador from a New Brunswick base in only four or five hours in our comfortably heated Douglas DC-3 transport, converted for use as a freighter. And along with us went half a dozen mechanics and electrical specialists for the construction gangs, plus about 4,000 pounds of freight, including hundreds of pounds of fresh eggs and frankfurters.

Now Regular Service. This is now a regularly scheduled air service which makes available to the R. C. A. F. men not only such luxuries as fresh eggs and fruit, but airmail. And when you think of daily airmail service in Labrador, think of the Grenfell mission people at Northwest River, who are still living in the pre-air age. They get mail twice a year.

But the influence of the big air base, and its daily airmail service, is spreading. From Frobisher Bay to the Belle Isle Strait, Wing Comdr. W. C. "Packy" McFarlane has taken to putting on moving picture shows, to which he invites the Labrador public. The other night I attended the Labrador preview of "Hound of the Baskervilles." The audience was chiefly Eskimo. One parka-clad, mukluk-shod family included a mother, father and 14 children. Another, with five children, came in from the far north by dog team and had been 14 days on the trail.

They think nothing of traveling two or three weeks by dog team to see one of Packy's pictures. And they go wild with delight over the romantic shots. When the feller kisses the girl they are convulsed by mirth, right down to the 4-year-olds. Seems it really is true about the Eskimos rubbing noses.

District Aldes to Take Part In Defense Demonstration

District defense officials are to join at 3 and 8 p.m. today in staging supposedly real activities under air-raid conditions at the Army's civilian defense model control center operation, at the Departmental Auditorium.

Commissioner John Russell Young, metropolitan civilian defense co-ordinator, will play the role of defense corps commander. Police Chief Edward J. Kelly, that of chief of emergency police service; Fire Chief Stephen T. Porter, chief of emergency fire service; Battalion Chief Clement Murphy, chief air raid warden; Dr. John A. Reed, chief of emergency medical service; and Col. Lemuel Bolles, civilian defense executive director.

The afternoon performance is scheduled for defense officials in Federal and District Government buildings, apartments, stores and industrial establishments, and the evening meeting for deputy wardens and members of other civilian defense services, though both meetings are open to the public.

The demonstrations will be conducted under direction of Col. Thomas H. McHatton, commanding officer of the Army's civilian defense school at the University of Maryland.

Raid Warden Vacancies Must Be Filled Tonight

Tonight is the deadline for Civilian Defense Committees to make nominations for filling vacancies in the air-raid warden service, or to name needed additional personnel. If the committees fail to file nominations by 6 p.m., the job will be taken over by Chief Air Raid Warden Clement Murphy, under the terms of orders issued recently by Commissioner John Russell Young as metropolitan civilian defense co-ordinator. Chief Murphy estimated recently that despite the many thousands now enlisted the air raid warden service is but 70 per cent organized.

Bible Classes to Give Show. The Ruth and Men's Bible Classes of Atonement Lutheran Church will present a minstrel show at the parish hall, Rhode Island avenue and North Capitol street N.E., tomorrow at 8 p.m.

American Who Saw Dunkerque Recalls Cigarette-Wine Diet

IT'S WATER NOW—During the battle of Dunkerque, Lt. Sidney Bracy, Jr., kept going for nine days on champagne and cigarettes. During an interview in the office of the British Press Service he is buoyed by a glass of water and a cigarette.—Star Staff Photo.

By RICHARD MURPHY.

Living on champagne and cigarettes might sound good to some people, but not to Second Lt. Sidney Bracy, Jr., who says he subsisted on that diet for nine days during the evacuation of Dunkerque.

Lt. Bracy is an American, the only one, it is said, who was among the evacuated British forces. He is in Washington on "emergency leave," purpose and future undisclosed.

The lieutenant, who is 34 years old and was born and educated in England, came to this country in 1923. He went to Hollywood with his family and became an American citizen. He was an actor for a while, but was "so bad," he admitted, that he entered the production end of the movies, worked as a sound man, a cameraman and an assistant director.

He was in England with the London branch of an American movie company when war broke out. He enlisted with the Royal Engineers September 23, 1939, and became a truck driver.

Built Secondary Defenses. His regiment was sent to France to build secondary defenses to back up the Maginot Line. When the great German drive began Pvt. Bracy and his outfit came to Douai.

The bombing started about May 16. Lt. Bracy said yesterday. It continued spasmodically until June 1. After that, until June 4, the day he left and the last day troops were evacuated, the bombing was incessant, night and day.

The champagne-and-cigarette diet began nine days before. It wasn't the French refugee children who were everywhere, begging for food. So most of the chocolate and the bread and the meat went to them and the soldiers took what was left. "What a taste!" Lt. Bracy recalled. "It was in my mouth for three days after I got to England."

A Sleepless Time. Besides a very one-sided diet, the soldiers also had little sleep. The lieutenant estimated that he had about 14 hours sleep during those last nine days.

"At first, a chap had to ride along with me in the truck I was driving and prood in the ribs to keep me awake, but after a while I got a sort of second wind," he said.

The Germans dropped pamphlets urging the troops to surrender on May 30 but Lt. Bracy says that he did not hear one man favor it.

