ALLIES LAND BEHIND NAZI LINE NEAR ROME

Attack Sets Up New Beachheads; RAF Hits Magdeburg and Berlin

Assault Coupled With General Inland Drive

By the Associated Press.
ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Algiers, Jan. 22.—Powerful American and British forces of the 5th Army, striking by sea toward Rome, landed on the west coast of Central Italy before dawn today in a heavy attack to smash the Germans' flank and turn their winter fortifications in the Gustav and Adolf Hitler lines.

NEW LANDING IN ITALY—American and British flags and arrow at left indicate where Berlin reported that Allied 5th Army made new landing at Nettuno behind the German line. Meanwhile, the Allies pressed forward at Cassino and north of Minturno. Heavy line indicates approximate front.

55 Bombers Lost; 90 Nazi Craft Stab at London

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, Jan. 22.—The RAF's campaign to flatten German industrial targets crushed the city of Magdeburg in Saxony last night under more than 2,000 long tons of bombs as the major phase of a great aerial operation which included a smaller attack on Berlin.

The new blows against Germany, following up a heavy 2,200-ton assault on the capital the previous night, cost the RAF 55 bombers, one of the heaviest losses suffered in a year.

They came while the Germans themselves were stabbing at London and Southeast England with two sharp raids by a force of approximately 90 bombers.

Probably 1,000 planes took part in the widespread operations of the RAF during the night, striking also into Northern France and laying mines. This made it the second 1,000-plane Allied offensive within 14 hours. Approximately that number of American and British aircraft attacked the Pas de Calais area in daylight yesterday.

The night's losses were the heaviest since 58 bombers went down during a great assault on Berlin last August 23. Fourteen of the missing bombers were Canadian.

Magdeburg, a city of 300,000 on the left bank of the Elbe River, about 83 miles southwest of Berlin, is a junction point for the main railroads to Leipzig, Kassel and Hamburg—all previously hit heavily.

Large Fires Started.
Magdeburg itself was bombed exactly a week before by Mosquitoes while a big fleet of British bombers concentrated on the aircraft manufacturing center. Brunswick, 26 miles away, which some neutral sources now say "ceases to exist."

The RAF described last night's blast at Magdeburg as "a very heavy attack" and said great fires were left burning.

The RAF force which returned to Berlin, where fires still blazed from the 2,300-ton bombing of the night before, included both four-engine Lancasters and the swift Mosquitoes.

At the same time other bombers struck unidentified targets in France, following up yesterday's 1,000-plane daylight assault on the so-called rocket gun coast in the neighborhood of Pas de Calais.

London Area Raided.
The Germans, making a counter-blow, sent one group of bombers across the Channel before midnight and another in the early hours of this morning.

They operated mainly over Southeast England, but about 30 of the bombers struck into the London area.

A communication said, "Bombs were dropped at a number of places. Damage was caused and there were a number of casualties, some of which were fatal."

Eight enemy aircraft were destroyed. The Nazi retaliation, although light by present-day Allied bombing standards, was the heaviest in months and spectacular enough to remind many Londoners of former attacks. Guns thundered, the skies were lit by incendiaries as well as high explosives were dropped in the London area and other parts of Southeast England.

Dig for Victims.
Damage and casualties were heaviest than usual, and throughout the early morning hours rescuers dug for victims by the light of lamps along the Thames Estuary.

With the Canadians participating in heavy strength, the RAF night bombers crossed the Channel in a 45-minute after-dark procession even at all-England yesterday's American-British armada of 1,000 planes, were returning from LONDON, Jan. 22 (P).—The Berlin radio announced today that 53 persons had been killed in "a railway disaster" near Hannover, Germany. The broadcast gave no details.

Reds' Capture of Mga Opens Rail Line From Leningrad to Moscow

Way Also Is Cleared For Lease-Lend Supplies Through Volkhov

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, Jan. 22.—Soviet capture of Mga, key rail junction 30 miles southeast of Leningrad, has reunited Russia's second city by rail with Moscow for the first time since the city was laid under siege by the Germans two years ago, Moscow dispatches reported today.

At the same time, Leningrad gained a permanent rail link to tap lease-lend supplies coming from the northern port of Murmansk through Volkhov. During these sieges Allied supplies had been reaching the northern city over a railway built on Lake Ladoga's ice and a highway wrested from the enemy a year ago.

Capture of Mga, hailed by Premier Stalin yesterday in a special order of the day, liquidated the tip of a salient long held by the Germans southeast of the former Czarist capital.

An Offensive Along Whole Front.
Reduction of the strategic junction climaxed a new breakthrough on a 30-mile front from the Nerva River south to the town of Vinyagolovo. It freed from German control the railway running from Leningrad to Moscow, 400 miles to the southeast, and opened a new Russian offensive line.

Under direct pressure from the advancing Soviet forces was the main Leningrad-Moscow trunk railway a few miles westward.

(Today's German communique said the Soviets had landed on the southern shores of Lake Ilmen, but that the breakthrough had been smashed. Berlin also forecast a new Russian offensive soon in the Dnieper bend.)

The two northern Russian armies were on the offensive along the whole length and breadth of the Leningrad and Volkhov fronts, the Moscow communique reported. Led by Gen. Leonid A. Govorov and Kyril A. Meretskov, both of whom were cited by Stalin for the capture of Mga.

"Under continuous blows by Soviet troops the enemy is rolling back in a southerly direction and abandoning one fortified place after another," the war bulletin announced.

Other units of Govorov's Leningrad army were driving south and southwest of the city toward Krasnovodsk, junction of an east-west escape rail line leading to Narva, Estonia. Capture of this strategic center would trap untold thousands of Germans fleeing from the east.

2,000 Germans Killed.
The same troops were pushing Germans in front of them toward west from captured Novgorod, less than 100 miles south of Leningrad. Two thousand Germans were killed in this mopping-up operation.

