Chinese Forces Plan For Attack on Town South of Nancheng

Brisk Clash Is Reported Near Lishui; Japanese Take Kinki Again

By the Associated Press.
CHUNGKING, June 26.—The Chinese reported today that their assault forces had moved into position south of Nancheng for an attempt to storm the walls of the southeastern Kiangsi province town where the Japanese were halted in a drive toward the northern border of Fukien province.

Brisk fighting also was reported near Lishui, 125 miles south of Hangchow. The Japanese attack in this direction is aimed at the Lishui airbase, second best in Chekiang province. The largest base, at Chuhsien, already has fallen to the Japanese.

Japanese attempts to break through Chinese defenses southeast of Kwangfeng, just across the Kiangsi border from Chekiang, were reported repulsed.

Tonight's high command communique, however, admitted that the Japanese had retaken Kinki, in Eastern Kiangsi, which the Chinese had wrested from the invaders earlier in the week.

The communique recorded belated reports of heavy fighting last week in Northern Honan Province, some 600 miles north of the Kiangsi battle area, in which the Chinese inflicted more than 2,000 casualties on Japanese forces attacking their positions in the Taiheng Mountains.

TOKIO (From Japanese Broadcasts).—June 26 (AP)—Japanese forces operating north of the Yellow River were reported by Domei today to have captured the town of Lingchuan in Southeastern Shansi Province, and Anyangtsun, 6 miles to the northeast.

Chicago Housewives Join Drive to Save Grease

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, June 26.—Chicago housewives jumped into a new campaign today to help put the skids under Hirohito and Hitler. It's a city-wide drive to collect their kitchen fats and greases.

A specially trained corps of 7,000 women has set out to inform housewives how to conserve fats and to explain their importance in the manufacturing of glycerin for explosives.

The campaign will continue for two weeks. Nathaniel Leverone, Illinois salvage director, said it would be used as the model for a drive of national proportions to save an estimated billion pounds of grease thrown away each year.

Neighborhood meat markets have been designated as collection centers, authorized to pay 4 cents a pound for dark and 5 cents a pound for light grease.

Guy G. Fox, vice president in charge of refinery operations for Armour & Co., explained the fats were needed because the war has cut off from a billion to a billion and a half pounds of coconut and palm oils formerly imported from the Philippines.

'Vermin Press' Attacked By Newspaper Guild

By the Associated Press.
DENVER, June 26.—The American Newspaper Guild last night attacked what it termed a "vermin press" which it described as being guilty of "such newspaper practices as tend to breed disunity and defeatism."

The attack came in a resolution unanimously adopted after two hours of lively debate over a minority proposal which opponents termed an attempt "to police the press." This proposal was defeated.

Certain newspapers alluded to as "the vermin press" were accused in the resolution of false statements that President Roosevelt drew this country into war, that Fascism must replace democratic practices, that the President is opposed to holding elections, that organized labor is trying to use the war "as an excuse for revolutionary activities" and that aid to Russia be withheld.

Earlier the Guild adopted resolutions opposing the deportation of Harry Bridges, criticizing John L. Lewis and condemning the "participation of American industrialists in monopolistic international cartels."

Other resolutions recommended the Guild work for the defeat of members of Congress "disrupting the war effort," opposed discrimination in the Army against any person, because of race or color, and urged "even closer co-operation" between CIO and the AFL.

thrusts and hammered at armored formations. The information bureau said 51 planes of squadrons seeking to blast a path for Marshal von Bock's ground forces were shot down or damaged in a single sector.

"A group of our planes commanded by Senior Political Instructor Nedelko discovered a concentration of enemy tanks and trucks in a forest," the bureau said. "By a surprise attack Soviet flyers destroyed or damaged 27 German tanks, 63 trucks with troops or supplies and 6 fuel trucks."

Twenty-five tanks and 16 planes were declared destroyed by the coastal artillery of Sevastopol, the Crimean naval base which still flies the Soviet flag after seven months of siege and three weeks of battering that has ripped through its outer fortifications and ruined the bulk of its buildings.

30 Attacks Turned Back.

A communique reported the artillerymen had turned back more than 30 attacks in the last few days, killing about 500 Germans.

"Our scouts learned a large group of German bombers was concentrated at a certain airdrome on the Sevastopol front," it said. "Fighter planes and Stormoviks took off for the airdrome. Despite the intense anti-aircraft barrage our planes burned 22 and damaged not less than 20 German planes. Three German bombers attempting to take off were brought down. We suffered no losses."

Russian troops were declared to have captured a fortified height on the Bryansk front, southwest of Moscow, in an engagement which cost the Germans 450 casualties.

General operations of the Russian air force added to the drain on material amassed by the German command for the summer effort.

The information bureau said flyers sank two transports Wednesday, blew up several warehouses and depots and destroyed or damaged 85 tanks, 300 trucks, 40 ammunition carts and silenced 12 artillery batteries.

Guerrilla Activity Reported.

In a report of guerrilla operations behind German lines Tass said more than 600 Germans and Hungarians had been killed by strongly armed bands which drove the invaders from 10 towns.

"The Bryansk guerrilla detachments," said Tass, "are strong-armed bodies capable not only of offering resistance to the enemy, but also of launching heavy and sudden attacks on German troops and their important lines of communication."

"There are detachments armed with tanks, guns, trench mortars, machine guns and automatic and ordinary rifles."

Tass said in many sectors behind the lines the Germans had assigned

Hungarian troops to patrol occupied areas. Nazis Claim 21,827 Taken Southeast of Kharkov

BERLIN (From German Broadcasts).—June 26 (AP)—German and Rumanian troops in an encirclement maneuver southeast of Kharkov have captured 21,827 Russians, 100 tanks, 250 guns and quantities of other weapons, the German high command reported today. Nazi military quarters announced the occupation of Kopyansk.

Heavy losses were inflicted on the Red Army by the flanking operation, which was supported by the German Air Force, a communique said.

In the siege of Sevastopol, several fortified heights on the east were taken in hard fighting by German and Rumanian troops, the communique said.

In a rear area on the central front a German infantry division captured 118 bunkers and a quantity of booty in throwing Russian troops out of field positions, the communique continued.

On the Volkhov front farther north, it said, encircled Soviet forces had been split into small groups and their destruction was in progress.

The German command said Nazi bombers speared behind the lines last night in attacks on railways in the Moscow area and munitions factories on the Upper and Middle Volga.

"In armed reconnaissance in the Gulf of Finland," it added, "the German Air Force sank an enemy submarine and damaged two small freight ships by bombing."

It listed Russian plane losses at 468 in the period from June 12 to 22.

3 More Red Submarines Claimed by Italians

ROME (from Italian broadcasts).—June 26 (AP)—Italian motor torpedo-boats operating in the Black Sea have sunk three more Russian submarines, a 15,000-ton steamer loaded with munitions and another supply vessel of 5,000 tons, the Italians reported officially today.

Nazis New Big Gun Seen Used to Hurl Mines

By the Associated Press.
The 615 millimeter artillery weapon reported yesterday as being used by the Nazi besiegers of Sevastopol may be a mortar designed to hurl a mine or other heavy explosive a relatively short distance, military sources believe.

Twenty-four-inch mortars have been used in earlier stages of warfare, but their usefulness was limited because of short range.

So far as is known, the United States Army's largest mobile weapon, aside from railway guns, is a 240-millimeter howitzer, which fires a shell more than 9 inches in diameter. Fixed coast defense guns run up to 16 inches in diameter.

Hemisphere Parley To Take Up Anti-Axis Economic Problems

Undersecretary Welles To Sound Keynote at Session Opening Tuesday

By HAROLD B. ROGERS.

An international conference which may have far-reaching effects on the wartime economic and financial problems of all republics in the Western Hemisphere will convene Tuesday at the Pan-American Union, where Undersecretary of State Welles is expected to "strike the keynote."

Known as "The Inter-American Conference on Systems of Economic and Financial Control," the gathering is drawing one of the most distinguished groups of finance ministers and other experts ever convening here to help solve such problems.

Ten finance ministers and many heads of central banks plan to attend the sessions to be held at the Pan-American Union. The inaugural meeting will take place at 11:30 a. m. and will be addressed also by Dr. L. S. Rowe, director general of the Pan-American Union.

Two Prime Resolutions. The conference has been convened to give "practical application" to two of the resolutions of the Rio de Janeiro meeting of foreign ministers in Brazil last January. Significantly, one of these resolutions is entitled "Severance of Commercial and Financial Relations" with the Axis. The other resolution calls for adoption by the American republics of uniform measures to deal with financial transactions of nations and aggressor nations.