He crossed the Channel in a destroyer which he swam a mile to reach. The trip, which usually takes about two hours and a half, took nine, since the usual route could not be used. The enemy was shelling it from Calais.

The ship arrived at Dover, loaded with soldiers and some of the thousands of dogs which the men brought in despite the English quarantine because of the danger of hydrophobia.

Scared by Own Planes. At the sound of an English plane passing overhead, the soldiers would dive for shelter. It had become second nature for them to do that.

Lt. Bracy was stationed at Coventry, Chester, Cardiff and London after his return. He then was ordered to Iceland, where he served under Maj. Gen. Henry Osborne Curtis.

Lt. Bracy left Iceland about a month ago to see his father, star of the silent films who is ill in Hollywood. Lt. Bracy still calls it home.

He arrived in Washington Saturday. He is glad to see this country so enthusiastic about the war effort. Reporters yesterday noted that Lt. Bracy was smoking, but that he was drinking nothing but water.

Night Hike Along Canal Planned by Capital Club

A moonlight hike from Chain Bridge along the towpath to Feeder Lock Md., will be sponsored at 7:45 o'clock tonight by the Capital Hiking Club.

Campfire games and food will climax the hike. The public is invited to join the group, which will meet at Stop No. 30 on the Cabin John car line. In case of rain, the hike will be held tomorrow night.

How to Put Car In Storage for War's Duration

By the Associated Press.

Laying your car up for the duration? If so the Bureau of Standards suggested today that you do these things:

Wash the car, preferably with steam; wax it, lubricate it thoroughly with oil sprayed on chassis and underbody, change oil, remove all gasoline from tank and feedlines, drain radiator, stuff exhaust and other engine openings to keep out insects, remove radiator hose connections and grease battery connections.

The battery may be left in place, but it will deteriorate and probably should be sold. If storage place is cool and dark the tires may be left on the car but should be deflated and the car set up on blocks.

Upholstery should be protected from dirt and moths in the same way as furniture.

Communist Challenged in Pennsylvania Poll

By the Associated Press.

HARRISBURG, Pa., April 30.—The only Communist party candidate to seek office in the November general election was challenged today in the first action under a 1941 law barring from the ballot political groups which have as their aim the overthrow of government by force.

The Elections Bureau announced a hearing for 10 a.m. Monday on validity of nominating petitions filed by Anna Chait, a leather worker, as a Communist party candidate for State representative from the 1st Philadelphia district.

New Zealanders Get Gas For 40 Miles Monthly

By the Associated Press.

WELLINGTON, New Zealand, April 30.—New Zealand yesterday reduced the gasoline ration to allow 40 miles of private motoring monthly, rationed sugar at 12 ounces per person weekly and limited women's hosiery sales to one pair every three months.

After Dark News and Comment of the Night Clubs. By the Spectator. Trade Mark Registered. U. S. Patent Office.

Next to radio, night clubs are perhaps the best place in the world for gauging a popular tune and its effect on the listening public to which it is dedicated for better or worse.

But, to wander back to the original premise, trends of tuneful ditties may readily be noted by either of the following week-in-week-out procedures: (a) listening to what is being played, (b) consulting the musical performer on what is being requested most.

Note-worthy are the latter two. Cole Porter would still appear to be peer of them all with his "Begin the Beguine," "Night and Day," "Just One of Those Things" et al.

Not so in the Sazerac Room or the Anchor Room where Angie Rondante and Eileen George, respectively, hold forth. There your "Blue-hoo-hoo-hoo in the Night" and "I Don't Wanna Walk Without You" echo without surcease these days.

Then if the individual weren't content in his tabulation of songs in demand, he might unavoidably stumble across a few clumps of press agents with papers bulging out of pockets, handbills and brief cases 12 by 12 feet in dimension. Here he would pick up such noteworthy items as "Dress Up, Baby," a number which is part of a new campaign to assure women that fashion plays an important role in wartime morale.

Johnny Long's knack for obtaining four-piece high-voltage ensembles to cater to El Patio patrons is further enhanced by the performances of the Four Toppers, who have just finished one four-week stay and started another without so much as a pause in between.

Joe Giordano and his electric fiddle is a chief reason, as you can see in either "Ciribiribi" or "One O'Clock Jump." In a jazzman's beloved phrase he "beats his brains out." But so do the rest, including Danny Mazola who sings hep-cat stuff in much the same way as Slim Gaillard of Flat Foot Floogie fame.

Advertise to Keep Brand Names Alive, Producers Are Told Commerce Department Cites Danger of Losing Value of Labels

Continued advertising to keep brand names alive in the public mind was advocated in the current issue of Domestic Commerce, weekly publication of the Commerce Department.

With the advent of war, wrote Nathan D. Golden, one of the department's industrial consultants, the function of advertising becomes increasingly important and one of its major jobs is "providing information to those fighting on the home front and in the production fields."

"With the possible introduction of the 'victory' label for canned and packaged goods," said Mr. Golden, "the question arises, what will happen to brand names of merchandise for which producers have spent millions of dollars in advertising to make consumers 'brand conscious'?"