Mga was captured in a linking maneuver by forces of Govorov and Meretskov's armies. Here, the communique said, the demoralized Germans were throwing away their arms and surrendering in batches.

Meretskov's westward lunge from Novgorod netted another 2,400 dead Nazis, several towns and additional stores of abandoned material and supplies.

"The Germans have my trouble in lower White Russia. Here Gen. Rokossovsky's Baltic troops lunged into the Kalinkovichi-Mozyr area and captured Ozarichi, district center 25 miles northwest of Kalinkovichi, and eight other towns. The

Raids Near Madang Presage Allied Drive On New Guinea Port

Aussies Are Expected To Resume Their Push in Ramu Valley

By the Associated Press.
ADVANCED ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, New Guinea, Jan. 22.—The growing Allied bid for Madang, whose prewar wharf facilities were the best on the Northeastern New Guinea coast, was emphasized in today's reports from the headquarters of Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

South of that Japanese base, the second sizable air assault in as many days possible presaged a resumption by Australian soldiers of the drive which has been in abeyance in the Ramu Valley since they got beyond Dumpu, less than 50 miles away, last October. In two days, nearly 150 tons of bombs have hit the enemy positions.

For more than a week, the Gadjin sector, about half way between Dumpu and Madang, has been raided by planes attacking bridges, supplies and the fine road which the Japanese built with Chinese coolie labor.

PT Boats Sink Four Barges.
In addition to the inland ground menace, the Japanese also are confronted with American forces 50 miles along the coast southeast of Madang in the vicinity of invaded Saigor.

North of Madang, American PT boats operating well beyond their bases were reported in today's communique to have destroyed four

Kearby, Who Got 6 Japs On One Mission, Decorated

By the Associated Press.
ADVANCED ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, New Guinea, Jan. 22.—Col. Neel Kearby, San Antonio (Tex.) fighter pilot who shot down six Japanese planes in one flight, was awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor today.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur, in the first such ceremony in his Southwest Pacific command, pinned America's highest military award on Col. Kearby's tunic before a small group of witnesses.

Col. Kearby, who now has 21 enemy planes to his credit, was the first Thunderbolt pilot to down a Japanese plane in the Southwest Pacific. Recently he has been serving as chief of staff of the 5th Fighter Command.

The Texan shot down his six planes over Wewak, New Guinea, October 11, 1943.

Capt. Richard I. Bong, Poplar (Wis.) ace, now home on leave, also has 21 planes to his credit.

Hero of 1939 Suicide Rescue Dies With Wrists Slashed

Arthur S. Parker, 49, an Agriculture Department employee who several years ago rescued a woman attempting to take her life by drowning, died today, a short time after he was found unconscious and, after hearing cries of "help" coming from the water, got two truck drivers to tie a rope about his waist and lower him to the water.

At the time he was on sick leave from the Soil Conservation Service

Wage Limit Ordered For Farm Workers; $2,400 Ceiling Fixed

State WFA Labor Offices Told by Jones to Set Up Boards to Fix Incomes

By the Associated Press.
In a move unprecedented in American farm history, a wage-control program for agricultural workers, with maximum ceilings of $2,400 a year, has been ordered by War Food Administrator Marvin Jones.

Aides of the administrator, who disclosed the plan, said War Food Administration labor offices have been directed to set up State farm wage boards to hold hearings and establish maximum wages.

These groups would function much in the manner of the War Labor Board in determining the ceilings for industrial workers. On the basis of the 1942 Wage Stabilization Act, Fred M. Vinson, war stabilization director, put farm wages under the supervision of the WFA, but officials did not consider it necessary to take any immediate general action toward control.

Now, however, farm wages have reached the highest point in 30 years. Many workers have gone into war plants. Those who have remained on the farms have re-

Late Belltins Father Given 180 Days

Joe Mercer, sr., 32, of 620 E street S.W., accused of beating his 8-year-old son, Joe, jr., was sentenced to 180 days in jail by Judge Thomas D. Quinn in Municipal Court today after being convicted of assault.

Judge Quinn said he hoped District authorities would act to place the boy in a "proper home."

Paramushiro Raided

Paramushiro, major Japanese naval base in the Kurile chain of the North Pacific, was attacked twice by naval bombers Wednesday night. The Navy announced today. Two groups of bombers carried out the attacks, the first on installations on the island's southern coast at midnight and the second on targets in the north three hours later.

Envoy Biddle Resigns

Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, jr., Ambassador to the Allied Governments-in-Exile in London, has resigned to accept an Army commission and will be assigned as liaison officer on the staff of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for relationships with the Allied governments in London, the White House announced today.

Hungarian Withdrawal From Russia Proposed

By the Associated Press.
BERN, Switzerland, Jan. 22.—The Bucharest radio today reported a member of the Hungarian Parliament had proposed that the last Hungarian soldiers be withdrawn from the Russian front.

The broadcast declared the Hungarians were used only as occupation troops and not as combat forces.

Nazis Reinforce Bulgaria

STOCKHOLM, Jan. 22 (P).—A Budapest dispatch to the newspaper Dagens Nyheter reported today that German troop reinforcements "in great strength" have arrived in Bulgaria.

Iceland and Russia Exchange Ministers

By the Associated Press.
REYKJAVIK, Iceland, Jan. 22.—The Foreign Ministry announced yesterday that Iceland had initiated diplomatic relations with Soviet Russia.

Russia has recognized Pjetur Benediktsson as the first Icelandic Minister to Moscow and Icelandic authorities are according recognition to Alexei Krassinikov as the first Soviet Minister here, the Foreign Ministry said. Benediktsson has been serving as Iceland's Minister to Britain.