Both Argentina and Chile, which are the only countries in the hemisphere which have not yet broken diplomatic relations with the Axis are understood to be planning to participate in the conference. They are represented already on other inter-American groups, such as the Governing Board of the Pan-American Union, the new Inter-American Defense Board, the Inter-American Financial and Economic Advisory Committee, which was authorized to call the conference next week, and others. Undersecretary Welles is chairman of the Inter-American Financial and Economic Advisory Committee, and will speak to the opening session in that capacity.

Two General Topics. Plans for the forthcoming conference announced here today indicate its work will fall into two general topics. The first will deal with measures directed toward the proper handling of international transactions. The second will be aimed at control of domestic financial operations which might benefit the Axis.

"In the field of international transactions," it was said, "the conference will consider measures pointed toward uniform and co-operative action by the American republics in cutting off financial and commercial operations with Axis nations and their satellites. In an effort to prevent any leakage or loopholes in the Western Hemisphere's economic blockade of aggressor states, the conference will also consider adoption of measures to regulate transactions with other non-American nations as well as within the Western Hemisphere, when they are of benefit to the Axis."

"Steps also will be taken," it was announced, "to eliminate the activities of persons within the hemisphere whose operations are dangerous to the security of the continent or of assistance to aggressor nations. Restrictive measures in this direction are expected to include blocking of accounts, forced sale of assets and in some cases, actual seizure of property."

Van Duzer Warns Drivers Of Use Tax Deadline

New Federal use tax stickers must be displayed on all automobiles by July 1, motorists were warned today by Traffic Director William A. Van Duzer. The stickers should be placed at a point in the top center of the windshield behind the rearview mirror—the only authorized location for the insignia.

Motorists were also advised that special stickers corresponding to the type gasoline-rating card held will be issued on July 22, when the new gasoline-rating program becomes effective. This sticker must be placed in the upper corner of the windshield, to the driver's right side. These and the special "emergency" sticker, issued only to war-workers, constitute the only labels permitted on car windshields, under District safety inspection regulations.

Scout Camp Stresses Physical Fitness

A concentrated program stressing physical fitness will be the keynote this summer at the Boy Scouts' Camp Theodore Roosevelt. The camp, which opened last Sunday, has scheduled five two-week periods for the season, ending August 30. Physical examinations for entrance will be held from 7 to 9 p. m. every Thursday at Scout headquarters, 1727 K street N.W. Among the features at the camp will be three Sea Scout cruises to be held July 25, July 27 and August 1.

Nation-wide Crisis In Transportation at War Plants Foreseen

West Virginia Study Shows Autos Dropping Out Due to Tires

A transportation crisis for workers in war plants is developing on a Nation-wide scale, the Public Roads Administration declared today in reporting result of a survey conducted at a West Virginia ordnance plant.

The West Virginia investigation showed that about 300 automobiles now transporting more than 500 workmen will be laid up for lack of tires after less than 3,000 miles of travel. Another 100 cars will be forced off the road within 6,000 more miles, and another 200 within 10,000 more miles. The 600 cars, two-thirds of those in use at the plant, now furnish transportation for 1,100 men, or a third of the personnel.

Public roads officials said the West Virginia findings represent an "understatement" of the transportation situation in industries in most sections of the country. They said this condition emphasizes the "absolute necessity" for group riding to preserve tires and for staggered hours to increase efficiency of mass transportation.

There is nothing in sight at the ordnance plant to replace automobiles laid up for lack of rubber. The local bus company reported it is operating at practically maximum capacity and would be unable to handle a greatly increased load even if hours were staggered.

The location of the West Virginia plant, it was said, is unusually favorable, with a large reservoir of labor in the vicinity, good bus service and available railroad transportation. If transportation is critical in this well-stated plant, industrial establishments in other parts of the country are in a worse predicament, it was stated.

Wilhelmina Goes Shopping In New England Town

LEE, Mass., June 26.—Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands went shopping yesterday, visiting a pharmacy, a grocery and a furniture store.

After she bought a sponge, ammonia, writing pads, washing flakes and soap, the storekeepers offered to send her purchases to the summer home she and her daughter, the Crown Princess Juliana, have rented here.

"Oh, no, we can take it along with us very easily," the Queen said.

At the furniture store, she bought a covering for the floor of the bathroom used by her granddaughters, Beatrix and Irene, who, like other youngsters, like to splash water.

Later in the day, Dr. Alexander Loudon, Netherlands Ambassador to the United States, was received at the residence, and subsequently announced that Queen Wilhelmina would "remain for some time at Lee before making her official visit to the President and Mrs. Roosevelt."

CAMP UPTON, N. Bender was discharged from the Army as over-age last October after serving seven months, joined the Navy the day after Pearl Harbor and now is back on land once more.

Lack of Espionage Motive Clears Alexandria Youth

Espionage charges against Grant W. Wiprud, 22, of Alexandria and Tucson, Ariz., were dropped June 18. It was learned from a Justice Department spokesman today, because an investigation disclosed there was no evidence to support any criminal intent on his part.

This was the first indication from Government circles as to the reason for dismissal of the case, though it had been announced in Tucson at the time that the United States District Attorney there had moved to dismiss the case on instructions from the Attorney General here.

The Justice Department spokesman said the investigation showed young Wiprud's acts had resulted from "youthful stupidity" rather than criminal contempt.

He was charged with removing confidential information on a teletype tape from an Army air base near Tucson. A Justice Department official explained the charge was filed without prior consultation with Justice Department officials here, as is customary, and that when all the facts had been studied it was decided to dismiss the charge. There was no evidence that Wiprud intended to use the teletype tape for anything other than a remembrance in his "memory book," the spokesman said.

Russians Are Praised By U. S. Army Officer After Visit to Front

Learned Lessons Which Will Help Our Troops,
Lt. Col. Michela Says

By the Associated Press.
MOSCOW, June 26.—Back from the first trip made by United States Army officers to the German-Russian front, Lt. Col. Joseph A. Michela declared last night he was "highly impressed" by the Red Army and had "learned lessons which will be helpful to our troops."

"I can honestly say since I have been to the front I have an even higher opinion of the Red Army," he said. "The lessons of the Red Army will be valuable to her Allies."

Col. Michela, United States military attaché, spent three days at the front with Maj. Richard Parks, Jr., assistant military attaché, and two British officers. They visited an army commander, Lt. Gen. Feduninsky.

"There was no indication just what part of the front was visited, but reports from Stockholm in March said a Maj. Gen. Feduninsky had been assigned by the Russian command to raise the siege of Leningrad and had been fighting in the Leningrad sector at that time. This apparently was the same general mentioned by Col. Michela, promoted to a lieutenant general rank."

Further Trips Planned.
The Americans devoted their visit to a close study of military details, including organization, tactics, personnel, transport and supply. They said they expected to make further trips to the front soon.

The trip was the result of the United States-Russian agreement and the British-Russian treaty providing for the fullest possible exchange of information. There has been criticism of the failure of the Russians to let their allies see the Red Army in action.

The sector the observers visited was at least temporarily quiet with only sporadic artillery fire across muddy fields. Rain prevented aerial activity, but the Americans were given full opportunity to study the workings of the Red Army.

"They couldn't have shown an observer troops under more difficult terrain and weather conditions than we went into," Col. Michela told correspondents.

With an exceptionally cold and late spring still prevailing there, Col. Michela said an old native peasant told him he had not seen so much rain in one season in 26 years.

The troops, Col. Michela said, were "all very confident and their morale was good. It has been raining for two months, but even in those circumstances they seemed cheerful."

Lauds Gen. Feduninsky.
The officer declared he was particularly impressed by the Red Army officers and personnel, and its equipment and transport.

He described 42-year-old Gen. Feduninsky as "very capable, an excellent disciplinarian, a soldier all his life."

"Some staff officers are still younger, about 35 years old, all smart, quick and very friendly," he added.

"The equipment I saw was excellent," he said. "The men were careful to keep it well oiled. That is a good sign. When a man is up to his knees in mud, but keeps his rifle cleaned and oiled he is a good soldier."

The equipment is entirely Soviet

LOUISVILLE, KY.—MOTHER GIVES FIVE SONS—Mrs. Mary Melton of Louisville gave her fifth and last son to the armed forces the other day, when Bernard Joseph was accepted as an apprentice seaman in the Naval Reserve. except for a few German trucks, he said.
Transport, he said, "is moving along," with much construction work on the roads apparent.
The Americans visited Gen. Feduninsky's army headquarters, also inspected a guards division and went close to the front lines in reoccupied territory.

Truck Trailer Output For Civil Use Banned

A halt to production of commercial-type truck trailers for non-military use, effective July 1, was ordered yesterday by the War Production Board.