Manufacturers in Great Britain have met this problem in safeguarding their investment in brand names by continued advertising. Brand names can and should be kept alive in the minds of those to whom the manufacturer must look for business in the post-war period.

Steinbeck's Scolded Drama Brings a Mere $300,000

'The Moon Is Down,' Spurned by Critics As a Play, Sets All-Time Mark In Purchase of Film Rights

By JAY CARMODY.

If he cares to put it on a purely commercial basis, which he is and artist enough not to do, John Steinbeck can have the last laugh at the expense of the critics who were fairly unanimous in not liking his "The Moon Is Down."

Just before official action is taken in Washington to limit income to $25,000 annually—perhaps—the movies have paid Steinbeck $300,000 for the screen rights to his play. That sets a new all-time high in transactions of its kind, puts the play $15,000 up on "Lady in the Dark," which previously held the record at $285,000. It also probably establishes the story as the most profitable ever written by a single individual, the movie purchase price being added to the royalties accruing from the sale of 500,000 copies of the book, and a weekly gross income of some $16,000 for the play.

Fiscally speaking, Mr. Steinbeck has a laugh coming. "The Moon Is Down" brought the most spirited bidding in the history of the movies. Before it was landed by Twentieth Century-Fox Studios, which made the author's "Grapes of Wrath" a picture prize winner in 1941, every company with a respectable bank account entered a bid for it.

Even before it opened as a play, there were tales of offers as high as $300,000 for the rights to it. These rumors were discounted by some of the better scoffers, especially after the play's critical reception and the knowledge that it had been turned down by one of the most prominent New York producers. The scoffers just did not know their Hollywood. Nor did the critics who refused to award their prize on the ground that while it was the best drama of the season, it was not worthy of a prize.

A man would be insane to write erudite plays at prices like that. The lyrical press agent: "King's Row goes into terrific second week at the Earle." "Probably means 'but terrific.'" The blunt press agent: "Saboteur" stays for a second week at Keith's.

Virgil Fox Concludes Organ Series Skill and Art Revealed in Rare Recital

By ELENA DE SAYN.

An impressive organ recital, such as one has not many occasions to record, was heard last night at the Washington Cathedral, given by Virgil Fox under the auspices of the District of Columbia Chapter, American Guild of Organists.

When an artist has the power to lift his listener beyond the walls of a great cathedral or a concert hall, and can enrich the scope of one's vision by a new experience, he is a master indeed. It was a revelation to hear Mr. Fox, who made use of the possibilities of the organ, and drew to the fullest upon its inexhaustible resources.

Radio Series Slated

The Players' Club of Central Community Center plans a short series of amateur radio dramatizations to replace the customary spring presentation of the group. Joseph Cunningham, director, announces that try-outs for the series will be held Friday at 8 p.m. at Central High School.

Church Group Play

The Teresian Club of St. Teresa's Catholic Church, Thirteenth and V streets S.E., will offer a three-act comedy, "A Ready-Made Family," Sunday at 3:15 and 8:30 p.m., and Monday and Tuesday at 8:30 p.m. Bernard Fury directs.

The changes that have taken place in the most privileged area of the world, especially in Hollywood.
Mr. Cagney chatted with the critics along that line. Mark Sandrich, the director, was sitting nearby behind a screen. He was talking to Gene Ford. Every now and then the critics caught a word. Mr. Ford will be the man in charge of the details of the staging of the show at the Capitol tonight. They were too busy to talk, save to each other.
"Frank Selzer, the press agent who has been with the troupe since it left Hollywood Sunday night, came up to say hello and to comment on how hard Mr. Sandrich works. He has had only seven hours sleep in nearly four days, Frank said.
"Miss Oberon came in then. She was with Alexander Korda, the producer, who is her husband. She was introduced as Mrs. Korda. But the people standing around, more prominent New York producers. Get out the canned cranberry sauce, brush up on your stuffing recipes, and sharpen the carving set—you can have turkey this week end. A number of local dealers are receiving shipments of birds, fresh killed in their tender youth, from nearby farms. These turkeys are not expensive, are of a good size and should do nicely as a change for the Sunday dinner, with extended service to hash, salad and soup for later in the week. Chickens and ducks are plentiful and good, too, so if turkey is too much for your household, you'll have little trouble choosing a substitute.

All cuts of veal are among the recommended buys, with boned and rolled roasts proving most popular, although cutlets and chops are also attractively priced. There is some "spring" lamb available in small quantities, but the really big shipments are still two or three weeks off, I am told. Several cuts of beef are to be especially priced—watch the advertisements for suggestions. Cold cuts offered by several markets are more reasonable in price than usual—but the thermometer will have a lot to do with their popularity.

Fish of all sorts is plentiful and, for the most part, cheap. We hope you are not tired of shad roe, because it is at its very best just now. Its season is all too short as it is, so make the most of it while you can. Good Northern fresh lobster seems to be getting less expensive, which is good news for those of you who like your cold lobster mayonnaise, or a luscious lobster salad on hot days. Local fish is always good and cheap—and there is a wide variety from which to choose.