D. C. War Bond Total Reaches $9,300,000, Nearly 10% of Quota

Individual Purchasers Invest $800,000 In Single Day

An increase of $800,000 in War Bond purchases by individuals yesterday set the District total for the first four days of the Fourth War Loan Campaign to $9,300,000—a shade less than 10 per cent of the total quota of $95,000,000 and about 18 per cent of the $53,000,000 goal set for individual sales, it was announced today by the Fifth Federal Reserve Bank, Richmond, Va.

Of the bonds sold to individuals thus far, $5,300,000 have been Series E, the "people's bond." This represents about 18 per cent of the $30,000,000 quota for this type.

The comparatively small number of bonds sold since the first report on Wednesday does not accurately reflect the progress of the campaign, it was explained by John A. Reilly, chairman of the District War Finance Committee. Sales yesterday and Thursday added only $1,200,000.

Mr. Reilly said, however, that many issuing agents have no facilities for making day-to-day reports and that, therefore, actual sales so far probably have been much higher. He, nevertheless, reminded bond salesmen that they must maintain their enthusiasm throughout the campaign.

National Total Is $700,000,000.
Total national sales to individuals last night stood at $700,000,000, a gain of $78,000,000 in one day. Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau Thursday night reported national sales at $1,048,000,000—a figure which should not have been released, since it included sales to banks and corporations. These "big money" sales are not to be reported until after February 1.

There was no official explanation from the Treasury, but it is believed the larger figure was furnished to the Secretary through an error. Emphasis is being placed on individual sales throughout January because $5,000,000,000 of the national quota of $14,000,000,000 is to be met in this way.

Sales of bonds in Virginia so far total $12,000,000, according to James S. Easley, Richmond, executive manager.

U. S. Raiders Blast Nazi Offices Near Pope's Summer Residence

By KENNETH L. DIXON, Associated Press War Correspondent.
AN ADVANCED AIRBASE IN ITALY, Jan. 21 (Delayed).—A German front-line air corps' headquarters, carefully hidden in what was previously considered "neutral" territory because of its proximity to the summer residence of Pope Pius XII, was reported destroyed today by dive-bombing A36 Invaders from the 12th Air Support Command.

Returning pilots, who had been painstakingly briefed for the special mission, said the Pope's summer home and surrounding areas of

Senate Sends Tax Bill To Conference Despite President's Criticism

New Measure Will Add Levies of $2,275,600,000 To Nation's Revenues

By the Associated Press.
A $2,275,600,000 new tax bill, criticized by President Roosevelt as unrealistic and yielding hardly a fifth of the Treasury's goal, was headed today toward conference.

Eight weeks after receiving the bill from the House, the Senate yesterday approved it in amended form by a voice vote. The measure carries approximately $130,000,000 more revenue than the House version and is expected to swell annual Treasury receipts to more than $43,500,000,000.

Chairman George of the Finance Committee will head the Senate conferees, who will meet next week with their counterparts from the House. Others on the Senate list are Senators Walsh of Massachusetts, Barkley of Kentucky and Connally of Texas. Democrats: La Follette, Progressive, of Wisconsin and Vandenberg of Michigan and Davis of Pennsylvania, Republicans.

Principal Differences.
Principal differences between the House and Senate bills involve the treatment of individual income taxes and the renegotiation of war contracts. The two chambers were virtually together on increases in the corporate excess profits tax, estimated to bring in $502,700,000 more than the present rates.

The Senate bill would capture $664,900,000 more from individual income taxpayers, through elimination of the earned income credit and the deductions for Federal excise taxes paid. However, the Senators jettisoned the House program for integrating the luxury tax with the income tax on the ground the machinery was too cumbersome. Instead, the Senate voted to make the Victory tax a straight 3 per cent levy on income over $24 a year, regardless of family status.

Nearly half the extra revenue—$1,011,100,000—would be obtained from new and higher excise taxes on a long list of items, including liquor, cosmetics, furs, jewelry, bowling alleys, admittance charges and transportation tickets. Illustrative of the sharp boosts was the rise in the liquor tax rate from $6 to $9 a 100-proof gallon.

The excise increases become effective on the first day of the first month beginning at least 10 days after enactment—which in all likelihood means March 1. The income tax changes will not affect returns for 1943.

Over the strenuous opposition of both the President and Treasury, the Senate voted to freeze the social security payroll tax for 1944 at the present level of 1 per cent each on employers and employees, instead of permitting an automatic advance to 2 per cent, as provided in the Social Security Act.

The freeze provision has not been passed upon by the House. After a stiff debate, the Senate

Walker Resigns Post, Hannegan Succeeds Him

Tax Chief Elected To Head Democratic National Committee

By GOULD LINCOLN.
Postmaster General Walker resigned today as chairman of the Democratic National Committee and was immediately succeeded by Robert E. Hannegan, who then resigned as internal revenue commissioner.

Mr. Hannegan was placed in nomination by National Committeeman James P. Aylward of Missouri. No other nominations were made, and Mr. Hannegan was unanimously elected.

The resignation of Mr. Walker and the election of Mr. Hannegan had been planned before the national committee's meeting at the Mayflower Hotel.

President Roosevelt accepted Mr. Hannegan's resignation as revenue commissioner, effective today.

Graves Acting Commissioner.
Harold N. Graves, assistant internal revenue commissioner, was designated by the Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau to be acting commissioner.

In Mr. Hannegan's letter of resignation, made public at the White House, he said he had had "a call to other work to which I believe I ought to respond."

Mr. Roosevelt, in replying, told the new chairman that "you have my continuing good wishes and confidence."

The committee chose the 40-year-old St. Louisian to head a campaign drive in which most of the Democratic faithful at the meeting believe will find President Roosevelt running for a fourth term.

Aylward Praises Hannegan.
Mr. Aylward said Mr. Hannegan was eminently qualified to lead the party to "a grand and glorious victory in the election of Franklin Delano Roosevelt to a fourth term."