No manufacturer will be permitted after the end of the month to produce any truck trailers having a load capacity of 10,000 pounds or more, except for the armed services and deliveries under the Lease-Lend Act.

The order does not apply to third axle attachments on truck trailers which enables the vehicles to carry considerably larger loads. The WPB said that by careful rationing it is hoped the supply of heavy duty trucks may be made to last until the fall of 1943. Production of such vehicles for other than military use ceased May 31.

Youthful Fugitive, Cornered in Hotel, Slain by Detective

Victim Had Disarmed
FBI Agent, Policeman
In 24-Hour Escapade

By the Associated Press.
GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., June 26.—Madcap James McCartee Leonard, 22, who was reckless to the end, paid with his life for his spree with stolen guns and automobiles.

Trapped in a hotel room here yesterday, the handsome, curly-haired Cheboygan youth was shot to death by City Detective Frank Breen in a typical Wild-West climax to his lurid 20-hour escapade.

The detective, unharmed in the firing, won a gun duel during which he and the young Great Lakes seaman, a fugitive from the FBI, exchanged more than a dozen shots at a range of only a few feet.

Authorities traced Leonard to the hotel after he had been sought since Wednesday, when he had terrorized employees in the Federal Building in Detroit with wild shots while fleeing from an FBI agent trying to question his wearing of a Navy uniform.

Commandeering automobiles in his flight and in possession of the FBI agent's gun, Leonard came to Grand Rapids late that night and got a hotel room for a hideout. On his flight he also had stolen a Northville policeman's gun after commandeering the officer's car. To the end Leonard defied officers to arrest him. Refusing to open his locked room, he shot it out with Detective Breen when the police entered with a pass key.

Editors Pledge Continued Support of War Effort

By the Associated Press.
QUEBEC, June 26.—The National Editorial Association, at the closing session of its three-day convention here yesterday, pledged "its continued support to, and co-operation with, the Government in the prosecution of the war to final and complete victory."

The resolution was one of several adopted by 800 delegates from United States weekly and small daily newspapers at their 57th annual convention.

Another resolution instructed NEA committees "to oppose any and all substitutions of broad and indefinite labels by governmental or other agencies in the national emergency for the publicly accepted brands of proven integrity." The preamble to the resolution said that the consuming public depend on well-established brand names and trade marks "as a protective guide to quality and dependability of merchandise."

The preamble to another resolution noted reports that the House Ways and Means Committee had adopted a resolution under which the Postmaster General would be authorized to increase postage charged on publications entered as second-class mail matter.
The resolution instructed the Legislative Committee of the NEA to oppose the proposal.

Club Women Told of Plan To Share Cars

Federation Urges Social Hygiene Courses in Schools

Details of the "share-your-car plan" advocated by the Women's Safety Committee of the American Automobile Association were discussed by Mrs. George C. Thorpe, Safety Committee chairman, before members of the District Federation of Women's Clubs at the final meeting of the season yesterday at 2600 Sixteenth street N.W.

Mrs. Thorpe told of the success of a recent meeting held at the Shoreham Hotel in the apartment of Mrs. Paul V. McNutt when a program was decided on. More than 60 persons with cars, making their home at the Shoreham, have already agreed to take persons to and from town or to places of business, she said, provided those sharing the car had an approximately common destination.

The speaker added that questionnaires are being circulated in different neighborhoods requesting persons with cars to designate whether or not they are willing to join the plan. Copies of the questionnaire were distributed to the federation with the request that they be circulated among the membership.

Exception was taken to the share-your-car-plan by a member who spoke from the floor, pointing out the risk taken by car owners in transporting others should an accident occur with injury to the passenger. The question was raised as to whether or not it might not be possible to have legislation enacted whereby passengers would ride at their own risk.

The federation passed a resolution to present a petition to the District Board of Education advocating social hygiene education in the public schools for boys and girls of junior and senior high schools.

Other resolutions adopted included support of the request of the District Commissioners for power to change the status of the Board of Public Welfare from an administrative to that of an advisory one; indorsement of a Senate bill to provide podiatry officers for the Army, and indorsement of a bill now pending to pension Judge Isaac R. Hitt, whose term of office expired just before the pension law for judges was passed.

Mrs. Clifford Hurley was unanimously elected corresponding secretary to fill the vacancy caused by Mrs. Harvey Baxter, who resigned because of ill health. Mrs. Rose H. Snyder was appointed assistant recording secretary.

The morning session concluded with a memorial service to departed members, conducted by Mrs. Ellis Logan.

During the luncheon hour Mrs. Howard L. Hodgens was hostess at a special table for past presidents of the federation. These included Mrs. Logan, Mrs. Virginia White Speel, Mrs. Edgar B. Meritt, Mrs. Harvey W. Wiley, Mrs. Lloyd W. Biddle, Mrs. John W. Fritzel and Mrs. Ernest H. Daniel. Other guests were Mrs. Arthur Watkins, District Federation president; Mrs. La Verne Beales, Mrs. Charles P. Keyser and Mrs. Grace Porter Hopkins.

YWCA Kamp Kahlert to Open For Summer Season Monday

With organized summer recreation for children becoming increasingly helpful to parents engaged in war work, the YWCA Kamp Kahlert—like other children's camps—is preparing for a capacity attendance when it opens for its 17th season next week.

More than 90 girls, including the "bitzies" as well as teen age girls—will leave here Monday for the camp site on the West River near Sudley, Md.

Transportation is being arranged in chartered buses, thanks to a special ruling for the benefit of persons under 18 attending summer camps.

The youngsters will find several familiar faces on their arrival, for Miss M. Florence Dunlap, director for many years, is again in charge, and Miss Louise Hatch, program director, and her assistant, Miss Mary Catherine Richardson, also are serving in their former capacities.

Equipped with 16 rowboats, five canoes and a sailboat, water sports on the sheltered West River are always popular at the camp.

Miss Elizabeth Blumenthal will be in charge of a corps of life saving instructors, while sailing also will be under expert supervision.

The program also includes dramatics, music, sketching and clay modeling under specialists in these lines.

Plans of local Daughters of the Confederacy to raise a nurse's training fund in co-operation with a national society project will be discussed when members of the Presidents Club of the UDC meet for tea Saturday at the home of Mrs. Berry R. Thompson in Foxhall Village.

All local UDC units already have made a contribution to the fund, which is being directed by the State Committee on Patriotic Activities and Civil Defense.

Mrs. Thompson heads the committee for the Southern Cross Chapter.

Mrs. W. W. Sloan, president of the Political Study Club, and Mrs. Benjamin S. Gantz, newly appointed hospitality chairman, were guests of honor at a party for the board given this week at the home of Mrs. Tilman Bacon Parks, Mrs. Edward C. Shields and Mrs. William Boss also were hostesses.

A "diploma de honor" from the Women's Division of the Ecuadorean Red Cross has been presented to Miss Mabel Vernon, director of the Peoples Mandate Committee, in appreciation for help sent by United States members to residents of El Oro, suffering from the effects of the conflict between Peru and Ecuador.

Money sent by the Peoples Mandate bought medicines and hospital instruments, according to word from Miss Ellen Lewis, an American member. Boxes of clothing for the women and children of the province are now en route to Ecuador.

Miss Vernon received the diploma from Senora Maria Campi de Yoder, chairman of the Women's Division of the Ecuadorean Red Cross.

Regulations Defined For Lights on Cars Used in Blackouts

Army and ODT Draw Up Rules to Screen Cars As Safely as Possible

By the Associated Press.
CLEVELAND.—By their lights, you'll know the kind and size of motor vehicles you pass in the night during blackouts—and how to pass them safely.
If you're a civilian, you'll need a pretty good reason before civilian defense officials let you drive at all in blackouts.
In case you are permitted to use your car, a War Department specification tells you how private automobiles—as well as trucks, ambulances, fire and police vehicles, trolleys and buses—should be illuminated to screen them from enemy aircraft and provide maximum highway safety.
Drawn up by Army engineers with the aid of the Office of Defense Transportation, the War Production Board, other Government agencies and electric companies, the rules are expected to be placed in effect soon by the Office of Civilian Defense.

Wait Five Minutes.

First, you're cautioned to stay in the dark at least five minutes before attempting to drive on blacked-out streets and highways. This is to adapt your eyes to the low level of illumination permitted in blackouts.

You'll have one driving lamp—a 10-candle power bulb with reflector encased in black metal and shaded by a hood and mask. This lamp is about one-fifth the strength of ordinary headlights. It will be placed to the left center of the car, 36 to 55 inches above the road level and far enough forward to prevent reflection of light from any part of the vehicle.

Two small marker lights, placed near the usual front headlights, will define the vehicle's width. Of no help in driving, these bulb lights can be seen by approaching traffic at a distance of 1,000 feet.