Greens continue to be offered to marketers in a tempting and lavish array, and asparagus from New Jersey is exceptionally good. It struck me that most produce prices were slightly higher than they have been, so it will be to shop wisely and for the exact amount you need, rather than with a too-free hand. Zucchini is excellent this week, as are white and yellow summer squash. Broccoli is looking a bit full-bloomed and yellow, but cauliflower has improved over the supplies noted last week. Cabbage is coming in in fine, compact green heads at very low cost. Steam it in a minimum amount of water, or use it in a raw vegetable salad, to get all those valuable vitamins!

Fruit supplies continue at low ebb, with strawberries and pineapples about the only real attraction. Oranges and grapefruit, of course, are still with us, but there is nothing really "springlike" to give a lift to the picture. Some malaga-type grapes from the Argentine are to be grocer every time you buy baking powder, gelatin, and so on. If the makers of the brands you select are putting out special little booklets that incorporate a number of such recipes. A great many are finding their way to my desk here in the office, and their increasing number would indicate that the project is finding favor with a large group of manufacturers. A file of such booklets in your kitchen cabinet would help immensely in conserving the sugar supply and in lending variety to the family's desserts and bake-stuffs.

An announcement has been made of the advent of fiber "cans" and cartons in which cellophane is laminated to cardboard as a new type of food container. A number of these were exhibited by the Du Pont company at the annual packaging show at the Hotel Astor in New York the middle of this month. A second type of container is known as the "bag-and-box" package. Here a leakproof cellophane bag is formed into a can, or made an integral part of it, and is tightly sealed by heat. Experiments have shown that many products now packaged in metal containers may be packaged in these new "cans" and cartons with entire success, thus releasing countless pounds of tin and steel for other vital uses.

Cellophane also steps into the breach by replacing foil on numerous packages, and for wrapping cheese—which formerly used great quantities of the precious metal. Already a number of dry foods are being supplied in cellophane, to the satisfaction of both merchant and consumer.

Sigh-for-the-Gourmet Department: The woman's page of a New York paper today mentioned the fact that the first fresh Beluga caviar to reach New York from Russia in a year is being offered by a de luxe shop in that city. The article describes the huge, luscious gray eggs in nostalgic detail, and closes with the remark that the price is $20 per pound—evidently a real bargain over the previous listing last month of $40 per pound. The line forms to the right...

Pastry Boards Have a use, especially for scrubbing pastry boards, and Wash and wipe dry and be careful not to allow the dough to accumulate in the cracks.

Watercress. Serve with French dressing and sour cream.
FRUIT SALAD II. Slice bananas, seedless grapes, diced pineapple, cubes of unpeeled red apples. Serve with lime French dressing.
SALAD DRESSINGS—Proportions are important here. So follow recipes for best results.
FRENCH DRESSING. 1 garlic clove, 1 cup salad oil, 1/2 cup vinegar or lemon juice, 2 teaspoon salt, Few grains pepper, 1/4 teaspoon paprika, 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard. Cut deep gashes in garlic clove. Hold garlic on times of fork and rub mixing bowl with it. Leave garlic in bowl. Add remaining ingredients, stir vigorously with fork. Let stand at least 30 minutes. Just before serving remove garlic and beat dressing with rotary beater. Approximate yield, 1 1/2 cups.
BLUE CHEESE DRESSING. Add three tablespoons crumbled blue cheese to 1/2 cup French dressing. Beat well with fork.
TARRAGON FRENCH DRESSING. Make French dressing with tarragon vinegar instead of cider vinegar.
CHIVE DRESSING. Add two tablespoons finely cut chives to one cup French dressing.

Tongue is a thrifty buy for party fare and a delicious choice besides. Choose beef or calf tongue, cover with salted water and simmer, covered, until the tongue is tender. This will take from three to four hours. Plunge tongue in cold water, remove the skin, cut away roots and slice to serve on a cold meat platter or in open-faced sandwiches as shown here.

Shrimp-Tomato Mold Will Serve Eight To Ten Guests

PART 1. 1 envelope plain unflavored gelatin. 1/2 cup cold water. 1 cup hot water. Add lemon juice, salt, pepper, sugar and chili sauce. Cool, and when mixture begins to thicken, fold in shrimp and pickle relish. Pour into five cup molds which have been rinsed out in cold water (or rubbed with mineral oil) first and garnished with whole shrimp. Chill until firm.

Salad days are here again—although in vitamin-conscious homes salad is a "regular" all the year around. You'll find suggestions for various ingredients, and some excellent dressings elsewhere on this page, just to give variety to the menu. The salad pictured is made of radishes set atop crisp cucumber slices on a bed of lettuce, tomatoes, and green onions cut in strips.

Salads and Dressings Come Into Their Own

These are salad days and the annual days. We're speaking of the annual springtime version, shared equally by the young and green and by the not-so-young. Now is the time when our appetite for green things—edible ones, we mean—is almost insatiable and salads cease to be scrappy accompaniments on our table and become glorious main dishes. Good upstanding salads, full of chew and flavor and soured with fine dressing.