Mr. Aylward said in a reference to a fourth term provided spirited applause by the committeemen, called to fix the date and place of this year's national convention.

Mr. Hannegan, in accepting the chairmanship, told the committee he would "expect every energy" to bring about victory.

"I have no new ideas or new plans to present," Mr. Hannegan said. "I am a plain, 100 per cent organization Democrat. I am not angry at any Democrat."

The chairman said he had been pictured in a recent newspaper article as another "Jim" Farley. He declared he was proud to have worked in the past with Mr. Farley, adding, "I do not think we will ever have another chairman with his capabilities."

Will Consult Predecessors.
Mr. Hannegan said he intended to consult with Mr. Walker and Edward J. Flynn, former committee chairman, and devote all his time to building up the organization.

"I am confident that if we have the organization, we will have the teamwork, and can look forward to a great victory in November," Mr. Hannegan said.

Declaring he was used to the "bush league," the chairman admitted he was "frightened" now that he is in the "big league."

Mr. Hannegan was Democratic city chairman of St. Louis for almost a decade. He is a new figure in the national political field.

Letter of Resignation.
In his letter of resignation as Internal Revenue Commissioner, Mr. Hannegan said:

"When you appointed me commissioner of internal revenue last October, I took over the work of that office with a deep appreciation of the honor you had conferred on me and a high sense of the responsibility of the task you had given me. It was my constant endeavor to perform the duties of the office in a way to merit your continued confidence and approval, and I had no thought of relinquishing the position so long as I was able to serve your administration effectively."

"I have had a call to other work to which I believe I ought to respond. The Democratic National Committee today has chosen me as its chairman."

"I therefore tender my resignation as commissioner of internal revenue and respectfully ask that it be made effective as of the close of business on this day."

"Permit me to express my deep and lasting gratitude for the privilege of serving your administration both as collector of internal revenue at St. Louis and as commissioner effective as of the close of business on this day."

"The President answered: 'My Dear Bob: 'Complying with your request, I accept your resignation as commissioner of internal revenue, effective as of the close of business today. 'I have been impressed by the vigorous and competent way in which you undertook the duties of commissioner at a very difficult time, and I know that if you had continued in the office you would have made an outstanding record. 'You have my continuing good wishes and confidence.'"

All was harmony at the meeting despite talk of revolt yesterday against the selection of Mr. Hannegan, a newcomer to the national field of politics. If any of the committeemen had such a thing serious

It Costs $20,000 to Put a Gyro Compass on a Liberty Ship--Help Pay for It Through War Bonds

90-Plane Nazi Raid On London Area Grim Reminder of Blitz

LONDON, Jan. 22.—Hundreds of American soldiers newly arrived in Britain experienced their first air raid last night as the biggest German bombing force in months struck at London and Southeast England.

Ninety enemy planes roared across the Channel in two separate attacks, one before midnight and the other in the early hours this morning, to bring a painful reminder of the 1940-1 "blitz" even though their attack was comparatively small.

About 30 of the planes reached the London area, touching off a full-throated anti-aircraft barrage, the loudest and most spectacular heard in a long time.

Considerable Property Damage. The first alert sounded at 9:10 p.m. and almost immediately guns began booming, searchlights went fantastic patterns across the sky, and the raiders rumbled in so low that their drogue could be heard through the thunder of the guns.

People crowded into shelters by the thousands but midnight saw the West End doorways absorbed by the excitement of their first air attack.

The old dread was gone; Londoners found they could go back to sleep. And today in buses and subways they talked of "the noise."

Although it was a show for most of the observers, the raids caused considerable property damage, a number of casualties and grim aerial battles.

Eight Nazi planes were shot down in the first attack, two of them by a rookie pilot of a Mosquito.

Hospital Virtually Demolished. An old London hospital was virtually demolished by a direct hit which killed a number of patients and injured many others.

Twelve firemen were buried in the debris when their station was hit, but they were rescued by two women air raid wardens working by flashlight.

Another high explosive bomb trapped a mother and two children in the ruins of their house and blocked a shelter, but all were extricated.

Similar incidents were repeated elsewhere and rescuers were forced to dig for victims by lamplight when electric circuits were knocked out temporarily.

The last raid of comparable size on London and its environs was October 7, 1943, when 50 Nazi planes dropped 30 long tons of bombs.

There have been intermittent attacks of smaller size and a few enemy planes were over the capital last Saturday night.

Senators to Probe WPB Metal Records

A special Senate committee is going to dig into the records of the War Production Board to see if its activities have throttled attempts to decentralize industry in the United States.

The committee, headed by Senator McCarran, Democrat, of Nevada will open an investigation soon into the eastern concentration of steel and other heavy metals industries.

ager of the State Finance Committee. The State's goal for sales to individuals is $78,000,000.

Meanwhile, Elmer Davis, director of the Office of War Information, and John J. Felley, president of the American Association of Railroads, issued appeals to the Nation in connection with the bond drive.

Speaking on a radio program last night, Mr. Davis said that the war in Europe is entering a decisive phase and that everyone ought to chip in and take part.

"I am sure that the men in Italy and the men who are fighting elsewhere in Europe and the men fighting in the Pacific," he said, "would like to feel that the whole country is in back of them. They will know how quickly and how successfully we enlist in the common effort."

Mr. Felley expressed confidence that the country's railroad workers would give strong support to the campaign.

"America's railroaders know what War Bond purchases mean," he said. "That is why they have regularly invested their earnings in bonds and stamps."

Mr. Felley said the Fourth War Loan drive came "at perhaps the most crucial stage of the war."

"It has come just before our invasion of Hitler's European fortress, and the inauguration of other major offensives designed to deal decisive blows to our enemies."

The Liberty ship American Mariner, tied up at the Municipal Wharf, remained a center of interest for thousands who have been taking advantage of the daily visiting hours from 2:30 to 5 p.m. and from 7:30 to 10 p.m.