Tail and Stop Light.

A combination tail and stop light gives off a faint, red glow visible at 1,000 feet while the vehicle is in motion, and an amber glow when it stops. These lights are V-shaped and recessed to obscure them from low-flying planes.
In addition, vehicles must have two or three reflector lights on each side—amber toward the front, red toward the rear.

Requirements are the same for ambulances, police and fire vehicles, taxicabs and buses, except that vehicles 80 inches wide must have two tail and stop lights. On ambulances, the small marker or "clearance" lights are white; on other vehicles, amber.

Motorcycles require one running light, one marker light and one tail light, while bicycles, push carts and other human-propelled vehicles require front and rear reflector lights. It will help, too, if chromium and other shiny surfaces are covered with lustrous paint—drab brown, preferably. Hub caps, bumpers and other low portions should be painted with a white, reflectorized paint. Dashboard lights are out, unless the illumination is of low intensity and deep red color.

Pedestrians, like motorists, are expected to keep off streets and roads unless they have business there. In that case, they should wear white or reflectorized leggings, or white handkerchiefs tied around their legs, and carry blackout lanterns or flashlights.
You can use approximately the same equipment on cattle if you must drive the animals over a highway during a blackout.

'Freedom Radio' a Fake, Dutch in London Declare

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, June 26.—Radio Orange, the Netherlands government station in London, last night branded the self-styled Dutch "Freedom Radio" station, which announced its existence Wednesday night, as a Nazi fake.

The radio outlet of the Dutch government in exile at the end of a night news broadcast named the freedom radio as "under the control of the occupying power."

The new station called itself the "nutcracker" and its first appearance was on the wave length of the Hilversum radio station operated in Holland by the Nazis. It came on when the Hilversum station went off the air last night.

Although the mysterious new station promised to go on the air nightly at 6:30 p.m., London time (12:30 p.m. Eastern war time), it failed to broadcast as scheduled last night—its planned second night of operation—the counter-propaganda bureau of the British Broadcasting Corp. said.

Agar Advocates Willkie For New York Governor

By the Associated Press.
CAMP TAMMINT, Pa., June 26.—Herbert Agar, president of Freedom House, New York City, last night urged the nomination of Wendell L. Willkie for Governor of New York, saying "the politician's plan to present us with a hack in one party and a trimmer in the other."

Mr. Agar said the proposed nominations of Thomas E. Dewey on the Republican ticket and John J. Bennett, New York attorney general, on the Democratic slate would be "crimes committed in democracy's name."

He spoke before nearly 1,000 leaders of labor unions and civic groups at the eight annual Camp Tamiment economic conference.

"The vote for Governor of New York State in November might be a vote for the next President of the United States," he said.

John E. Quisenberry, 1445 Park road N.W., yesterday filed suit in District Court for $25,000 against the "Texwash Corp., operators of the Washington Hotel, charging that he was assaulted by the hotel house detective.

Mr. Quisenberry told the court he was struck in the hotel lobby May 19. Police were called to the scene. Mr. Quisenberry said.

New Iraqi Envoy Explains Hazards of Jewish Army

Fears Separate Organization Would Antagonize Arabs, Thus Aiding Axis

By HELEN LOMBARD.
A new envoy is in somewhat the same position as a newly elected member of Congress. The "debutante" prefers to learn the ropes before making his maiden speech. In these days, however, events are moving fast. The first representative of an Arab nation ever to appear here had been in town less than two months when a delicate diplomatic problem was dumped in his lap.

The first envoy from Iraq, which contains rich oil fields for which the Nazis are now reaching, is a gentleman with an extensive education and a sound diplomatic and political training. Unequivocally on the side of the United Nations, Ali Jawdat is a liberal free of any racial prejudices. But he knows his Arabs and knows what Axis propagandists are doing in the Arab world.

The story got to his ears that advantage was being taken of the presence of Winston Churchill in the United States to put pressure on the British Prime Minister to support the creation of a Jewish army in Palestine. Shortly after the announcement of Mr. Churchill's arrival in the United States a full page advertisement appeared in many American newspapers demanding the creation of a Jewish legion.

Confirmed Liberal.

Ali Jawdat is a confirmed liberal. He also is a former soldier who has fought with the British against the Turks for the oppressed Arabs. He is sentimentally in favor of any national army. But in a sense the new envoy from Iraq is the spokesman for all the Arabs between the Eastern Mediterranean shores and the Iranian border—the area toward which the Nazis are now traveling. The Iraqi Minister felt that the attempt of the Jews in America and in Britain to organize a purely Jewish army would be dangerous at this particular time for the cause of the United Nations.

This also was the point of view of the British administrators in Palestine and Transjordan and had been accepted as sound by Mr. Churchill and the British general staff. But the Minister from Iraq feared that the renewal of the campaign in the United States to push the proposition of a Jewish army, while Mr. Churchill was engaged in momentous conversations at the White House, might influence the British Prime Minister.

Opposes Antagonizing Arabs.

All Jawdat therefore took his maiden plunge as a Washington diplomat and underlined to the State Department prevailing conditions in the Near East. He pointed out that it would be most unwise to antagonize today the powerful King Ibn-ben-Saud of Arabia whose voice sways a large part of the Arab world. The Arabs already are being told by Axis propagandists that should the United Nations win Arabia would be turned over to the Jews.

The creation of a Jewish army better equipped with modern war material than anything the Arabs have would be construed immediately in Arab quarters as a confirmation of the Axis' broadcasts. (The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

U. S. Must Share Food When War Is Won, Marvin Tells Group

Arkansas Ave. Citizens Oppose Use of Hospital For Tubercular Patients

"If this Nation were on a 100 per cent spiritual basis, the war could not last very long," Dr. Cloyd Heck Marvin, president of George Washington University, told the Arkansas Avenue Community Citizens' Association last night.

Addressing nearly 100 persons, Dr. Marvin stressed the "spirit of freedom" for the United States citizens and called for a "share and share alike" spirit after the war has been won.

"We will have to share our bread and butter with every country in the world after the war is over," he said, "and not expect any pay for a great deal of it. We should have ready boatloads of food to send to foreign countries the day the armistice is signed. And that armistice must not be followed by a Versailles, packed with cupidity, fear and hatred, but with a fellowship and a reconstruction whereby each nation will be allowed to rebuild itself in its own way, as much as possible," he added.

In a short business session, the association favored District government compensation for any civilian defense worker injured in the line of duty.

On a motion by C. H. Newell, general counsel, the use of the old hospital at Thirteenth and Upshur streets N.W. for tubercular patients or convalescents was opposed.

An incendiary bomb exhibit was given by Capt. Frank M. Schertz, U. S. A., deputy air-raid warden of the area.

The meeting was held in Hamline Methodist Church. The association will meet again in September.

Dock Facilities Are Bottleneck In Receiving U. S. War Goods

Many Ports Abroad Simply Are Not Geared To Tremendous Capacities Required of Them

By GEORGE WELLES,
War Correspondent of The Star and Chicago Daily News.

SOMEWHERE IN AUSTRALIA, June 26.—As Americans join in the defense of Egypt and in preparations for a second front, the problem of getting shipments of American men, munitions and supplies promptly and without fail to the world-wide fronts for which they are intended assumes ever increasing importance.

The surface elements are simple: Axis submarines and planes are trying to sink Allied convoys and are getting too successful at it. But there is another, less dramatic but tremendously vital, element in the struggle now reaching an acute stage, and that is the neglected question of where and how fast Allied ships can be loaded and discharged of their cargoes.

This is the bottleneck whose character has not been fully explained to the American and British publics. It is felt here. Shipping conditions in imperial ports outside of the British Isles have been far from satisfactory. The Luftwaffe has been unable longer to count on nabbing American cargoes in trans-shipment ports around the British Isles.

Blitzes did service in that they forced the British to cut red tape and learn to unload cargoes more rapidly. But elsewhere, from the west coast of Africa eastward, American resident authorities under Rear Admiral Emory S. Land of the Maritime Commission have been faced with cutting through accumulated inertias of years to get things done and have not always succeeded in doing so.

Ports Not Geared to Demands.
The key of the matter, from the west coast of Africa to the Suez and from the Suez to Singapore, has been the fact that British imperial ports are simply not geared to the tremendous capacities now required of them. When Allied freighters arrive, loaded with the products of American and British factories brought at great risk through infested waters by seamen who have successfully avoided submarines, they often find that all the piers are occupied. Cranes and machinery are lacking.

A freighter must lie in the roadstead or sometimes off shore, waiting for its turn. Sometimes, there is labor trouble, too. But most frequently, the difficulty is simply that the whole great water-front machinery of the British Empire had badly needed overhaul in years and is simply unfitted to handle expeditionary mercantile cargoes, to say nothing of heavy war burdens.