Care and Feeding Of Salad Bowls

Wooden salad bowls deserve special care. There are those who are horrified at the idea of washing such bowls. They argue that the salad bowl becomes seasoned with use and that washing ruins this seasoning. But our practical mind insists that food odors attract certain undesirable wild life, such as tiny ants and roaches. So we say, wash the wooden salad bowl immediately after use, but wash it carefully. Never soak it or immerse it in water or it will warp and crack.

Proper Care Of Metal Utensils

Treat Pots and Pans Well to Make Them Last for Duration

By Bureau of Home Economics, United States Department of Agriculture

Today most of the metals used in ordinary household articles have become "critical" materials. In order to save these metals for production of vital war equipment, their use has been sharply curtailed—in many instances stopped entirely—for the manufacture of ordinary civilian goods.

In the following brief dictionary are presented some hints for wartime good housekeepers concerning the care of metal articles in their homes. These tips on metal saving come from Lenore Sater, chief of household equipment section of the United States Department of Agriculture's Bureau of Home Economics.

Aluminum. Never leave food in aluminum any longer than necessary. Food stored in it—or food particles left in the pan—will cause it to corrode.

Brass. Most brass articles around home come in the class of decorative goods. Day-to-day cleaning need only be a dusting with a soft cloth.

Bronze. Clean with weak soapuds, hot vinegar, or hot buttermilk. Rinse thoroughly. To brighten the bronze, use dry whitening (powdered chalk) or rottenstone.

Chromium Plate. Never use metal polisher or any kind of cleaning powder on any chromium finish. It is a soft metal and wears off easily.

Copper. Keep copper absolutely clean if you use it for any food, otherwise it's dangerous. Clean and polish it by the same methods recommended for brass.

Iron. Wash iron in hot, sudsy water. If this doesn't clean it, use hot soda and water.

Nickel. If you can't get nickel clean with soap and sudsy water, use a fine cleaning powder, such as whiting paste. Rinse and dry with a soft cloth.

Stainless Steel. Clean off spots or burned-on food with a gritless cleaning powder or grade 00 steel wool.

Tin. Don't try to keep tin shiny. If you do, you'll take off the very thin coating of tin and leave the metal underneath open to rust.

It's economical, but it's mighty good, too! Use leftover baked beans as a luncheon or supper dish that is sure to please. On slices of brown bread, or white bread with the crusts removed, heap cold baked beans. Sprinkle grated American cheese on top and add a slice of bacon to each portion. Place under the broiler until cheese is melted and bacon browned.

New Sugarless Recipes

BANANA NUT BREAD. 1 1/2 cups sifted flour, 1 1/4 teaspoons double powder, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon soda, 1/2 cup shortening, 1/2 cup dark corn sirup, 2 eggs, well beaten, 1/2 cup coarsely chopped pecan or walnut meats, 1 teaspoon grated orange rind, 1 cup mashed banana.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt and soda and sift again. Cream shortening. Add sirup gradually, beating well after each addition.

CURRENT COFFEE ROLLS. 3 cups sifted cake flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 cup currant or seedless raisins, 1 egg yolk, slightly beaten, 4 tablespoons firmly chopped meats.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt and sift again. Cut in shortening. Combine corn cleaning powder will soon wear through the thin nickel coating on plumbing fittings.

So Economical Taylor PORK ROLL. 10 Big Servings per pound. A distinctive, appetizing flavor.

Table Decoration

Food, we insist in our greedy way, is the best decoration ever for a buffet table. If you agree with this, you'll be interested in a decorative dish.

MEAT PIE. 3 tablespoons butter or bacon fat, 1 sliced onion, 1/2 cup sliced mushrooms, 3 tablespoons flour, 1/4 cup sliced celery, 1 1/2 cups cooked, diced meat, 1 cup cooked rice, 1 cup gravy, 1 cup canned tomatoes, 2 tablespoons chopped parsley.

JOHNNY CAKE. 1 cup sifted flour, 2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 cup corn meal, 3 tablespoons shortening, 4 tablespoons light corn sirup, 2 egg yolks, unbeat, 1/4 cup milk.

JOHNNY CAKE. 1 cup sifted flour, 2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 cup corn meal, 3 tablespoons shortening, 4 tablespoons light corn sirup, 2 egg yolks, unbeat, 1/4 cup milk.

Suggestions For Using Leftovers

Meat and Vegetable Casseroles and Pies Are Delicious

Many good and original dishes have been developed because the clever housekeeper had a variety of leftovers on hand and instead of looking at a cookbook or a recipe just put things together.

Combinations of leftover meat, tomatoes and rice probably came into existence in the same way. Perhaps this was also the origin of a meat pie, which, with either a pastry or a biscuit crust, is a treat and allows the use of leftover meat, potatoes, vegetables and gravy.

MEAT PIE. 3 tablespoons butter or bacon fat, 1 sliced onion, 1/2 cup sliced mushrooms, 3 tablespoons flour, 1/4 cup sliced celery, 1 1/2 cups cooked, diced meat, 1 cup cooked rice, 1 cup gravy, 1 cup canned tomatoes, 2 tablespoons chopped parsley.