Those aboard yesterday afternoon witnessed a ceremony in which Alexander Waigandt, 20, of Astoria, Long Island, purser on a merchant ship, was awarded the Merchant Marine Distinguished Service Medal.

Mr. Waigandt received the decoration from Capt. Edward Macaulay, U. S. N., retired, acting for President Roosevelt and Rear Admiral Emory S. Land, chairman of the Maritime Commission.

Reboarded Abandoned Ship. Mr. Waigandt was one of four men who volunteered to reboard his abandoned ship in a Mediterranean port to prevent flames from spreading after the vessel had been hit by shrapnel and its cargo of gasoline set afire.

Mr. Waigandt battled for several hours in a hold adjacent to the blazing gasoline to keep a large quantity of aviation fuel from catching fire from the heat.

Today is District day aboard the Mariner and workers in municipal departments were to be released from their jobs to visit the ship between 10 a.m. and noon.

Also scheduled to see the ship tomorrow are members of the National Press Club and their families. This group is scheduled to be on hand at 11 a.m.

Comdr. Joseph H. Masse, skipper of the craft, said War Bond booths on board are well on their way toward selling the $2,000,000 worth of bonds which has been fixed as their quota.

Bowles Acts to Peg Retail Prices of 7 Fresh Vegetables

The Office of Price Administration, seeking to prevent sharp increases in fresh vegetable prices during the winter and early spring, has announced a schedule for pegging the retail prices of carrots, spinach, peas, snap beans, eggplant, peppers and cucumbers.

The schedule fixes ceilings at all sales levels before retail and will be the basis for retail prices to be set in February.

"The new regulation provides a solid framework for stabilizing retail prices over fresh vegetables," said Price Administrator Chester Bowles yesterday.

"Because these products are perishable and seasonal and are shipped from widely scattered growing areas, they are some of the most difficult items in the cost-of-living to control."

Mr. Bowles said that next month local OPA offices will announce ceilings for 9 1/2 cents a bunch, January through June; spinach 1 1/2 cents a pound in the same period; peas, 22 cents a pound, January through March, and 18 1/2 cents a pound, April through June.

Typical Prices Listed. The regulation will be expanded soon to bring six other vegetables—lima beans, cabbage, lettuce, cauliflower, celery and tomatoes—under the same type of control.

OPA cited the following prices, figured for all grocery stores in New York, as typical of what maximum retail prices will be when the regulation is in full operation:

Carrots 9 1/2 cents a bunch, January through June; spinach 1 1/2 cents a pound in the same period; peas, 22 cents a pound, January through March, and 18 1/2 cents a pound, April through June.

Snap beans, 20 1/2 cents a pound in January and February, 20 cents in March and April, 16 1/2 cents in May and 15 cents in June; eggplant, 13 1/2 cents a pound, January through June; peppers, 16 cents a pound, January through May, and 13 1/2 cents in April and May, and 9 1/2 cents in June.

Canners Protest to OPA. Average prices for the country would be from 1/2 to 1 cent lower than the New York prices, the agency said.

The new regulation will become effective January 31 at the country shipper level and February 15 at wholesale markets.

Meanwhile, the OPA was reported to be giving "sympathetic reception" to the curative and creative canners that supplies of canned vegetables are moving too slowly under rationing and should be given lower point values or even be made point-free for a time.

Because of record home-canning last year sales of the National Canned Fruit and Vegetable Association have fallen off appreciably and canners have large supplies in warehouses.

Widow, Worth Nearly Million, Discovered Starving in Mansion. PITTSBURGH, Jan. 22.—An amazing story of a 65-year-old widow, worth almost $1,000,000, but clad in rags and so weak from hunger she was crawling in her mansion, was disclosed yesterday in the Allegheny County Court.

The commission, Mrs. Dora Grace Peregrine, widow of a former official of the Armstrong Cork Co., had traveled to Europe at least 30 times in her younger days. She retired to her two-story home here after her husband's death in 1929.

A nephew, Frank E. Grace of New Castle, in instituting court action, told of a visit several weeks ago to his aunt's home and finding her "like a person starved."

In this house, Mr. Grace said, he found $200,000 in uncashable dividend checks which had accumulated over the years from stocks and other securities.

A petition filed by Mr. Grace asked that his aunt be made a ward of the court because of her inability to manage her own affairs and asked that an administrator be named.

The court was told Mrs. Peregrine's estate now is worth $700,000 or more, and that in addition she is receiving a life income from a $500,000 estate. Approximately $65,000 was found in a savings account.

Missing Army Convoy Proves to Be Soldier's Hoax to Cash Check

The mystery of the missing Army convoy of Danbury, Conn., has been solved, the Federal Bureau of Investigation announced last night, explaining that it was only a hoax perpetrated by a roving soldier who wanted to cash a check.

FBI Director Hoover identified the soldier as Edward Robert Van Dover, 22, who has been absent without leave from Camp Alliance, Nebra, since December 23. Mr. Hoover gave this account:

Postmaster Sergeant Edward Arthur, Van Dover drove into Danbury on the afternoon of December 27, went to the USO and said he was the advance guard for a convoy of paratroopers traveling in 90 automobiles and who would spend the night in Danbury.

The citizens of Danbury began preparing to entertain the soldiers and arrangements were made at the ration board for enough points for a feast for them. Cots were placed in the local armory and the women began preparing the meal.

Later in the day, however, the "sergeant" reported that the convoy had been involved in an accident at White Plains, N. Y. He had to investigate, he said, and obtained assistance in cashing a $20 bad check.

Van Dover, who is from Brooklyn, was arrested by policemen at Somerset, Ky., Wednesday, after he failed to pay toll at a bridge. He is being held by Army authorities at Bowman Field, Ky.