Not all vessels are lost at sea; some "die" in ports where they are detained too long by machinery geared to a short rather than a long war, or not geared to war at all. The Suez is the most commonly cited example where delays in shipping have exposed valuable liners and vital cargoes to surprise raids by Focke-Wulf bombers, sometimes with deplorable results. Now, with Nazi air bases creeping to the canal, the price of inefficiency has jumped.

New Officers Held Needed.
As your correspondent pointed out in dispatches from the African coast, the situation along Indian Ocean ports governing Egypt's defense has so long demanded improvement that the point is now passed where improvement alone is sufficient. What is needed, if Africa is to be saved, is a complete change of administration.

In deference to considerations of security, the complete picture of delays must be withheld. But an instance or two may indicate what must remain unwritten.
An American consul and his wife arrived from the United States at an East African port much mentioned recently in the news and aboard an American freighter carrying war materials. The freighter had taken less than a month for the dangerous voyage through submarine zones. At this single port, which is only one among several East African ports, the freighter remained 12 days, anchored outside. There were no fewer than 32 vessels ahead of her waiting to unload. Incredibly enough, the American consul himself was not allowed to embark for nearly a week and remained wasting his time aboard. Extra pay for the vessel's crew cost nearly $2,000 a day, all met from the lease-lend pocket. The freighter then proceeded to other East African ports and eventually accumulated more than three weeks lost time.

The voyage from America, originally scheduled to meet the flood tides in East African ports, was thrown out of joint. The round-trip voyage took almost 50 per cent longer than expected, even though the mercantile seamen crews assumed full risk of running straight through war zones.

Net Result the Same.
Japanese submarines were not then operating off the East African Coast or such efficiency in ports might have had happier results than . . . As it was, the net result in cargo days lost was the same as though the Axis had sunk one in every three such freighters. Antiquated equipment, bureaucratic delay and reluctance to shake off inertia, to spend money, build new docks, and put wharfing on a fighting basis, had done the same work as a three-week tie-up in every one of the humming American factories which had produced the cargoes.

Although criticism has caused some improvements, many ports in the Far East now in Jap hands, particularly Rangoon and Singapore, have been grievous offenders as almost every American or British shipmaster knows to his cost.

At Singapore, federalization of the harbor board resulted only in more delays and red tape. During the most critical period of the siege the master of a big British freighter remained over a week in the daily raided port, unable to get any one in an authoritative position to say whether the cargo, which included urgently needed fighter planes, should be unloaded. Finally, forced to choose between saving the ship from raids and continuous delay, the captain unloaded the crates of aircraft and departed with the holds crammed with refugees. Whether the brand-new planes were abandoned on the docks, were captured or demolished, only the Japs can say.

Partially to remedy the East African situation, the United States has created its own new base for unloading supplies for the Libya-Egypt war zone, a base which is now apparently operating with reasonable smoothness. The same system, if adopted earlier in the Far East, might have saved the Indonesia ports.

The Australian authorities have yielded to the Americans some degree of autonomy in harbor board activities. But in Africa, where battles are going less favorably, the American strategists must look ahead to the time when the price of inefficiency in ports will be increasingly and perhaps crucially high. The defense of Africa may have to be fought down both coasts, from port to port.

Inefficiencies, once tolerated, have now gone beyond the point where political barriers can be regarded. It is believed in some marine circles that the United States, having the financing, producing and shipping responsibility, likewise should manage unloading while local budgets meet the cost of permanent harbor improvements.

Africa, like Australia, must be stoutly defended and greatly extended harbor facilities can prepare for a long period of defensive conflict now gradually coming into view.

Ex-Prime Minister Hughes Backs Churchill Regime

SYDNEY, Australia, June 26.—William Morris Hughes, Australia's Prime Minister in the first World War, declared yesterday that "I would rather lose more battles than lose Churchill" as the empire's war leader.

Discussing criticism of the Prime Minister in the British House of Commons, Mr. Hughes, now Navy

"He has brought us as far as we have gone. He has ranged the United States on our side and is responsible for the alliance with Russia. He chooses the best available men and cannot be blamed for tactical errors.

"In the last war, when we lost every battle except the last, the sins of the generals were not visited on the government. Our generals in Libya apparently were beaten because Rommel is better. But Britons are stubborn fighters. The call now is to stand firm."

 CHARLOTTE, N. C.—County Attorney James L. Delaney wrote a citizen that he owed $34.20 in back taxes which would have to be paid immediately or legal action would be taken.
 The man telephoned Mr. Delaney that it was none other than Mr. Delaney who had written him a letter saying the property was clear of taxes when he bought it.

Death Toll of Jews In Poland Now Put At 700,000

Disease and Starvation Allowed to Run Rampant, Council in London Told

By DAVID M. NICHOL, Foreign Correspondent of The Star and Chicago Daily News.
 LONDON, June 26.—Out of the gray horror the Nazis have made of Poland came new evidence today of the systematic extermination of the Jewish population, with the death toll from various causes now estimated at more than 700,000.
 According to a report sent through secret channels to representatives of the Polish National Council here, disease and starvation are allowed to operate to the fullest extent. Where these means are considered insufficient or slow, massacre tactics often are substituted, these sources say.
 When the Nazis attacked Poland, the Jewish population there was estimated roughly at 3,000,000. Deaths since then would account for almost 25 per cent of this number.
 Gas Chambers Reported Used.
 Polish sources insist the Nazis are using portable gas chambers in some sections, perhaps testing lethal weapons which may sometime find more general use. One such instance was reported at the village of Chelmno near Lodz, where Jews were crowded 90 at a time into the chamber. Mass burial followed in Lubarski Forest.
 These accounts find grim confirmation in reports current within the Reich in the last two years of the carefully guarded activities at Castle Grafeneck in Southern Germany. Until Nazi censors intervened, the German press carried a series of notices lamenting the "sudden" deaths of relatives, in most cases from hospitals for the incurably ill or mental defectives. Many are believed to have been taken to Grafeneck in sealed vans under Gestapo and S. S. guards. The bodies subsequently were cremated and the ashes shipped to unsuspecting families.
 Many Deaths in Ghetto.
 The German's own figures indicate a tremendous number of deaths in the Warsaw Ghetto where 900 were listed in January, 1941, compared with 5,600 in August, 1941. Many of the deaths were traced to starvation and disease in the walled quarters where 600,000 persons are living in accommodations previously housing one-fourth of this many before the section was damaged by war.
 The extermination practices began first in those sections of Poland now formally annexed to the Reich and subsequently spread to the "general government," according to information in Polish circles here. Poles, themselves, are facing a similar though slower process because they now are needed as forced labor for Hitler's new order.

Lambeth Cross Given To Greek Archbishop In London Ceremony

Archbishop of Canterbury Makes First Award to Foreign Ecclesiastic

Special Dispatch to The Star and North American Newspaper Alliance.
 LONDON, June 26.—A ceremony of considerable interest to all concerned in church affairs, and particularly in the reunion of the churches, took place in London when the first award of the Lambeth Cross was made by Dr. William Temple, Archbishop of Canterbury, to the Greek Archbishop Germanos of Thyateira.
 For 20 years Dr. Germanos has made his headquarters in London as Orthodox exarch of Western Europe and Apokristarios, or personal legate of the patriarch of Constantinople, the head of the Orthodox Church, to the Archbishop of Canterbury.
 The Lambeth Cross, instituted in 1939 by Dr. Lang, the then archbishop, is a gold pectoral ornament of old English and Byzantine design and is intended for presentation to foreign ecclesiastics who have had long and happy relations with Lambeth Palace, the seat of the Archbishop of Canterbury, or who have given notable service in the development of the friendship between their own churches and the Anglican communion or in the movement toward world Christian solidarity.

 In making the presentation Dr. Temple observed that Archbishop Germanos had been not merely a symbol but an incarnation of the friendship of the churches. In reply the Greek exarch said that in 1917 the Archbishop of Athens, the patriarch Meletios, who was accompanied by distinguished theological professors of the National University of Greece, had the opportunity of holding conferences with many learned theologians of the Church of England and of the Episcopal Church of America. They confirmed his view that the reunion of their two churches was not beyond the bounds of possibility.

WPB Again Cuts Civilian Quota Of Chocolate

By the Associated Press.
 The Government cut down again yesterday on the amount of chocolate allocated to satisfy America's sweet tooth.
 Attempting to spread out dwindling supplies of cocoa beans and make current stocks last until mid-1943, the War Production Board ordered the quota of beans which may be processed each quarter cut to 80 per cent of last year's figure. Previously the quota was 70 per cent.
 Cocoa beans, sole source of chocolate, are imported chiefly from West Africa and South America. Sup-pies have been jeopardized by submarine warfare.