Tech Track Team Lacks Strength to Defend Title in Maryland Meet Saturday

Central Most Likely Contender Among Capital Squads

Baltimore City College Is Possible Favorite; 42 Schools Entered

Baltimore City College, listed down among the also rans in 1941, appears as a possible favorite this year for the Maryland Interscholastic of Saturday, one of the features of the field day at College Park and the first of the season's big high school track meets in this section.

Forty-two schools, same number as last year, are entered for the open interscholastic and county events, and in a meet of that size it doesn't take many firsts to win.

Tech took the title in 1941 with five firsts, four of them by the unmatched Eddie Barham, but that was unusual.

Tech this season has no one who quite can match Barham's performances and while it may be near the top it hardly figures as a winner.

Central proper, especially in the local, with Washington-Lee also due for some consideration.

Baltimoreans Have Aces

City College may have at least two firsts locked up, the 880-yard run, in which Russell has done 2:04.9, and the high jump with Anders, who did 6 feet 1 inch in a triangular meet two weeks ago. It has several other good athletes too, who even if they don't win may get points for second or third.

Much of Tech's bid for a repeat win will rest on Bob Lundmark. He is a favorite for the pole vault and should do over 12 feet. He has done 15.9 in the high hurdles, which is much better than last year's winning time, and he also is hitting 21 feet in the broad jump. There will be plenty of competition for him, however, especially in the hurdles and the broad jump. Cox of Baltimore Poly, another good team, has done 21 feet and better in the broad jump, and Eastern will have its two hurdlers, Floyd Brookens and Frank Nelson, competing.

Poly also is strong in the 100-yard dash with Schnobb as its entry. He has done 10 flat this season, and a real race is in prospect when he goes against Courtney Renshaw of George Washington.

Alexandria, who also is capable of a flat effort.

Central Team Is Threat

Central has a chance not only for several firsts but for a good number of second and third place points. Jim Kurz, who finished third in the shot last year, may win this time with a toss of 51 or 52 feet, and the school's mile relay team of Gene Dunn, Nick Chacos, John Ward and Bernie Grosbeam is considered best in the city, although Roosevelt is a contender.

Coach Jan Jankowski of the Vikings also has hopes of points from Ludwig Waldman in the dashes and Chacos in the 220-yard dash. Forrest Roberts has been doing some good high jumping, and Jack Samperton is entered in the half mile and George Simon in the mile. Jan also has a good pole vaulter in Robert High, who although he hasn't matched Tech's Lundmark this season has done 11 feet 6 inches in competition and 11-9 in practice. An infected hand may keep him out, though.

List of Schools Entered

Gallaudet's Track Team Romps To Victory Over Susquehanna

second, Curry (S); third, Dauton (G). Time, 2:11.2.

Gallaudet College's trackmen hardly figure to be among the leaders in the approaching Mason-Dixon championships, but the Blues may spoil the hopes of a high ranking for some rival if they continue to show the improvement evidenced yesterday as they romped away from Susquehanna, 79-2-3 to 46-1-3 from Susquehanna, 79-2-3 to 46-1-3.

Pacemakers were George Elliot, Earl Stevens and Francis Huffman, who turned in double victories to help the cause along.

Berg's throw of 152 feet 5 inches in the javelin bettered his best previous effort by more than 2 feet and stamped him as a potential point-winner in this event in the conference meet, while Huffman's time of 2:11.2 in the 880 marked him as a threat in that field.

Stevens, who is expected to lower the conference high jump record, was not pressed in this event and he tossed in a victory in the 220-yard sprint for good measure.

Mile run—First, Elliott (G); second, Hochstetler (S); third, Dauton (G). Time, 6:10.5.

100-yard dash—First, Herzog (G); second, Smith (G); third, Herzog (S). Time, 0:24.

440-yard dash—First, Huffman (G); second, Curry (S); third, Stevenson (S). Time, 0:53.9.

880-yard run—First, Huffman (G);

Win Over Penn State Tunes Terp Stickmen For Princeton Game

Maryland's lacrosse squad was back today feeling well tuned for the national title game with Princeton at College Park Saturday after a 11-5 victory over Penn State at State College yesterday.

Minus two of its best men, Jack Dittmar, close defense, and Bill Taylor, midfielder, the Terps hung an 8-1 lead in the first half and coasted along later, although the Nittany Lions presented a stout outfit.

Ray Grelecki, close attackman, was the sparkplug for the Terps, scoring five goals and assisting in others.

It was Maryland's sixth college victory of the season.

Players Carry On as Semipro When Bush Loop Folds

Falling From Navy Hammock Rough Stuff for Grigger; Norfolk Tars' Pilot Wins as Pinch-Hitter

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr., Wide World Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, April 30.—The war may be rough on the minor leagues, but apparently baseball will keep on going. For example, when the Class "C" Arizona-Texas League folded up, Tucson, Ariz., organized an eight-club semipro circuit. Season will start May 5 (Mexico's Independence day) and run for 18 weeks with four night games weekly. The league includes two Army teams and the ball park practically is one of the posts, which should provide plenty of customers at 10 cents a throw for men in uniform. And Michigan towns are replacing the Michigan State League with a non-professional loop that may take in 12 clubs. Auburn's freshman footballers, allowed three games by Southeastern Conference rules, will take on Mississippi State in a charity game, then play two service teams.