A complaint charging him with violations of the "Checks of Government Property Act and the National Motor Vehicle Theft Act" was filed yesterday at Omaha, Neb., and Army authorities have been requested to release him for prosecution in Federal court.

He was trained as a paratrooper in 1942 and joined the Army in 1943. He went AWOL in September, 1943. Mr. Hoover said, and was returned to Army custody last November. He was in confinement when he disappeared December 23.

Trial of Wayne Lonergan Set for Next Monday. NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—The trial of Wayne Lonergan, charged with first-degree murder in the slaying of his wife, Patricia Burton Lonergan, has been advanced one week to January 24, Assistant District Attorney Jacob Grumet announced yesterday.

Defense counsel was believed to have asked the earlier date in order to move for postponement on grounds that additional time would be needed for preparation of the case. Lonergan was to have gone on trial Monday, January 31, before General Sessions Court Judge J. Freschi and a special jury.

A panel of 200 prospective jurors already has been drawn.

Maj. Howard, 63 Other Mustang Pilots Decorated

LONDON, Jan. 22.—Maj. James H. Howard of St. Louis, who was decorated by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek for his exploits while a member of the famous "Flying Tigers" in China, has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Air Medal and an oak leaf cluster to the Air Medal for his feats over Europe.

Maj. Howard, who dived alone into a swarm of 30 Nazi fighters over Germany during the big American air raid on Nazi aircraft factories January 11 and bagged a probable total of six enemy planes, was among 64 pilots of the new long-range P-51B Mustang fighters awarded 75 decorations yesterday.

The Mustang pilots are credited with destroying 33 German planes without a loss in their last four missions. The Distinguished Flying Cross and Air Medal was awarded to Col. Kenneth R. Martin, 27, of Kansas City, who led all of the secret trial missions of the Mustangs before they were put into active duty on the European front.

Unknown Gives U. S. $18,909 to Aid Democracy

An anonymous donor enriched the Treasury by $18,909.38 yesterday—a not a payment for taxes, but "an elementary way of expressing belief in democracy."

The check, received by Internal Revenue Commissioner Robert E. Hennegan, was accompanied by a letter which said:

"Please keep my name out of any discussion of this. I have recently been given some money, which is more than I need or want. This money was tax-exempt and in distributing it I want to give some to the Government where I believe it can do the greatest amount of good."

The donor did not explain how he arrived at the amount.

'Curative' Program For Ills of World Urged by Churches

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—A Protestant organization claiming 25,000,000 members asserted yesterday that a postwar world organization must be "curative and creative, not merely repressive" if it is to be backed solidly by Christian forces of the United States.

The Commission on a Just and Durable Peace of the Federal Council of Churches made the statement which it said was approved by the Executive Committee of the council.

"With respect to particular settlements there are some proposals so clearly violative of the moral law that the Christian conscience could never acquiesce therein," the statement said.

"The Christian people of this Nation expect that their Government will reject them and strive earnestly and competently for particular settlements which will be just and conducive to permanent concord."

The commission did not name the proposals it opposed.

It said an international organization should be designed, not to maintain a faulty world status, but to seek inventively to eradicate political and economic maladjustments, spiritual and intellectual deficiencies, and inadequacies of international law, "which basically cause war."

"We urge," the statement continued, "our public leaders to take steps to endorse the projected world organization with responsibilities that are curative and creative and not merely repressive. That is the only type of world organization which, in our judgment, the Christian forces of our Nation will solidly support."

"We urge our people to remain united and vigorous to achieve such international organization and American participation therein."

3-Judge Court Set Up In Suit Filed to Test Renegotiation Act

A three-judge statutory court will decide on the constitutionality of the Renegotiation Act in connection with a suit brought by the Lincoln Electric Co. of Cleveland, in which the firm seeks an injunction to prevent the Government from withholding moneys allegedly due the company on contracts.

The three-judge court was set up late yesterday by Chief Justice D. Lawrence Groner of the United States Court of Appeals, following a formal request by Chief Justice Edward C. Eicher of District Court for such a tribunal.

Justice Groner designated himself and Justice Jennings Bailey of District Court to sit with Justice Eicher in the case.

The Lincoln Electric Co. filed the suit in November and it stated the Government had said it would withhold moneys from the firm, due on contracts, unless the company turns over $3,250,000 in excess profits for 1942.

At the time of filing, the case was described as the first court challenge of the Renegotiation Act of 1942. In general, the act provides for renegotiation of Government contracts, and for return to the Government of profits which the Government believes to be excessive.

The Lincoln Electric Co. is described in the suit as the largest manufacturer of electric arc welding equipment.

123 Soldiers Take Oath Of U. S. Citizenship Here

A total of 123 soldiers, constituting the largest number of persons in the military service ever naturalized in a single day at District Court, were sworn in as American citizens late yesterday before Justice James W. Morris. The record prior to yesterday was 99.

Approximately 110 of those naturalized were from Fort Belvoir, Va., and the others were from Washington or other nearby areas. A number of refugees from European war zones were in the group. One former soldier also was naturalized.

Trenis Again Heads Fauquier Supervisors

By the Associated Press. WARRENTON, Va., Jan. 22.—Lemuel W. Trenis, Catlett, has been re-elected chairman of the Fauquier County Board of Supervisors.

Mr. Trenis has served in the same post since 1936, succeeding the late Isham Keith, also of Warrenton.

Nancy de Marigny Nets $3,600 From Sale of Furnishings

By the Associated Press. NASSAU, Bahamas, Jan. 22.—Nancy Oakes de Marigny's tastefully furnished but unpretentious cottage was stripped clean a day earlier than expected and so today's auction sale of furniture and objects of art was abandoned.

As bidders—and not a bargain hunter in the lot—poured out some 800 pounds sterling ($3,600) for 400-odd articles that caught their eye, Nancy found herself unable to part with all her possessions and withdrew several valuable items while prospective buyers examined them hungrily. A $1 washtub brought $10 and a bicycle $110.