 At the same time, however, WPB boosted the monthly allowance of cloves—imported from Zanzibar in increased quantities recently—to permit food processors, manufacturers of medicines, and clove packers to use the same average monthly amount they consumed last year. The increase was about 33 per cent of the previous quota.

Miss Dietrich Gets to Know People in War Bond Drive

Heavy Schedule Set For Movie Star And Flyers

Marlene Dietrich reached Washington at 8:20 o'clock this morning for a whirlwind three-day bond sales drive, coupled with the Air Cavalcade campaign for aviation enlistments.

Her writing finger actually blistered from autographing bond sales checks, the movie star said she has learned to know "the wonderful people of America in this War bond drive" as she stresses her bond sales appeal for "saving lives rather than dollars."

The Air Cavalcade, consisting of six fighter planes, an air transport and a glider, was scheduled to arrive at National Airport from Albany, N. Y., between 1 and 2 o'clock this afternoon. With Miss Dietrich, the war pilots faced the following program today:

3 p.m.—WMAL studio broadcast; 4:45 p.m. bond sales rally at Lansburgh's department store; 5 p.m. broadcast from Lansburgh's; 6:05 p.m. WRC studio broadcast; 9:55 p.m. Loew's Capitol Theater, and 11 p.m., Del Rio Night Club.

Revised Itinerary.
The revised itinerary for tomorrow and Sunday, as arranged by the Treasury Department and Army Air Forces, calls for the appearance of Miss Dietrich or the war pilots as follows:

Saturday—At 3:30 p.m., bond sales rally at Jelliff's department store; 9 p.m., Earle Theater.

Sunday—11:05 a.m. (flyers only), WJWS broadcast from Fort Belvoir; 11 a.m., Miss Dietrich at Walter Reed Hospital; 2 p.m., airport dinner; 4 p.m., bond sales rally at airport; 6 p.m., reception, victory room, Roosevelt Hotel.

The Air Cavalcade, whose Washington visit is the fifth on its tour of 15 leading cities, will line up its planes near the Airport Administration Building so that the public may view them from the terrace. A Messerschmitt shot down over England and repaired for exhibition purposes in this country slows down the speedy planes accompanying it. Air Corps officials said, adding that it might need refueling on the flight from Albany to Washington.

Arriving at Union Station from Cincinnati, after a jeep tour of 10 Ohio cities, Miss Dietrich was greeted by Army Air Force officials, headed by Lt. Col. Charles K. Kerwood, Capt. John M. Redding and Capt. Charles Frazier, and Treasury Department officials, headed by Harold N. Graves, special assistant to Secretary Morgenthau.

It was Miss Dietrich's second trip to the Capital within a month. She sang at Fort Meade on her Army camp tour and then was sent by the Treasury Department on a bond sales tour.

City Boys Become Farm Hands In Maryland War Experiment

21 Youths From Washington Help Supply Gaithersburg Area Farmers With Manpower

By Staff Correspondent of The Star.
GAITHERSBURG, Md., June 26.—A wartime experiment transforming city boys into farm hands opened in this area this week and the idea is working.

Twenty-five boys of high school age, all but four of them from Washington, are learning something about how food is produced and farmers are receiving much-needed assistance.

The youths, fast acquiring deep tans, rise at 6 a.m. at their improvised dormitory in the Gaithersburg High School gym. Breakfast, served in the school lunchroom, under the direction of Mrs. Clark Freeman, is at 6:30.

By 7 a.m. the boys are ready to board a county school bus which takes them to farms between Rockville and Germantown.

Noon Meal on Farm.

Dinner—they learn for the first time that a farmer's noonday meal is not lunch in any sense of the word—is served on the farms.

Tired and dusty but still able to sing on the way home, the boys return to the school at the close of the day. After supper at the school, those who are not too done in may play checkers, chess or table tennis, read books or listen to the radio.

Some times their director, A. A. Norris Jr., who is in charge of visual education at the Richard Montgomery High School in Rockville, shows movies.

The boys' first act on reporting Tuesday was to elect a "captain of the yard." Selected was red-headed Alexander Stouck, 16, of Washington. Various other leaders, including mail boy messengers, were appointed.

In Beds at 10.

The boys were turned to in the gym and in 15 minutes had it cleaned out, cots set up and beds made for the night.

The first night the boys, who must turn in at 10 o'clock, were restless, Director Norris recounted, and because of it, they probably saved the lives of two residents of the town. About 11 p.m. Mr. Norris was roused by shouts of fire. "A noisy bunch," he said to himself.

But it really was a fire, a blaze that destroyed the cottage of Mr. and Mrs. James Federlner whose home is next to the school gym. The couple were roused in time to escape from the blazing place, and the boys shoved Mr. Federlner's automobile safely away. The couple's pet dog and much of their belongings were destroyed.

The first day only six of the boys were without assignments. But at 1 p.m. a call came in from Elmer B. Walter, a farmer near Germantown. He needed some hands to go to work on a hay baler. The boys piled into Director Norris' car and were on the job in half an hour.

"We are on the job through the day," Mr. Norris said, "just like mechanics in a garage. A farmer phones in that he needs four men to harvest wheat the next day, and we supply the hands."

There is a hitch in the program which also is under way at Poolesville, Damascus and Sherwood High Schools in the county, however. The county Board of Commissioners on Monday authorized but $600 for the four projects, which is only sufficient to carry them through next Tuesday.

The board has called a special meeting Monday in Rockville to discuss this matter. But unless funds are in prospect by Tuesday, this experiment in youth power is fated to end even before it has really gotten under way.

Seven Elderly Women Injured in Home Fire

By The Associated Press.
BALTIMORE, June 26.—Three elderly women patients were burned and four others suffered from smoke and shock in a three-alarm fire that blocked the exits of an annex building of the Florence Nightingale Convalescent Home early today, trapping them on the second floor. Police called to the scene by a passing motorist who turned in an alarm raised a painter's extension ladder and carried three of the women to safety. Firemen rescued the other patients, one of whom, Mrs. Anna Snyder, 83, Oriole, Md., was critically ill. Police said patients were crowded at the windows, shouting for help and threatening to jump when they arrived. Six blind patients on the first floor were led out by police and firemen.

The road to victory is paved with War bonds—not just good intentions.

Willard F. Day Appointed To Regional Housing Post

William F. Day, former chief engineer of the Federal aid program section of the National Resources Planning Board, has been appointed regional representative of the National Housing Agency for the District of Maryland, Virginia and Delaware. It was announced today by John B. Blandford, Jr., national housing administrator.

Mr. Day, whose headquarters will be here, will be responsible under Mr. Blandford for war housing programs in the region's industrial areas. It will be his duty to determine what housing is needed, where and when it will be built, and the type of construction. Actual building operations are under the Federal Public Housing Authority, it was explained.

A native of Baltimore, Mr. Day is past president of the International City Managers' Association. He was named inspector of construction for the Maryland State Road Commission in 1915. In 1917 he became resident engineer with the Virginia State Highway Commission. Later he served as chief engineer for Campbell County, Va., and as Henrico County manager.

Maryland Bar Gets Plea for Five-Judge Court of Appeals

Bond Says Streamlined Bench Would Be Better Than Eight-Man Setup

By the Associated Press. ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 26. —A recommendation that Maryland's Court of Appeals be streamlined by reducing its membership from eight to five judges was placed before the Maryland State Bar Association for action today.

Chief Judge Carroll T. Bond of the appellate court, chairman of the Commission on the Judiciary Article of the Maryland Constitution, explained that the five judges would devote most of their time to appellate work only.

No Unequal Decisions. Addressing the 47th annual convention, Judge Bond said:

"Five judges would make possible a long delayed readjustment, a convenient and fair division of them between Baltimore City and the counties, two and three, respectively, and being an odd number would prevent equal divisions of opinion and failures to decide when all the judges sit.

Speaking of methods of selecting judges, he continued:

"Most of the judges now are added to the court to fill vacancies caused by retirement or death of predecessors and those events seldom occur at the exact times of elections. The commission voted to recommend that all the judges of the court be appointed in the first instance and that they be assured of only one year of service, then at the time of the next election, either for national or State offices, be required to stand for election if they wish to continue."

NLRB Criticized. Charles Markell of Baltimore, retiring bar association president, yesterday attacked the "reconstructed" Supreme Court and Federal administration agencies, particularly the National Labor Relations Board.

When the NLRB appeared before the Supreme Court, he said, it was "not a 'Daniel come to judgment,'" "But," he continued, "an employer before the board is a Daniel in the den of lions without an angel to shut the lions' mouth."