Rudy Muech, ex-blocking back of the Cleveland Rams, now at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station, reports: "There is nothing in football comparable to the shock of falling out of a Navy hammock and landing flat on one's face while sound asleep." Bill Diehl of the Norfolk Ledger-Dispatch casts a vote for Manager Buzz Boyle of the Norfolk Tars for plain courage. The other day Norfolk and Portsmouth went into the 12th inning with the score tied 1-1. The Tars loaded the bases with two out and Boyle yanked the clean-up hitter and went in to bat himself. He took himself off the spot by socking the third pitch for a game-winning double.

Wrong number—When Bron C. Bacevich, coach at St. Bede's Academy of Peru, Ill., read that Aquinas of Chicago had been admitted to the Illinois High School Association, he wrote there suggesting a football game. He received this reply: "Dear Mr. Bacevich: We have 466 lovely young ladies at our Dominican High School. If you still are interested in a football game, please let me know.—Elsie Bergman, coach."

Service dept.—Sergt. Farmer Seale, former Selma (Ala.) Times-Journal and Birmingham Post sports writer, is heading back from San Diego, Calif., to Birmingham to get some recruits for the Marines. Clemson College could dig up enough service talent from last year's football squad to give Uncle Sam a complete team without even shifting any player from his regular position—and what hurts is that most of them had a year's varsity eligibility left.

Today's guest star—Kenneth Jones, Peoria (Ill.) Journal Transcript: "There is some slight agitation to have Joe Louis try his hand against some south-paw pitcher, Mello Bettina, the southpaw, being the chief agitator."

Joe Engel was talking this spring about changing the nickname of his Chattanooga ball club from "Lookouts" to "Choo Choo." But after his youthful players had won a few games, the scribes took things in hand and tabbed them the "Whiz Kids."

Dom-nicknames—Charley Grimm used to call little Dominic Dallesandro of the Cubs "Dim-Dom"; now Coach Dick Spalding has nicknamed him "Bubbles."

20 Years Ago In The Star

The Athletics broke Washington winning streak at five games by taking a 9-8 victory at Philadelphia. Phillips was driven from the Washington mound in the fifth inning, and Walter Johnson appeared like his old self in a short relief stint.

University of Pennsylvania's 2-mile relay team set a world record of 7:44.4 in winning that event at the Penn Relays. Georgetown won the half-mile college championship of America. Good fishing was reported in the angling column. Plenty of pike in the Severn River, along with an occasional big rock. Hardhead and trout are biting in Chesapeake Bay.

Central Netmen Ahead

Central High's netmen sent the Maryland fresh off to a bad opening yesterday by taking a 4-2 match at College Park.

Singles—Frenick (C) defeated Klittenko, 3-2, 6-3, 7-5; Gwin (C) defeated Easter, 6-3, 6-1; Archer (M) defeated Deluso, 6-4, 6-0; Hales (C) defeated Cohen, 6-0, 6-2.

Doubles—Klittenko-Easter (M) defeated Gwin-Hales, 6-4, 6-4; Frenick-Deluso (C) defeated Hammon-Archer, 9-7, 6-3.

Bedtime Stories

By THORNTON W. BURGESS.

Peter Rabbit hopped up the Lone Little Path brim full of news that Danny Meadow Mouse had a family. He fairly ached for some one to come along to whom he could tell it.

"Wonder what all him," thought Peter. "Serves him right anyway. He had no business down here on our Green Meadows. I never could understand what possible good dog understands about poking his nose in and making trouble for the rest of us."

"What's the matter with that little dog?" demanded Peter. "He met Black Pussy and he didn't like the meeting. In fact, Black Pussy has frightened him most to death and that is why he is running so fast," they replied.

"What news?" asked the Merry Little Breezes, looking at Peter suspiciously. You see Peter's news sometimes proved to be no news at all. "Why, about Danny Meadow Mouse! He has a wife and family!" Peter fairly shouted it.

"Instantly the Merry Little Breezes crowded about Peter and demanded to know how he knew, and said that they didn't believe it because they didn't see how Danny could have kept it secret from them so long."

"It is so!" Peter was just a wee bit provoked to think that they should doubt his word. "Danny told me so himself. More than that he told me that one of his babies had run away and is lost. He's out hunting for it now, and so am I." Peter made ready to move on.

"The minute Peter mentioned the lost baby Meadow Mouse the Merry Little Breezes became very much excited. 'That is just who Black Pussy caught!' declared one. Peter looked startled. 'What is that you said?' he cried.

Then the Merry Little Breezes told him how they had found Black Pussy tormenting a wee, terribly frightened Meadow Mouse and how they led the little black-and-white dog to where Black Pussy was just in time to save the wee Mouse, who ran away and hid while Black Pussy was chasing the dog.

"But where is he now?" asked Peter.

The Merry Little Breezes shook their heads. "We don't know," they confessed. "We followed Black Pussy to see the fun and when we got back the little Mouse was nowhere about, although we hunted everywhere. If we had known he was Danny's baby, we wouldn't have let go at all. We'll have to make up now by helping in the hunt."