The nearest thing to a bargain was the purchase for 5 pounds 10 shillings ($22) of two hurricane shades which figured prominently in the trial of Nancy's husband, Alfred de Marigny, on a charge of murdering her father, Sir Harry Oakes. De Marigny was acquitted in November.

Apparently, the 19-year-old heiress has been successful in winning restricted control of the $12,000 yearly her father's will directed she be paid.

Official quarters reported she would be allowed to draw on her $1,000 a month allowance by submitting bills for medical and living expenses. She also will be allowed to take from the colony the proceeds of the auction sale, and any savings bank balance she might have.

Monday on her way back to her husband in Havana.

The Duke of Windsor, royal governor of the Bahamas, said today that he proposes to appoint a committee to arrange a memorial for the slain Sir Harry.

American Skipper Seized By U-Boat in Indian Ocean

By the Associated Press. U-boat commanders have resumed the practice of taking prisoner the senior officers of merchant vessels they sink, the War Shipping Administration reported yesterday.

The WSA interprets the Nazi policy as a desperate attempt to cripple the Allied merchant service by depriving the United Nations of the service of experienced officers.

The latest reported victim of the practice is Capt. Owen H. Reed, Jacksonville, Fla., whose ship, the William King, was torpedoed and sunk in the Indian Ocean recently while en route from Arabia to South Africa.

The U-boat surfaced after sinking the William King and laid down a machine-gun barrage around the two lifeboats until they halted. Capt. Reed was taken aboard the raider. He is now in an internment camp in Java.

11 D. C. Area Officers Promoted by Army

Eleven officers from the Washington area have received temporary promotions, the War Department announced today.

Advanced to the rank of major were Capt. Carson G. Fralley, Emmitsburg, Md., Ray F. Chapman, formerly of 2927 Seventh street N.W.; George J. Waas, 1 Scott Circle N.W., and John H. Peacock, Belmont road and Ashmead place N.W.

Maj. Fralley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carson F. Fralley, 3704 Livingston street, Chevy Chase, D. C., is fiscal officer of the Savannah Depot.

Before entering the Army Sanitary Corps he practiced law in Washington and taught law at Temple University, Philadelphia.

Maj. Waas, now assigned to the surgeon general's staff in New York City, formerly worked for the Foreign Credit Administration here.

Maj. Peacock, a pediatrician in civilian life, is with the surgeon general's office in Washington.

Sergt. John Basilone Returns to Pacific Action

By the Associated Press. RARITAN, N. J., Jan. 22.—Marine Sergt. John Basilone, who won the Congressional Medal of Honor for killing 38 Japanese on Guadalcanal, is on the first leg of a return to action overseas.

Sergt. Basilone, who is now en route to Camp Pendleton, Calif., requested transfer to a fighting front from an assignment as a machine gun instructor, a post he has held since his return to this country.

"There's still a big job to be done over there and I want to be in at the finish," Sergt. Basilone was reported to have told his superiors.

During a recent leave at home he complained to friends he was tired of being placed on exhibit as a hero.

S. S. Howard E. Coffin Launched in Georgia

By the Associated Press. BRUNSWICK, Ga., Jan. 22.—The S. S. Howard E. Coffin, Liberty ship named in honor of the man who developed Sea Island and St. Simons, Ga., was launched at the J. A. Jones shipyard here yesterday.

Alfred W. Jones, president of the Sea Island Co. and relative of Mr. Coffin, spoke at the launching. Mrs. Alfred W. Jones was sponsor. Co-sponsors were Misses Mona Douglas and Dorothy Torres, officers of the Brunswick Pirates Club, which Mr. Coffin helped develop.

Chennault Decorates Polish Air Ace Who Was Attache Here

Maj. Witold Urbanowicz, 35, Polish Air Force ace who served as Assistant Air Attache in Washington until he joined the Army Air Forces last September, has been awarded the American Air Medal for his "courage and fighting skill" as a volunteer fighter pilot with the Air Force in China, according to an Associated Press dispatch from the 14th Air Force headquarters in China.

In a brief ceremony at his headquarters, Maj. Gen. Claire L. Chennault pinned the ribbon below the Polish and British decorations won by Maj. Urbanowicz, who led Poland's famed Squadron 303 in the battle of Britain and who was credited with shooting down 15 Nazi planes confirmed and two probables.

In two months with the 14th Air Force the major has shot down two Japanese planes and participated in numerous low-level missions, mostly in support of the Chinese ground forces when they were hard-pressed in the Tungting Lake area.

Maj. Urbanowicz now has been ordered back to Britain.

Maj. Urbanowicz, whose wife, Mrs. Jadwiga Urbanowicz, and their month-old son, Witold, live at 1308 Concord street N.W., came to Washington from London in December, 1942. He never has seen his son, who was born on Christmas Day.

Property Conversions To Provide Homes For 40,000 Families

Property leases for publicly financed conversion into greater living capacity will provide accommodations nationally for 40,000 families of in-migrant workers in war industry areas, Philip M. Klutznick, assistant administrator of the National Housing Agency, reported today. He added that close to half of these units have been completed.

This type of building conversion will supplement new construction and conserve critical materials and manpower, he said. The program has been under way more than six months.

Under the privately financed phase of the program, quotas have been established for 28,845 units. Of this total, about 3,500 units are completed and about 6,000 are under construction.

Property owners willing to convert with their own funds or with the assistance of private financing institutions are assisted in every way, Mr. Klutznick said. They can get an FHA loan up to $5,000, payable in monthly installments over periods up to seven years. Materials can be obtained on an equal basis with publicly financed projects, through preference ratings processed through local FHA offices.