Mr. Markell quoted President Roosevelt as saying he would appoint Supreme Court justices who would not "undertake to override the judgment of Congress on legislative policy." And, Mr. Markell continued, "he has appointed such justices and they have lived up to his requirements."

Pre-War Holy Land Opponents United Against Axis

One of Big Incentives for Joining British Actually Came From Germans

By ARTHUR KAY, Foreign Correspondent of The Star and North American Newspaper Alliance. JERUSALEM, Palestine, June 26.—Will June and July be the "zero months" in the Near East? Last year this correspondent saw the first direct threat from the Germans as they invaded Russia, with their objective the oil fields of the Caucasus, Iraq and Iran. Iraq and Iran were occupied by the British and Russians, while Syria was invaded by the British and Free French forces in order to remove the threat from the Nazi Luftwaffe, which had set up bases in that Vichy-controlled territory.

Only Palestine and Transjordan and, to the south, the Arabian peninsula have remained free from Axis or Axis-controlled forces. Today the Axis armies in Libya have forced their way back to the Egyptian frontier and to the north the Germans are once again hammering at the western approaches of the Caucasus.

Asked to Join Forces.

What is the reaction of the local populations to these fresh threats to their independence? There is something distinctive about war-time Jerusalem. Peace-time guides are no longer in evidence and street hawkers have toned down their raucous voices. It happens that the Jewish inhabitants of Palestine between the ages of 17 and 45 have been called on en masse to join whichever defense force is applicable to them. This call from the Jewish agency coincided with a statement from the British war office that in the future all members of the armed forces recruited in Palestine will wear a shoulder tab with the word, "Palestine."

This innovation has already proved a great incentive and, although falling short of the Zionist request for a Jewish army, has been gratefully accepted as being the next best thing and today Palestinian soldiers can be seen proudly wearing their new insignia.

Not all the soldiers recruited in Palestine are Jews; about a third are Arabs. Jews and Arabs do not, however, serve in the same companies. There are separate companies for each of the two races, usually commanded by a British officer, with Arab or Jewish officers serving under him.

Laugh at Nazi Claims.

One of the great incentives in favor of recruiting for the British Army actually came from the Germans. With their customary habit of overdoing it, the Germans in their broadcasts to Arabs in Arabic have described the fearful damage caused by German or Italian planes in their attacks on the harbor towns of Haifa and Jaffa. Haifa has experienced a number of bombings, but the total amount of damage has been negligible and certainly far from what could be imagined after listening to the Berlin or Bari (Italy) radios. Jaffa itself has never been raided, but a few bombs have been dropped in a neighboring town and, except for the first occasion, did little damage. Any mention over the German radio of the bombing of Jaffa is good for a laugh from the Arab inhabitants of the town.

On the other hand, propaganda broadcasts from radio stations in Palestine, not only in English, Hebrew and Arabic for home consumption, but also in Greek, Rumanian, Bulgarian, French, Polish and other languages, with special emphasis on the Balkans, have become to many people in the occupied countries of Europe a second Bible emanating from the Holy Land.

Jerusalem is perhaps the most truly cosmopolitan city in the Near East outside of Cairo. The inhabitants in Jerusalem have great faith in the holy status of their city. Jerusalem has never experienced an air raid. Sirens have wailed in practice various times and there have been some false alarms, but nothing more serious.

People in Telaviv are fond of telling the story of a man who continued to walk nonchalantly along the road after the sirens had sounded. He was stopped and ordered to go to the nearest shelter in accordance with local by-laws. "Don't be silly. I am immune because I am from Jerusalem," he replied.

Shelters Are Provided.

Haifa, Telaviv, Jaffa and other coastal towns have literally dug themselves in. There are shelters for civilians everywhere and first aid preparations galore. Each of Telaviv's 200-odd buses, for example, is convertible into an ambulance. The seats are detachable and each bus is equipped with stretchers strapped to the inside of the roof. I found factories working overtime turning out war material and manufacturing goods, while the fields are producing food and the towns are contributing manpower. But I also found tense waiting for the "zero hour."

Palestine by reason of its geographical position and because the terminus of the pipeline running from the Mosul oil fields is situated at Haifa, points to the inevitability of the Levant coast and its hinterland playing host to the next great battles of the war unless the Axis can be so decisively beaten in Western Europe that it will not attempt to waste more men and material by trying to obtain the oil of Western Asia.

The great Arabian peninsula, from which Palestine, Syria and Iraq form the all-important northern section, is preparing itself. It is the bridgehead to three continents, and all who have followed the communiques of this war know what a battle for a bridgehead means.

Truce Seen As Only Answer.

The 10,000,000 people who live in the Near East know that and none better than the 1,000,000 who live in Palestine, of whom nearly 40 per cent have had first-hand experience with the madmen of Europe—experiences which have left their marks.

Almost every uniform representative of the United Nations is seen in Palestine. There is always one question uppermost in the minds of critics here. What is the situation between the Arab and the Jew? So far as I can see, there is only one answer: Truce. There is a common enemy more to be feared than either one of the traditional foes. For the time being, at least, a friendship has come into being which has every chance of remaining as permanent as politics will allow.

Eagle Flyer Is Married.

LONDON, June 26 (AP).—Squadron Leader C. G. Peterson of Santa Quin, Utah, commander of the 1st American Eagle Squadron, was married today to Audrey Boyes, South African film actress, at St. Margaret's Church in Westminster.

Red Cross Planning Two Canteen Courses

Two canteen courses will be given during the summer at chapter headquarters, it was announced today by Mrs. Theodore Taylor, chairman of the Arlington Red Cross Canteen Corps. One class will start Monday and will last until August 10; the other will begin July 2 and will run through August 13.

The classes are open only to women who have completed the 20-hour nutrition course. Miss Lorraine Fisher and Miss Alice Oglesby will teach the classes.

At the termination of these courses the Arlington Canteen Unit will be able to equip the 45 first aid stations, as well as the base hospitals, with feeding centers.

Clark Calls for Ban On New Battleships In Naval Program

Need for Carriers Urged As Senators Seek Action On Expansion Bill

By the Associated Press.
Cancellation of existing naval authority to begin construction of new battleships was proposed by Senator Clark, Democrat, of Missouri today as congressional advocates of increased airpower sought to speed the output of small and large aircraft carriers.

With sponsors seeking Senate consideration today of a House-approved measure authorizing a 1,000,000-ton expansion of the Navy, Senator Clark told reporters he would demand action on an amendment specifically prohibiting the laying down of any battleships other than those on which work is underway or for which contracts have been let.

No Dreadnaughts Planned.
While the $8,500,000,000 expansion bill would not authorize additional dreadnaughts, Senator Clark pointed out that the Navy has existing authority to build its capital ship tonnage up to 1,045,000 and could transfer up to 30 per cent of its tonnage in some other categories to this classification if it so chose.

Byrd Suspects Sub Base.
A delay in battleship construction also was urged by Senator Byrd, Democrat, of Virginia, who said all possible efforts should be made to convert battleships and cruisers now under construction into aircraft carriers to be supplemented later by the 500,000 tons of new craft of this type contemplated in the expansion bill.

In addition, Senator Byrd said the Navy's program should be revised to place greater emphasis on the production of planes and swift destroyers which could hunt down Axis submarines.

Senator Byrd told the Senate yesterday he believed enemy undersea craft were receiving fuel and supplies from secret bases in the Western Hemisphere, Senator Tydings, Democrat, of Maryland suggested that the Government offer rewards for information on the locations of any such bases.

U. S. Technicians Given No Work, British Charge

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, June 26.—The Daily Herald said today that 500 American technicians, members of Britain's Civilian Technical Corps, are idle in a coast town because little or no work has been provided for them.

Most of the Americans are radio and television experts. A thousand such technicians came here originally, the Daily Herald said, adding that half of them already have returned home either because they lacked work or because they were dissatisfied with their jobs.

The men were enrolled under an Air Ministry scheme. They wear RAP uniforms and draw $25 a week.

War Fund Will Benefit By FHA Dance Tonight

A benefit dance will be held by employees of the Federal Housing Administration tonight at the Wardman Park Hotel to raise funds to help buy tanks, planes and guns for America's armed forces.

The dance is being held in honor of former FHA employees now in the service. The FHA claims to be the first Government group to take advantage of the authority conferred by the War Powers Act permitting the Treasury to accept direct gifts of money to help finance the war.

U. S. Flag Flies On Covers of 500 Magazines

The flags on the covers of current magazines are not there by accident. It did not simply happen that a great many editors coincidentally chose the Star-Spangled Banner as a decoration for the "fronts" of their respective periodicals. It was planned as long as last March 15.