"That will be splendid!" cried Peter happily.

And with that they all scattered to hunt for Little Mite, the lost baby of Danny Meadow Mouse.

Winning Contract

By THE FOUR ACES.

Bidding Subtleties

"My goodness," remarked the old lady as she came away from the experts' table in a well-known New York club. "My goodness, but they're terrible players! One of them made a risky bid, then another bid a slam that was even worse. How can they ever win if they play that way!"

As you probably guessed, the risky bid was not unreasonable, the slam was a very good shot and the old lady missed one other bidding subtlety completely. Here is the hand:

South dealer. North-South vulnerable. 10953 K87 AK75 73 8542 N AKQ 9542 W-E J109842 Q63 S AQ96 J10842 S AQ96

The bidding: South. West. North. East. 1A Pass 3A Pass 6A Pass Pass Dbl. Pass Pass Pass

East's bid of four diamonds was not unreasonable. He could expect his own hand to produce three diamonds, a spade and two clubs even if his partner would turn up with some minor honor in clubs or diamonds to afford a good play for seven tricks or even more. Then the penalty would be only 500 points (or less), as against a vulnerable game.

South's slam bid was a fine gamble. If East had most of his strength in diamonds, as the overall of four diamonds indicated, North had jump-raised on strength in the three other suits. In that case it didn't matter what North had there would still be a fine play for the slam. Try giving East the ace and king of diamonds and North the strength for a double raise in the other suits and you'll see how easy the slam at spades becomes.

The subtlety missed by the old lady was East's double of six spades. That called for some lead other than a diamond, for if East had wanted a diamond lead he would not have doubled. West, forced to choose between hearts and clubs, guessed right by opening a club.

Yesterday you were Oswald Jacoby's partner and with both sides vulnerable, you held:

AJ32 854 98 J10832

Schenken, Jacoby, Burnstone. You. Dbl. Redbl. (?) Answer—Pass. Such a pass does not show any satisfaction with the contract. It merely shows that your hand is too weak to suggest a good takeout. Your partner will have a chance to mention his own long suit.

Score 100 per cent for pass, 40 per cent for two clubs.

Question No. 1,069. Today you hold the same hand, but the bidding is different: Schenken, Jacoby, Burnstone. You. Dbl. Redbl. (?) What do you bid? (Answer tomorrow.)

(Released by the Bell Syndicate, Inc.) The Four Aces will be pleased to answer letters from readers if a stamped (3-cent) self-addressed envelope is directed to the Four Aces, care of the Editor. If you desire the pocket outline of the Four Aces system of contract bridge, send with your request to the Four Aces, care of the Evening Star, a stamped (3-cent) self-addressed envelope and you will receive an outline without charge.

Take My Word for It

By FRANK COLBY.

Due To Because Of

This week's Slip o' the Tongue: "Due to the rain, the game was postponed." No. Do not use "due to" in the meaning of "because of."

Better say: Because of the rain, the game was postponed.

Wrong: "Due to nervousness she sang poorly." Right: Because of nervousness she sang poorly.

Wrong: "I was refused admittance to the air corps due to faulty vision." Right: I was refused admittance to the air corps because of my faulty vision.

What's wrong with this sentence: "She displeased us by flouting her knowledge of French?" To flout means to mock or insult. Correct: She displeased us by flaunting (boastfully displaying) her knowledge of French.

In English there are many such troublesome twins as flout-flaunt, ingenious-ingenuous, capital-capital, practical-practicable. My free pamphlet explains 50 pairs of confused words that are commonly confused. The words are defined and used in sentences to illustrate the correct usage. This valuable and informative pamphlet is offered for to-

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

Six planets have one or more moons.

Jupiter has the most moons, its total being 11. Saturn comes next with nine. Uranus ranks third—it has four moons.

The planet Mars has two little moons, the earth has one and Neptune has one.

So we see that the earth and Neptune have something in common. Each has a single moon.

Except for that, there are very few statements about Neptune which could be made about the earth as well. They both are planets and both are shaped like oranges, but they differ in most other ways.

Neptune is much farther from the sun than the earth is. It is about 30 times as far away. The light and heat which the sun sends to a square mile on the earth is nearly 900 times as great as that received by a square mile on Neptune.

We might expect Neptune to be a "frozen world," and that is what it is. It has a thick coat of ice, or something very much like the ice we know on earth. The ice crust may be even thicker than that around the planet Uranus.

Neptune is about the same size been able to tell, daylight on Neptune lasts only eight hours, and darkness—or "night"—lasts eight hours. In other words, the planet "twists on its axis" in 16 hours, which is two-thirds as long as it takes the earth to twist around. The year, however, is another thing. Since Neptune is many times as far from the sun as the earth is, we might expect it to take longer to circle the sun. That is the case. It takes Neptune 164 times as long to go around the sun! Putting it another way, we may say that a year on Neptune is equal to 164 of the years we count on earth! It is safe to say there are no people on Neptune, at least no people of the kind we know on earth. Even an Eskimo could not stand a temperature of from 250 to 300 degrees below zero!