Home Building Seen Cheaper After War

Through standardization of building specifications postwar homes would be cheaper, J. W. Follin, managing director of the Producers' Council, stated here today. This would eliminate much waste in construction by reducing the amount of cutting and fitting needed.

"Adoption of dimensional coordination on an industry-wide basis means simplification of design, greater speed in construction, reduction in the size of inventories, which must be carried by manufacturers and distributors of building products, and substantial savings in both materials and labor, all of which ultimately will contribute to lower construction costs," Mr. Follin stated.

"However, the project will in no way tend to standardize structural design. It merely is a long-needed plan for making sure that individual building products are proportioned with adequate regard for the sizes of other products with which they must fit in the completed building. The result will be to narrow down the great range of slightly differing dimensions found in similar materials and equipment."

Nine subcommittees are at work studying the application of coordination to other major types of building materials, utilizing the standard 4-inch module, set forth in the proposed standard basis for co-ordination of all building products previously issued for industry discussion.

"In view of the fact that the coming reconversion period, when industry is retooling for peacetime production, offers a highly favorable opportunity for producers to change over to modular design with minimum expense or interruption to production, every effort is being made to speed up the general adoption of the plan in the prearranged period," Mr. Follin said.

The Washington Building Congress has organized a canvass of the building trades here as its part in the Fourth War Bond Drive. Charles T. Penn, chairman of the construction division of the campaign, expects to reach all builders through

$54 MONTHLY

That's all it takes to pay for one of these brand new homes IN WASHINGTON. A new group of 47 are nearing completion. They're sturdily built to pre-war standards. The materials were stored in our warehouses since before the war.

You'll like these homes. They're smartly modern throughout... exceptionally bright and pleasant. Every home has a charming Living Room, Dining Room, model Kitchen, Two Bedrooms, real Tile Bath and full-size Basement. Each has a lovely landscaped garden. As little as $500 cash. Complete shopping center adjoins, and there is BOTH TROLLEY AND BUS SERVICE. Take the Kenilworth or District Line street car—drive out Benning Road from 15th & H St. N.E. today.

Tobacco Executive Dies CHICAGO, Jan. 22 (AP).—R. A. Hanner, 45, of Louisville, Ky., credit manager and a director of the Brown & Williams Tobacco Corp., died unexpectedly last night at a hotel where he was a guest while attending a convention of the National Association of Tobacco Dealers.

THE WEEK IN RELIGION Current developments bearing out this conclusion are: The Foreign Missions Conference of North America at its 50th annual convention in Chicago last week issued a "message to Christians," which stated: "We are deeply conscious of our failure as Christians to arrest the forces of intense nationalism, racial snobbery and aggression, and desire for domination in force and adieu in penitence that some of these evils are found in the church itself. The institution to which men might turn in their weariness and pain is itself in need of salvation. We of our churches have failed in our life adequately to demonstrate that unity and fraternity without which there can be no justice or peace among the nations."

Nature's Children By LILLIAN COX ATHEY. CENTIPEDE. (Scolopendra obscura). Centipedes are near relatives to spiders. They are in the class Chilopoda (Chi-lo-p'oh-da). They like the millipedes, are air-breathing and possess an elongated body composed of similar segments. They may be easily distinguished from millipedes because each segment bears only a single pair of legs, the body is usually flattened and the antennae are usually long and many-jointed.

Thank you for the idea, Rocco. In the past I have written about two or three world-famous museums, and I hope we shall have room for more articles in this field before the end of 1944. I like museums. Among those I have visited are the Louvre in Paris, the British Museum in London, the American Museum of Natural History, New York; the Field Museum of Natural History, Chicago; the Franklin Museum in Philadelphia and the National Museum in Washington.

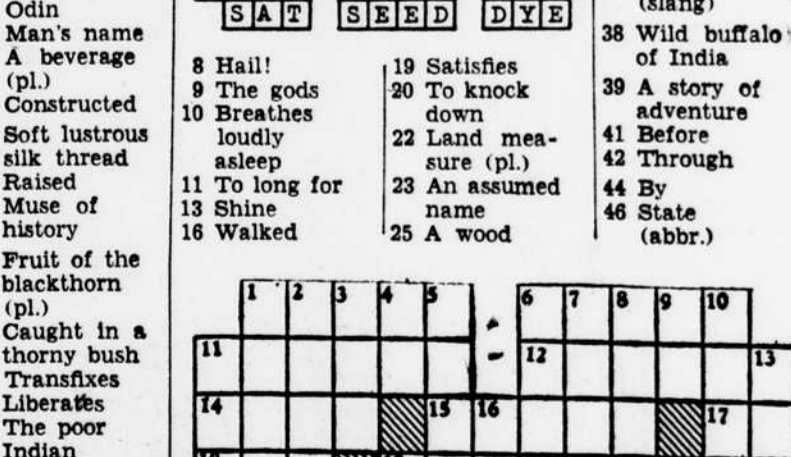

In Egypt I spent some time at the Cairo Museum, which contains many things taken from the tomb of Tut-Ankh-amen, known for short as "King Tut." When King Tut's tomb was opened in 1922, it contained the richest treasures ever found in any tomb in any country. It was the custom in Egypt to bury treasures with the bodies of kings, but robbers found their way into the tomb. There were golden images of Howard Carter, a British scientist, was happy when he discovered King Tut's tomb and learned that it had not been plundered.

In the Cairo Museum I saw hundreds of objects which had been taken from King Tut's tomb. The tomb itself was divided into four parts, which we may call "underground rooms." In one room was the mummy of the king in a case of solid gold. The gold case was inside a wooden case, and this, in turn, was inside another wooden case. Holding the mummy and its case was a large stone coffin. The other rooms contained all manner of things, including beds, chairs and boxes covered with gold sheets and precious stones, also beads, necklaces, bracelets and finger rings. There were golden images of the king, along with statues of Egyptian gods and goddesses.