William Bishop Warner of New York, president of the National Publishers' Association, and Paul MacNamara, also of New York, promotion manager for a publishing syndicate, are credited with sponsoring the original idea. A letter sent out to 1,200 different publishers by Mr. MacNamara with Mr. Warner's blessing brought immediate responses from 500, all of whom agreed to fly the flag on the issues dated nearest to July 4. The result is available for inspection on every newsstand. More than 95,000,000 readers, it has been estimated, will see at least one periodical bearing the Stars and Stripes in the next few days.

Chemist Says in House He Can Supply Nation With Rubber in Year

Dow Company Head Asks $100,000,000, Priorities To Make Corn Product

Dr. William J. Hale, head of a chemistry firm, testified before a House mining subcommittee yesterday he could produce all the rubber the Nation needs in a year if given $100,000,000, men and priorities.

The former organic chemistry professor at the University of Michigan, now consultant to the Dow Chemical Co. and president of the National Agrol. Co., Washington, said he would set up about 100 plants—with two in each State—each turning out 45,000 pounds of butadiene daily from certain types of corn.

Another $150,000,000 would be required by the rubber industry to make the rubber from the butadiene, he said, adding that his product would make tires superior to those now in use.

15-Cent Pound Product. "We can produce rubber for probably 15 cents a pound," he asserted, "from waxy maize and grain sorghums, and you can always make it cheaper as you progress. It can be made in enormous quantities at a very small cost and not even disturb the surplus corn crop.

"One hundred and fifty million bushels of corn will produce all the rubber we can possibly use, and that's not 5 per cent of our crop," Dr. Hale said the War Production Board and Department of Agriculture were aware of facts that could be performed by chemistry.

Excluding President Roosevelt and Donald Nelson, War Production Board chairman, Dr. Hale accused the WPB organization of "not wanting to win the war." He said WPB officials were "hamstrung by steel and oil industries" which he said were in effect "Hitler cohorts."

Dr. Hale said that the petroleum industry received $500,000,000 with which to make synthetic rubber, but that it could not hope to make more than 25,000 tons in a year, and that no rubber as yet had been produced.

"In one year we can be turning out practically all the rubber this country can use," said Dr. Hale, referring to his corn alcohol process. "On the other hand you won't get one-quarter of what we need from petroleum.

Can't Get Priorities. "We need only glass, porcelain, a little copper or silver—the fermentation takes place in wooden vats. We can build the plants from stove pipe or brick bats. Yet we seem unable to get priorities. A group from Michigan came to Washington recently and informed the WPB they had 90 per cent of the materials for construction of a butadiene plant, but priorities were refused.

The chemist accused the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey of having discouraged development of synthetic products from farm crops.

In response to questioning by Chairman Randolph of the subcommittee, Dr. Hale said Secretary of Agriculture Wickard is "beginning to see the light," but the only hope of furthering the corn rubber process was to "see the President himself."

Army of Mercy to Help Starving Children Urged

By Radio To The Star. LONDON, June 26.—Immediate organization of an army of mercy to accompany the Allied invasion force to Europe, in order to relieve starvation of children in the conquered countries, was suggested by Mrs. Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, Jr. in an address to the National Baby Welfare Council here today.

the authorities begin now to assemble the necessary vitamins and concentrated foods and a selected group of people to administer their distribution.

Mrs. Biddle suggested, the people of the occupied countries should be informed of the plans by radio in order to encourage them and to obtain their eventual co-operation in distribution work.

Precept Two Remember glib Demosthenes Who cured a girlish lisp. With pebbled mouth against the waves he rumbled.

Precept Three Avoid the harsh, discordant tone. The piercing whine that shatters; But, on the other hand, be not too cloying.

Precept Four Pronounce your words correctly, sir. The listeners are wary; Ridiculous mistakes drive them to mayhem.

'This Gun for Hire' Tops Among 1942's Melodrama

Picture at Capitol Engrossing Tale of Killer, Spies and Pretty Girl; Stage Show All-Star Affair

By JAY CARMODY.

Whenever an English author of reasonable skill begins to meditate upon the psychopathic criminal, a good novel, play or movie is likely to be in the making.

Latest development of this process is "This Gun for Hire," a striking piece of melodrama which came to Loew's Capitol yesterday.

Jay Carmody.

pathy for cats—the young man exudes menace, a brooding hatred for society which makes no distinctions between rich or poor, strong or weak. His festering malady is something from which you don't dare take your eyes, at its best after Miss Lake as a night club entertainer who has picked his curiosity strays into his life.

Graham Green whose "Brighton Rock" has had movie and stage productions ago ever since it was published as a novel, is the author of "This Gun for Hire."

In it, he laid down in perfect form those two indispensable elements of an engrossing motion picture, arresting characters involved in constant and suspenseful movement.

Principal among them is a young man whose business is murder. To the art he brings a steady hand and a heart so cold that it can control and manipulate the murder of a crippled child upon the scene of a double murder which he has just accomplished.

Goldwyn has issued instructions to his publicity department to fill every seat. First page of Dudley Nichols' single double feature "For Whom the Bell Tolls" consists of an apology for its length and a promise to whip it into more presentable form. He mentions specific sequences which he is going to cut. This is the first case of a pre-shooting script apology. The Hollywood Victory Committee is going to come up with a single double feature. The writer goes to Smith's home town, meets Smith and the champion Wilkinson. You may recall that Wilkinson was feted in the movie capital last year because he won a Hays office contest staged to discover the world's greatest moviegoer. The winner said he had seen 312 movies in nine months. Last card came from Wheeler Field, Hawaii and the champ's only complaint was that he is too busy with the war to see many movies. Sometimes he passes a whole day without seeing a picture.

Hair is becoming scarce, due to blockades, that leading men must wear beards and wigs over and over. A first class set of whiskers, fashioned of human hair and woven into place strand by strand, costs about $50. Max Factor, Jr., says there's no leading man in Hollywood who can wear a beard with the ease of Errol Flynn.

June and July are the months Hollywood films its football yarns for autumn and winter release. Continuing his motor scooter in company with the most unusual. It is Smith of Minnesota, featuring Bruce Smith, the Gophers' 1941 All-American back. The story opens in Hollywood, with a producer calling in a writer and telling him the studio has signed Bruce Smith and to write a story to fit the scenario streamer in agency. "Same old corn—ie score, one minute to play," he gripes. "What are you wishing on me!" Producer snaps: "Get me a good story. Visit the boy in his home town. Get to know him, his folks, his neighbors. See what makes him tick." So the writer goes to Smith's home town, meets Smith's family and falls in love with his sister. Entire plot stays away from campus, cheering sections and football teams, except for dialogue reference. Finally, one sequence of football with Bruce Smith is shown—this being shots of the 1941 game between Michigan and Minnesota. The plot ends back in the producer's office with the writer returning and about to start on his story.

Pro-Arte Quartet Returns to Play Starlight Concert

Broza Develops As Artist Worthy Of Lead Role

By ELENA DE SAYN.

The third concert of the Starlight series at Meridian Hill Park last night brought back to this city the world famous Pro-Arte String Quartet, whose name has been identified with many beautiful programs given here by the members of the original group, such as the one given several seasons ago at the Folger Shakespeare Library.

Since then, with the passing of Alfonso Onou, first violinist, the personnel underwent two changes. Antonio Broza, distinguished Spanish violinist, took the lead and George Sopkin, cellist, joined as the fourth player. Mr. Broza's growth as a chamber music player has been watched with a great deal of interest. His performance last night proved that he is eminently worthy of the mantle which fell upon his shoulders, to further the famous traditions of this ensemble.

His warm and expressive tone has gained in color and elasticity since his last appearance here, enabling him to make the most of the lovely cantilena in Mozart's "Quartet in G Major, K. V. 387," Beethoven's "Quartet in C Major, Op. 59, No. 3" and Debussy's "Quartet in G Minor, Op. 10" which formed the program and which Mr. Broza played on amor.

It is not often that an individual is fortunate enough to have for partners such seasoned artists as Germain Prevost, viola, and Lau-re Hallelux, violinist—the latter well remembered as a serious exponent of Mozart—who led the original group in performances of Mozart's quartets here in the past.

There were a number of fine points in the execution of nuance and dynamics, such as for instance, the pizzicato cello passage interpreted by Mr. Sopkin, who extracted vibrancy as well as sonority from the cello, and in the performance of Beethoven's fugue, taken at a dangerously brisk pace played with fine effect.

It is believed that, due to the size of the outdoor auditorium at Meridian Hill Park, a closer circle by the players, with the first violin turned towards them, would prevent the tone of the individual instruments from spreading, thus creating a better impression, especially at a distance.

The ideal weather drew a sizable attendance, which applauded the artists cordially.
